Former Manager Of Armour Hatchery Here, Dies In Iowa

L. L. Cambre, who was the manager of the Hatchery department of the Armour Creameries here for about three years, but who left here after the plant was destroyed by fire last May, died at his home at Indianola, Iowa, last Sunday evening after a heart attack. He was about 53 years of age.

Mr. Cambre came here from Lincoln, Illinois, when the Armour people started the local hatchery and was a resident of this city for over two years. He was a very pleasant and agreeable gentleman and had a faculty of making and retaining friends. After the plant here was destroyed he went to Des Moines and from there to Indianola where he was about to start in business for himself. Mr. Cambre had suffered for the past few years from stomach trouble, but his relatives and friends thought he had overcome that ailment and the notice of his death was a shock to his many friends in this city and vicinity.

O'Neill friends tender the sorrowing family their heartfelt sympathy in their hour of sorrow.

SOUTHWEST BREEZES

By Romaine Saunders

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Kennedy made a trip to O'Neill Thursday.

Remember when Atkinson would refer to O'Neill as the Emerald Tinted?

The southwest was favored with something like two inches of rain during the past few days.

John Baker, son of Alva and wife, were down this way Sunday, guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Hazelbaker.

With a copy of The Frontier and a Montgomery Ward catalog one may spend an highly enlightening evening.

A half dozen or so attended the meeting in Amelia Thursday to check up on the "soil conservation" layouts out this way.

The herds of Warner Brothers, Ernest White and Fred Watson have each been visited the past season and one or more critters made away with.

Edgar Peterson drove the south mail route out of Amelia a trip or two last week for Floyd Adams, who had taken Mrs. Adams to a hospital at Stuart.

Wind, rain and considerably lowered temperature combined to keep those indoors Monday who planned to attend the calf show at O'Neill from these quarters.

Added to an injured foot sustained the week previous in a hay rake, Frank Williamson subsequently found himself laid up with the ever popular but none the less distressing flu.

Josie, the extreme southwest political division of the county, has the shortest list of delinquent taxes of any precinct in the county, while old Grattan just about heads the list the other way.

Journalistic enterprises in Omaha have slumped from four dailies at one time to now only one. The late lamented Bee-News was trying to run a New York City publication among a bunch of farmers.

The most favored individual in all the political literature, oratory, schemes and discussions is the farmer, but he hasn't a show on earth. He sells at the buyer's price; he buys at the seller's price.

Clifford Bailey is back to the more or less strenuous job of ranch hand at his former hangout at E. E. Young's, after a visit with relatives in Kansas. Mrs. Young went Sunday to Kansas with those who had accompanied Clifford here and will visit for a time there.

Land men with Texas acreages and water rights to peddle at $700 to $1,000 an acre are again looking up interested individuals in this community, at the same time advising land owners here to retain their holdings on the supposition that inflation is going to greatly increase land values. And they go a little farther—buy more right here at home.

Congress is to be called to its doom in extra session to "regulate" agriculture again. Whether this is to involve an undertaking for ideal weather conditions to produce farm stuff in abundance, regiment the farmers, revive the AAA or cancel federal farmer loans and close the numerous collection agencies, or none of these has not been made clear.

Col. Hammer over at Chambers has an interesting story of the shipment of 108 cars of cattle from an Idaho point. To the old timers, reminiscence of H. W. McClure, Charley Blabon, Corail Graham, F. M. Widner and others in this county, when loads of cattle went scooting down the Elkhorn valley at the rate of 30 to 35 trains a day. (Continued on page 5, column 1.)

Davis-Winchell Nuptials Last Sunday At Home Of The Bride's Parents

The home of Mr. and Mrs. B. T. Winchell was the scene of a beautiful wedding when their daughter Beryl, became the bride of John E. Davis Sunday afternoon, October 17, the Rev. H. D. Johnson officiating and using the single ring ceremony.

The bride wore a rust silk crepe frock with brown accessories. She carried a bouquet of red roses on a background of white Crysanthemums. The bride was attended by her niece, Elizabeth Medcalf, who wore a dark brown frock. The wedding march, Bridal chorus from Lohengrin, was played by Miss Alice Sexsmith.

The groom wore an Oxford grey plaid suit and was accompanied by Alva Winchell, a brother of the bride.

After the ceremony a wedding dinner was served, with forty guests present being members of the immediate families of the bride and groom and a few of their intimate friends.

Mrs. Davis is a graduate of the O'Neill High school and has held a position with the Interstate Power Company for the past eight years. Her family were among the pioneer families of the county.

Mr. Davis is the son of George T. Davis of Inman, and spent his early life on a farm near Inman, until a few years ago he became a resident of O'Neill. He is now in the employ of the Miller Bros. Chevrolet company.

The happy couple left for a few days trip after which they will make their home in O'Neill.

