FRANCIS GUNN, 13, LOSES RIGHT FOOT IN GUN ACCIDENT

Dropped Shotgun Discharges, Shot Striking Him Above the Right Ankle. Is Recovering.

Francis Gunn, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Gunn of this city, lost his right foot last Sunday when the full charge of a shotgun struck him just above the ankle. The foot was almost completely severed, both bones being shattered and but a small portion of the flesh remaining intact.

A tourniquet was applied to the leg just above the wound and he was rushed to this city and placed in the hospital here. Dr. J. P. Brown, and Dr. French of Page, attended the boy. It was necessary to remove the leg to a point about four inches below the knee. His condition is reported as good.

The accident occurred at about 3:30 Sunday afternoon south of the Sparks and Sullivan places southeast of this city. Francis had gone hunting with two other boys and had taken a double gun that was tricky and considered dangerous. His older brother, Robert, who had been hunting north of town returned home and found the gun and his younger brother gone, and he followed them, to give Francis his gun. During the exchange of his gun the old double was dropped and was discharged when it struck the ground, the full charge striking Francis in the leg.

The immediate application of a tourniquet by his companions undoubtedly saved his life, as he would have died from loss of blood before reaching this city had it not been applied.

Yanks Take First Two Games Of World Series

The world's series between the New York Giants and the New York Yankees are the center of interest for the sporting fraternity these fall days. The first game was played Wednesday and resulted in a victory for the Yankees with a score of 8 to 1. It was a pretty game for five innings but in the sixth the Yankee clouters landed on the Giant star twirler, Carl Hubbell, and drove him from the mound. Thirteen men batted in this inning before the side was retired, which put the game on ice for the Yanks.

The second game was played today. In this game the Giants had another of their star left handers in the box and he got along fairly well until the fifth inning when the Yankee sluggers drove him from the mound with four straight singles that netted the Yanks two runs and the game. They bombarded two other pitchers and emerged victorious again with a score of 8 to 1. Looks like the other games would be easy coasting for the Yanks.

Prepare Land Now For Spring Planting To Help Conserve The Moisture

Holt county farmers now planning on putting out trees for wind-break or woodlot purposes next spring were urged this week by Agricultural Agent F. M. Reece, to prepare the soil now for such planting. Fall preparation of ground is especially important, he said, when there is a shortage of soil moisture.

Clayton Watkins, senior extension forester of the Nebraska college of agriculture, has suggested that one of the best methods of a fall preparation is to list the ground between Sept. 25 and Oct. 15. This will leave the soil in a rough, loosened condition which will permit the absorption of fall, winter and early spring moisture. If the land to be planted is exposed to direct wind, a temporary snow fence on the north or north and west will add additional moisture by causing snow to drift on the protected area.

Listing the ground on the contour, if there is enough slope to permit run-off, and at right angles to prevailing winds on level ground is recommended as a moisture conservation measure.

Deep plowing instead of listing is sometimes used as a means of fall preparation of ground but the danger of winter blowing is greater with this method, Forester Watkins warns. There is little danger of serious wind erosion on small areas or strips deep listed in the fall and this type of tillage will add to the soil moisture which will be available for newly planted trees next spring.

Fall listing between rows of young trees already established is a tillage practice which has proven its value in checking soil blowing and in adding to the soil moisture supply. Ridges resulting from fall listing can be worked down in early spring leaving the ground in good shape for April planting.

Fall preparation of the soil, careful planting as early in the spring as ground will permit, and clean cultivation thruout the season will result in a good survival and growth of forest trees in any Nebraska season.

4-H MOVING PICTURE WILL BE SHOWN IN THIS CITY TUESDAY

Prizes Go To Counties With Best Attendance For Population. Admission Is Free.

Packed houses are in prospect for the free showing Tuesday, Oct. 12, of the 4-H talking picture, "Under the 4-H Flag." Two shows will be given, one starting at 4 p. m. and the other at 7:30 p. m. Local people are urged to attend the showing in the afternoon as many people are coming in from the country to see the evening show.

The show is the talking picture dramatization of the famous 4-H novel of the same title, written by John F. Case, editor of the Missouri Ruralist, and has been called the greatest 4-H story ever written.

The program is brought to Holt county in co-operation with the Holt County Farm Bureau, and is solely in the interest of good will and for the purpose of publicizing the aims and aspirations of the 4-H movement. There will be absolutely no admission charge or any other solicitation.

In addition there is an attendance contest in which every county will participate. The attendance prizes, which will be given to the counties whose attendance at the showing represents the greatest proportion of the county's rural population, will be awarded when the nation tour has been completed. They are: first $1000, second, $250, third $100, five prizes of $50 each and sixteen of $25 each. Since the total population of Holt county is relatively small in comparison with many other counties and since the interest in 4-H club work is higher than in similar counties, it should be possible for this county to have a good chance at the premiums.

