GRISWOLD CALLS FOR LEADERSHIP IN STATE HOUSE

Candidate for Governor Attacks All-time Record Spending Spree of Cochran.

Leadership which will result in economic and efficient administration is the chief need our our state government, Dwight Griswold, Republican candidate for governor, declared in a vigorous address in O'Neill Saturday night. He spoke to a fair sized crowd despite the inclement weather.

In pleading for a leadership in the statehouse that will put legislative and business efficiency ahead of political considerations, Griswold pointed to the two sessions of the present legislature as amazing examples of fumbling, faltering, hit-and-miss policy.

Griswold pointed out that the present governor had a two-thirds Democratic majority in both houses and that there was every reason to believe that the work of the session would be carried on efficiently and quickly.

"But what kind of a record did they make?" he asked. "The 1935 thot they never would adjourn. Later the legislators Power Dam On Niobrara were called back for a special session which was to last only ten days. That session lasted for a month and was the longest and most expensive special session of the legislature in the history of the state.
