HOLDS UP HOTEL CLERK; GETS TWENTY

John Lafferty, clerk at the Flomar hotel, was held up and robbed in the office of the hotel Thursday morning. A shabby dressed stranger entered the office with a revolver and leveled it at the clerk. He ordered Lafferty to produce the money in the cash drawer. Lafferty complied with the command and the stranger scooped it into his pocket and backed out of the door. He secured nearly $20 in currency.

Make This and Try It for Coughs

This Home-Made Remedy has no Equal for Prompt Results.

Mix one pint of granulated sugar with 1/2 pint of warm water, and stir for 2 minutes. Put 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex (fifty cents' worth) in a pint bottle; then add the Sugar Syrup. Take a teaspoonful every one, two or three hours. This simple remedy takes hold of a cough more quickly than anything else you ever used. It usually conquers an ordinary cough inside of 24 hours. Splendid, too, for whooping cough, spasmodic croup and bronchitis. It stimulates the appetite and is slightly laxative, which helps end a cough. This makes more and better cough syrup than you could buy ready made for $2.50. It keeps perfectly and tastes pleasant.

Pinex is a most valuable concentrated compound of Norway white pine extract, and is rich in quinine and other natural pine elements which are so healing to the membranes. Other preparations will not work in this plan. Making cough syrup with Pinex and sugar syrup (or strained honey) has proven so popular throughout the United States and Canada that it is often imitated. But the old, successful mixture has never been equaled. A guaranty of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded, goes with this preparation. Your druggist has Pinex or will get it for you. If not, send to The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

ATTRACTIONS IN OMAHA.

Brands: "The Right Princess." Empress: Vaudeville. Gaiety: Burlesque. Orpheum: Vaudeville.

"The Right Princess" at the Brands. A well-fed and perfectly contented lot of people spent the early hours of Christmas night at the Brands theater watching the unfolding of a new play on a new theme by a new author, enacted by a company of new players. It tells the story of how a very nice young woman wog back to health and reason the youthful heir to a British peerage, whose brain had been added by an accident in early boyhood. The episodes of the tale are all so obvious as to require but little skill in their adornment, but the actors give such life as they may to the points.

Mr. Robert Dempster is cast for the hero role and has in his favor an unquestioned willingness to serve, but a very difficult task in his effort to make the role seem natural. He is very effective in the course of a sudden outburst just at the end of the second act. Miss Robine, who is "the right princess," gives to a conventional role much importance by reason of her personality. She is effectively beautiful and sweet without being cloying. Others in the company do what is required of them in an interesting way.

Promises of the Paris Agents. The biggest musical success of this season in New York will be the attraction at the Brands theater on December 28, 29, 30 and 31, when the New Era Producing company will present "Adele." This French operetta has the longest run to its credit of any musical show produced in New York this season. Prominent in the cast are Caroline Thomson, Annette Flack, who for two years was prima donna at the New York Hippodrome, Alfred Kappler, George O'Connell, Jules Espally and Ralph Nairn.

Henry Miller, who comes to the Brands next week in his latest success, "The Rainbow," is said to introduce frequently in his productions bits of detail study for his own satisfaction, or sometimes for the purpose of inspiring the actors and actresses in his company, making them "feel the part," according to stage phrase. Mr. Miller's engagement opens on New Year's afternoon and is for five performances.

That the do-your-shopping-early campaign has been effective this season is nowhere better demonstrated than by the attendance this week at the Orpheum. Customarily there is a falling off in theater patronage. Managers, in point of fact, count on meager business during the period of holiday shopping. This week, however, there has been the normal here at the Orpheum. The reason for this result is the quality of the entertainment, headlined by the emotional actress Blanche Walsh, whose dramatic offering is in striking contrast with the hilarious comedy features of the bill.

Truman De Roame, with his own company of a score of high-class players, will open the Krug theater Sunday for a three days' engagement, playing on Sunday, Monday and Tuesday with Sunday and daily matinees. Mr. De Roame's repertoire for the three days will be "The Builder of Bridges," Sunday afternoon and night; "The Invader," Monday afternoon and night; and a dramatization of Rudyard Kipling's "The Light That Failed" on Tuesday afternoon and night.

This pleasant custom that Omahans have of taking their holiday visitors to the theater will be in full force from now until after New Year's day, and, as usual, the popular Gaiety will be the mecca for all strangers within the city gates, for the simple reason that in their home towns throughout this vicinity there is ample opportunity to witness all manner of theatrical entertainment, with the exception of clean, classy musical burlesque as presented only in Omaha. This week's company, the Columbus, is ideal for the holiday week. Ladies' matinee today.

Bouillon Cubes Are Not Meat, but Drink

"Bouillon cubes are the handiest form in which materials for hot bouillon, beef tea and the like are available. That is why a demand for them is growing.