The Frontier joins the many friends of this young couple in wishing them many years of wedded happiness and prosperity.

Rain Halts Parade Of High School Band

The O'Neill High school band was one of forty high school bands of the state that were in Lincoln last Saturday, as the guests of the Cornhuskers for the Nebraska-Oklahoma football game. On account of the downpour of rain the bands did not get to play at the game but all the members of the various bands had a good time, even if many of them got sopping wet. The O'Neill contingent returned home, some of them Saturday and others Sunday, and they say they had an enjoyable time, even with the rain that marred the festivities of the day.

Pheasant Hunters Thick Opening Day

About every young man capable of handling a gun, and many of the older generation, were out in the country early last Sunday morning hunting the elusive pheasant. Some of the boys were able to bag the limit, while others were out practically all day, traveled many miles and returned home without even getting a shot, or if they got a shot they failed to hit and came home gameless.

Man On The Street Program To Be Sent From Here Saturday

O'Neill will originate a radio program for station KFAB, Omaha and Lincoln on Saturday, October 23, when the "Man on the Street" visits here.

Lyle DeMoss, KFAB program director, will interview local residents starting at 5:15 p. m. In addition the Kentucky Clubmen, KFAB male quartet, will accompany the Man on the Street and put in a special half hour entertainment, starting at 4:45 and continuing until the time for the broadcast. Each man interviewed on the program will receive a full-sized sample of the sponsor's product.

The Man on the Street's Visitor programs are a feature original with KFAB. Five days a week the program originates in Lincoln and the sixth day in some other Nebraska town.

Public School Notes

Six weeks of school this year have gone. The report cards will be distributed this week. Parents are urged to consider carefully the marks earned by their children. Note the degree of accomplishment and if added work is thought necessary, help the student with proper home motivation and assistance.

The co-operation between home and school is heartily desired for the benefit of the pupil. Success in school depends a great deal on attitude. Help us to make the year one of splendid co-operation of patrons and students, the school is progressing nicely.

Several members of the girls' glee club who saw Grace Moore, the famous opera star, in "When You're in Love" noticed that she sang the vowels of the words of the songs. This made them realize more than ever that good tone quality could not be obtained unless pure vowels were sung and the consonants merely spoken. For the past two weeks the girls glee club has been isolating the vowels of the words in the song "Boats of Mine" and singing them without consonants. When the consonants were added, the girls tried to watch that they did not sing the consonants with the vowels. Although the process is slow, the girls hope to reach eventually their goal, a beautiful tone.

Legal Fraternity Of O'Neill Attends Bar Meeting At Bassett

Judge R. R. Dickson, Judge C. J. Malone and attorneys J. J. Harrington, W. J. Hammond, J. D. Cronin, James P. Marron and Ira H. Moss drove to Bassett last Thursday afternoon where they attended the quarterly meeting of the Fifteenth Judicial District Bar association, which was held in that city that evening.

Judge Carter, of the Nebraska State supreme court, was the principal speaker of the evening, taking for his subject the Constitution of the United States. Those present report that Judge Carter delivered a splendid address and one that was well received by the members of the bar present. Practically all the members of the association were in attendance.

HAPPY HOUR PROJECT CLUB

The Happy Hour Project club held their second regular meeting at the home of Mrs. Arthur O'Neill Oct. 14. After a covered dish luncheon at noon, the circular, "Personal Development" was discussed by all the club members and some demonstrations were given as an interesting part of the meeting. The members and guests were all served ice cream and cake by the hostess. After the meeting they helped celebrate the birthday of the small son, John. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. James McNulty, Oct. 24.

Cattle Find An Uneven Outlet In Large Supply At Atkinson Market

Atkinson, Oct. 19.—The cattle market presented a rather spotty appearance at Tuesday's auction on another record run of nearly 3000 cattle. Choice yearling steers, best feeding heifers and butcher cattle found a good outlet at firm to a little higher prices while all others, especially thin cattle and plainer kinds, were hard to move at figures that looked anywhere from 25 to 50 cents a hundred lower than a week ago. Muddy yards tended to slow up selling somewhat and the sale lasted until 3 a. m. Wednesday morning. After a slow draggy start the market improved as the auction progressed and late sales showed as much as 25 cents a hundred improvement over early afternoon.

