SOUTHWEST BREEZES

By Romaine Saunders

George Cutler went to Atkinson Tuesday, having some cattle in the sale ring.

For assuming agonizing attitudes, the foot-ball player just about takes the cake.

Frank Williamson and family of the Bower ranch were guests at the ample dinner table at the Riley ranch last Sunday.

Jack Frost visited the southwest Sunday night, wilting the tender vines but left no perceptible marks on tree foliage.

The oil and gas station over on highway 11 has again changed operators. Mr. Shonka, lately of the Carter ranch, is now handling the nozzles.

Ernest Hall, who has a ranch in the Beaver valley west of Petersburg, was up this way recently and bought a bunch of black calves of Ernest Young.

I could not feature Senator Burke of Nebraska joining a reprehensible organization which "at heart he did not believe in" for the purpose of sliding into office.

Mrs. Farrier and daughter, Miss Alice, of Chambers, visited Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. Baker and Mrs. Riley. Mr. and Mrs. Howard Berry were also guests there at the same time.

Earl Doolittle was over this way Sunday from the Amelia neighborhood assisting his brother-in-law, Bernard Kennedy, in the belated harvest of thirteen acres of one of the greatest sorghum crops ever seen in the southwest.

Men elevated to high places in government who have become fascinated by the phrase credited to Louis XIV, "The State—it is I," may well remember it was not long thereafter until royal heads rolled from the bloody guillotine.

The dagger-marred body of the great Caesar would turn in its tomb could it know that a twentieth century pattern of world conquerors from the Tiber has come to our shores with a cigarette hanging from his lips and will "study the movies."

If the president has made no more diligent effort to ascertain the facts on this western trip than was apparent at White House circles respecting the charges of Black's Klan connections he is no better informed than when the presidential train began the journey.

Maintaining a twenty-five thousand dollar residence in mild Virginia with he and members of the Lewis family drawing $23,000 a year in salaries from laboring men's assessments there are strong personal reasons for the ex-coal miner to continue labor union agitation.

About 34 per cent of the world's peoples are classed as Christian. Probably not more than 1 per cent of these qualify as such under Biblical requirements. Have those commissioned to "go into all the world and make disciples" made a failure of it after nearly 2,000 years' effort?

When the old timers were contriving ways to get industries started in Holt county—launching a packing house, chicory factory, flour mills and many other undertakings the possibilities from a pickle factory seems not to have been thought of. The southwest is particularly prolific with cucumbers of high quality. Every little garden patch has them by the bushel.

General Hugh Johnson, one of the original New Dealers and custodian of the now defunct Blue Eagle, has become one of the most caustic critics of the leader he started out to follow. "The executive," he asserts, seeks power to influence the decisions of the federal courts—of the supreme court by the appointment to it of a majority of puppets of his own choosing—hill-billy, Ku Klux wool hats from the forks of the creek like Senator Black. Under the seduction of ballyhoo, bribery and charm we are moving away from the democracy imagined by the constitution and straight toward as rigid a dictatorship as there is on earth, and we are moving there because we don't realize what we are doing to ourselves." To the partisan blind worshipper of a political god and the 22-short calibre country editor of democratic persuasion it makes little difference in their loyalty what the president does but the New Deal has brought to light many men with the mental vigor and moral stamina not to be led by a ring in their nose.

The chief industry of the southwest is raising bees. This in turn renders the man on the horse of paramount consequence. Tom Doolittle's outfit moved a herd from summer range Saturday to the home place. A snappy 400-pound White Face calf got lonesome over night and Sunday morning headed west for his "home on the range." A telephone message to this neighborhood asked that he be headed off. When spotted he was traveling like a Hambletonian trotter. Bernie Kennedy climbed aboard a handsome blue-roan Stallion and with whirling riatta cut loose in full chase. By fine performance of rodeo stuff in real life the calf was brought into permanent captivity.

"Under The 4-H Flag" Coming To Holt County

One of the most complete and elaborate 4-H club entertainment units ever developed will be made available to the people of this county on Oct. 12, Agricultural Agent F. M. Reece announced this week.

The show consists of two hours of talking pictures, the feature of which is the dramatized all-talking version of the famous novel, "Under the 4-H Flag." The program will include in addition to the feature picture a 4-H news reel, an educational short called "Hidden Values," and a cartoon comedy.

The show will be held in O'Neill, the hour and place to be announced next week.

Admission will be free and there will be no collection of any kind taken at the show. Its purpose is to stimulate interest in the aims and aspirations of the 4-H movement and to give its members, their families and friends and all others interested in agriculture a real treat in the way of high grade entertainment.

This county's 4-H organization will have an opportunity to participate in an attendance contest whose awards amount to $2,000. The award of prizes will be made on the basis of the proportion of the county's rural population that attends the showing. All counties in the country in which the picture will be shown will participate in the contest and the county winning first prize will get a check for $1,000 which is to be devoted to 4-H activities.

In addition ribbons and awards recently won by Holt county members at the state fair will be presented.

Truckers Must File Application With Ry. Com. Before Oct. 15

The Nebraska State Railway commission, under date of Sept. 28, 1937, issued an order that all motor carriers for hire, subject to the provisions of the Motor Carriers Act, who were in operation on August 16, 1937, the effective date of the Act, must file their applications with the commission on or before October 15, 1937, otherwise they will lose all seniority rights.

These rights they claim are valuable. Pending determination of their applications, they may operate lawfully. All motor carriers may operate lawfully without a certificate or permit for a period of ninety days from the effective date of the act until Nov. 14, 1937. Those with seniority rights, the order declares, may operate lawfully after November 14, 1937, provided their applications are filed with the commission on or before Oct. 15, 1937. All others without a certificate or permit must cease operations after November 14, 1937, according to the bulletin which is signed by the chairman of the commission.

Some Senators say they wouldn't have voted for Judge Black's confirmation had they known he belonged to the Klan. Maybe they should have stayed around and listened to some of Senator Burke's speeches.

The 450 anniversary of the discovery of America by Columbus comes in 1942 and some thrifty youngsters are already beginning to save their pennies for a ride on the Ferris wheel.

New Jersey fruit growers are shaving the fuzz off peaches for finicky purchasers. May be all right but we don't want any sissy peaches in ours, at least not that kind of peaches.

that the Klan would be a national issue before Thanksgiving?

Things certainly do happen in American politics. Who would ever have dreamed a month ago

New York City is being invaded by an army of web-worms. Isn't it about time to call out the WPA?