The feature itself is much more than a dramatization of the 4-H ideals and 4-H life. It has its mystery and conflict, a rapid fire baseball game. There is a sinister gang which menaces the well-being of the farm family around which the drama is built and the excitement leading to the capture of this gang and the subsequent triumph of the leading characters at the great International Livestock Show in Chicago, combine to produce a smashing climax.

Most Business Done By Independant Merchant

According to the United States Bureau of Census figures just compiled giving the proportion of retail business done by chain and independent stores in each state discloses the fact that the independent stores far exceed the chain stores in number and also in the amount of sales. From these figures we learn that there are 1,474,149 independent stores in the United States and 139,810 chain stores, showing that the independent stores of the nation sold 73.1 per cent of the goods sold and the chain stores 22.8 per cent. In Nebraska the independent stores, of which there are 17,393 in the state to 1,245 chain stores, the sales of the independent stores amounted to $291,370,000 and the chain stores $59,405,000. ## Prices Generally Rule Lower In Auction At Atkinson Last Tuesday

Atkinson, Oct. 5.—Price generally ruled lower at Tuesday's auction. Only a few choice yearlings and some choice calves escaped a price decline that measured all the way from 15 cents a hundred on canner cows to as much as 50 cents and even 75 cents on some of the best butcher cows and heifers.

Replacement cattle looked from barely steady to 25 cents lower than a week ago. After a very slow start the market improved with the finish showing 25 cents and more improvement over early afternoon sales. Approximately 2,000 cattle were sold. For the first time in weeks no heavy steers were included in the days receipts. Best yearling steers sold at 8.35 to 8.50 with good kinds, at 7.00 to 7.50 while plain and common kinds sold on down to 5.00 and below.

Best calves sold in a range of 7.00 to 8.75 for steers while heifer mates brought from 6.00 to 7.50. Fleshy heifers found the going a little tough and it took mighty good kinds to bring 6.00 and above while those on the stocker order sold down to 5.00 and below.

Canner and cutter cows sold largely at 3.00 to 4.25 with good butcher kinds at 4.50 to 5.50. Bulls sold at 4.75 to 5.50.

In the hog division very few fats were included in the receipts of 400 head. Any price change was on the down side anywhere from 25 to 50 cents a hundred under last weeks sale.

Big special calf and yearling auction, Tuesday, Oct. 12 at 12:30.

According to advance notices sent out by the automobile manufacturers the prices of automobiles of the vintage of 1938 will be higher than the 1937 models, running from $40 to $75 higher on the different makes of cars. Manufacturers however say that they are putting on as regular equipment many of the smaller items that have heretofore been classed as extras, so that the actual increase in car prices has been very small.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. McBride visited relatives and friends in Omaha the latter part of last week.

LAST RITES FOR DANIEL MURPHY HELD TUESDAY

Death Sunday Morning Takes The Oldest Resident of County's Michigan Settlement.

Daniel D. Murphy died at his home northeast of this city about 2 o'clock last Sunday morning after an illness of several months of ailments incident to advancing years, at the age of 83 years, 11 months and 2 days.

Daniel D. Murphy was born in the county Cork, Ireland, on November 1, 1853. When he reached manhoods estate he came to the United States and settled in northern Michigan, where he lived until the fall of 1880 when he came to this county which had been his home since that time, a period of 57 years. On January 24, 1882, he was united in marriage to Bridget Dwyer, who passed away in June, 1933. To this union five children were born, four daughters and one son, who are left to mourn the passing of a kind and indulgent father. The children are: Mary Murphy, Bea and Bernice, O'Neill; Linus, of Denver, and D. F. of this city, all of whom were here during the last illness of their beloved father. There are also two grandchildren and a nephew, Daniel Murphy, who had made his home there for many years.

In the passing of Dan Murphy this county loses another of its oldest pioneers and the once prosperous and populous Michigan settlement loses its oldest resident. Mr. Murphy came to this county as a young man 57 years ago. Shortly after his arrival here he took a farm northeast of this city where he resided for a couple of years and shortly after his marriage they moved south of the river and he was actively engaged in the cattle business in that section. During the severe winter of 1888 and the great blizzard Mr. Murphy was a heavy loser, his herd practically wiped out by the storm. The following year he moved back onto his farm northeast of town where he resided for a few years and then purchased a farm on the Red Bird, northeast of this city, where he had made his home for over forty-five years. He was a good cattle man and all his life was extensively engaged in the cattle business with marked success and had been for several years able to take things easily, free from financial worries.

Dan Murphy was a splendid citizen, a good friend and neighbor. He possessed a wonderful memory and even up to the last few months was able to discuss the early history of the county, with remarkable accuracy, from his first hand knowledge of the early days of the county. He was strictly a home-loving man. His greatest delight was to sit around his home fireside surrounded by his loved ones or to greet and chat with his many friends when they called to pay their respects.

The funeral was held Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock from the Catholic church and was very largely attended, attesting the love and respect the people of this city and county had for this estimable old time citizen who had passed on. Burial was in Calvary cemetery.