Representative sales:
Choice yearling steers in carloads 8.00 to 8.70
Fair to good yearling steers at 7.00 to 7.50
Common and plain steers at 5.00 to 5.50
Best steer calves in carloads 9.00 to 9.50
Fair to good steer calves at 7.50 to 8.50
Heifer calves at 6.00 to 6.50
Best yearling heifers in carloads 6.00 to 7.25
Fair to good heifers 5.00 to 5.50
Common heifers on down to 4.00
Best two-year-old steers in carloads 8.00 to 8.50
Fair to good heavy steers at 7.50 to 8.00
Best fat cows 6.00 to 6.50
Canners and cutter cows at 3.00 to 4.50
Bulls all weights 4.75 to 5.75
Only a few over 100 hogs were in the days run and the market reflected a full decline at central markets, fully 50 cents for the week.
Next auction, Tuesday, Oct. 26.

a lot of prestige in the foot ball world last Saturday when the Oklahoma team held them to a scoreless tie. The game was played in a downpour and fumbles were the popular order of the day, instead of the exception. According to figures compiled by national sporting authorities Nebraska has the eighth best team in the United States. Their tie last Saturday reduced them in the ranks several numbers. Minnesota, which went down to defeat at the hands of the Cornhuskers, is rated as the fourth best team in the U. S. A.

Gillespie Becomes Grand High Priest of Nebraska I. O. F. Encampment

L. G. Gillespie and B. T. Winchell drove down to Kearney last Monday to attend the annual meeting of the Grand Encampment of the I. O. F. and also the Grand Lodge of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows. Mr. Winchell was a delegate to both gatherings, while Mr. Gillespie was one of the grand officers of the Encampment. At this meeting officers were elected for the ensuing year and Mr. Gillespie was honored by being elected Grand High Priest of the order. This places him in line for the highest office in the order, as the officials are advanced in rank at each encampment. In two years Mr. Gillespie will be at the head of the organization.

Mr. Gillespie returned home Wednesday evening, while Mr. Winchell is not expected to return until Friday. Among the other officers at the encampment from this section of the state, was J. T. Fletcher of Orchard, who was elected Grand Treasurer.

John Brown's Pay Check

According to an article by Frank R. Kent, current slackening of government borrowing is a deceiving phenomenon. Instead of borrowing directly from the banks or the people thru the issuance of bonds, the government has now adopted a policy of spending the funds supposedly placed in trust with the government, by the people, under the Social Security act. In other words, the money which is taken out of John Brown's weekly pay check, and which the government has promised to set aside to care for him in old age or when he is unemployed, is promptly being dumped into the public treasury for general expenses!

The public treasury has simply become a vast and seemingly bottomless grab-bag. Politicians seeking to perpetuate themselves in office gleefully ply the treasury for money, and more money—money that is spent on everything from out-houses to cash registers. For the first forty-four days of the current fiscal year the government spent $954,805,183.94; its receipts were $675,375,562.55; deficit $279,429,621.39.

What will become of John Brown's hard earned savings if such a policy is continued? What do you think?

The Weather

The weather the past week has been chilly and moist. Commencing last Thursday night this section received 1.67 inches of rain, which was quite general over the county, falling gently for parts of three days and every drop went into the ground. This was of vast benefit to the fall grain and many farmers say their rye crop is now looking fine and with a little favorable growing weather the next few weeks rye should be in great shape for the winter.

Following is the weather for the past week:

	High	Low	Mois.
Oct. 14	39	19
Oct. 15	32	30	T.
Oct. 16	36	30	1.04
Oct. 17	52	36	.27
Oct. 18	50	35	.36
Oct. 19	56	37
Oct. 20	52	35

Total rainfall for the year, 21.45 inches.

Corn Pickers Meet For Competition Friday

The Holt county corn husking contest will be held on the John Shald farm one-half mile west of Tony Lockman's near Stuart Friday, Oct. 22, starting at 1 p. m. Several contestants have entered their names including the 1935 champion, Orville Thorson.

Hereford Calf of James Moehr Is Named Grand Champion At Calf Show

Carl Myere from Wayne county paid $94.00 for the Hereford Angus crossbred calf shown in the calf show Monday by Boyd Ressel of Chambers. Mr. Myere is a 4-H club member and intends to feed and fit the calf for show next fall. The calf weighed 290 pounds, which makes a price of 32.25 cents per pound.

James Moehr of Dustin showed his Hereford steer to first place in his class of twenty-two and later to the Grand Champion club calf. This calf weighed 500 pounds and went to another 4-H club buyer for $12.50 per hundred. In addition he won premiums totaling $15.00. The reserve champion calf was an Angus shown by Clyde Spike of Amelia, which sold for $12.50.

In the commercial cattle division first place in Herefords in lots of five, went to Ed Krugman of Opportunity. They were sold for $10.00 to Max Baird of Storm Lake, Iowa. Hugh Carr had the best five Angus which went to Mr. Bothey of Lindsay, Nebr., at $10.50.

Helmer Widfeldt had the ten first place Angus calves and R. L. George the first ten Shorthorn calves. Ed Krugman was awarded first in lots of twenty head in his entry.

While wet weather kept many spectators away and possibly some buyers, it is felt the show and sale was a success from a financial standpoint and also as a means of breaking the drought.
