 farmers must be helped thru government aid.

In answer to many inquiries as to whether or not they can obtain money from the government with which to build a home for themselves, it may be said that while there is no agency of the federal government authorized to make direct loans for that purpose, the Federal Housing Administration has been set up for the purpose of inducing local banks, trust companies and other financial institutions to make loans to home owners for the purpose of construction, repairs and modernization. Those interested to know whether or not they can obtain a FHA guaranteed loan should go to their bank or any financial institution authorized by the FHA and inquire for the information that applies to their cases.

Information has been received as to whether or not the government has any plans whereby a WPA worker can build a small house for himself and family. It is not so clear that home credit assistance can be secured under most circumstances because it is likely that the reasonable certainty of moderate continuing income will be considered necessary to the approval of such an application.

Opens Winterbru Season

The new Storz Winterbru season opens with record sales. For weeks a flood of advance orders has been pouring into Storz offices. The first shipment is a 30-car trainload—more than half a million bottles and cans. Dealers of this locality placed one of the largest orders; one full carload. The Storz Winterbru Beer season is officially open!

Last winter Winterbru was the most popular beer on the market—a sturdy beer, mild and smooth in flavor, yet stronger than most ales—a beer that warms you like a fine old wine. Like all Storz Beers, Winterbru is "slow aged" for fine flavor. Good beer cannot be made in a hurry.

Right now is the time to turn to Winterbru. Order a case for your home. And when in a tavern or restaurant, ask for Storz Winterbru Beer—the ideal cool weather beer.