"Honest manufacturers do not represent their cubes as 'concentrated beef tea or meat essence' having high nutritive value and never have done so. These two important points were overlooked in the press matter on bouillon cubes recently given out to the newspapers by the Department of Agriculture," said A. G. Boyer, district manager for Armour and company, yesterday. "The government report says cubes are 'valuable stimulants or flavoring agents. That is exactly what Armour and company say their cubes are—that and nothing more. There is no food value worth talking about in clear soups as served in good restaurants, with the grease skimmed off.

"Our bouillon cubes are simply a convenience. They are always of the same size—don't have to be measured or weighed. One gets a known quantity in each cube. Besides adding flavor and zest to soups, gravies and the like, they make the most widely usable, cold weather hot drink known—for everybody, everywhere, at any time. They are instantly available—one cube and one cup of hot water for one hot drink—wherever hot water can be had. Thus used they make an appetizing, refreshing, stimulating hot drink—a wholesome stimulant from which there is no unfavorable reaction as from tea, coffee or alcohol."

Mange Cure is Attractive Until the Bill Comes In

Probably the most consuming fad that has emanated from barber shops lately is a new tonic for semi-bald heads known as mange cure. The tonic has become quite popular and even though it was originally intended for use upon animals it has been found to have excellent curative qualities for dandruff and its concomitant ailments. In extolling its virtues barbers as a rule advise that it be rubbed in with electrical apparatus, thus increasing its remedial effects and necessitating that they apply it. Lately a young man of much dignity and pride heard of the new cure and in one last effort to save the thinning tresses of his scalp sought out a barber who dispensed the magic lotion. It felt fine, the first did, and he was made glad, real happy until the tontorial artist handed in his bill. The bill hurt the proud young man for $5 cents is even proportionally higher for a spoonful of dope, that costs 50 cents a bottle, than are eggs at 75 cents per dozen. But the young man looked in the mirror, twisted his head patriotically before it, mused to himself that maybe the game was worth the candle, then asked his barber for a receipt.

AFFAIRS AT SOUTH OMAHA

Democrats of Magic City Get Tired Waiting for Jobs.

THINK THEY ARE SLIGHTED

Income Tax Collectors New Position for Which a Large Number Are Already Lined Up at the Counter.

South Omaha democrats are being discriminated against by Omaha democrats and the congressional delegation at Washington. Since the rising of the democratic sun of success a year ago, local democrats of more or less regularity have been preening themselves to sit in the places long occupied at the federal pie counter by republicans. It is true that, with the exception of Jerry Howard and one or two other friends of the common people most of the pie hunters in this city went strong for Judson Harmon who once ran for the presidential nomination. In those days Woodrow Wilson was not to be reckoned with by the local wisemen of the "sans culottes." Then Wilson won and immediately the Harmon men organized a Wilson club of their own to compete with Jerry Howard and a few young Wilson men. After election the old time pie hunters did all the screaming and raised the dust of enthusiasm about what "we have done for Wilson," Senator Hitchcock, Congressman Lobeck and even Secretary Bryan have been pot-shotted with sundry and diverse letters from the local lads who wanted to be remembered when pie time came around. During the fight on the tariff bill and the currency bill, it was quite easy for the men in Washington to write back soulful letters about being busy—so busy, in fact, that they had no time to look into the matter of sordid appointments. It heckled the boys who had so wisely switched from Harmon to Wilson that they had to stand and wait while the republicans went on consuming pie as of old. Now the currency bill is passed and there are many who want jobs connected with the pay department at Washington. There are candidates for Ross Hammond's job in South Omaha, and candidates for Cadet Taylor's job, and candidates for everything within the gift of the Great Commoner, Senator Hitchcock and Congressman Lobeck. There were candidates for the postoffice but, somehow, the postmaster general said nay and that hope went out.

Income Tax Job.

Now the latest is a candidate or two for the new position of income tax collector. Several names in South Omaha have been mentioned. Former City Treasurer John Gillin is said to be in a particularly receptive mood for the appointment. Others say that Barney McArdle of Omaha wants the place. Anyway, there has been the usual gathering of "endorsements." A few days ago George Rogers of Omaha was down here looking over the field. It is also said that Barney McArdle was down. City Clerk Tom Flynn of Omaha, it is claimed, has been appealed to for help. Democratic leaders in Omaha say that the old Harmon boys might just as well take down their lightning rods. Moreover, the disastrous break among local democrats a year ago has had its effect and now the Omaha leaders insist that whatever candidates come out for federal pie must have the united support of South Omaha democrats. It is intimated that new timber would have a plianity, so to speak, insuring harmony in the Magic City.

As for the job of income tax collector, it is quite certain that the plum will not come below Deer Park boulevard. Later on, it is hinted that there might be a few clerkships and minor jobs for local democrats who pass the civil service examinations. So, naturally, things look equally as to the pie hunters in South Omaha, even without taking into consideration the men who voted against Bryan at Grand Island and the men who shouted for Judson Harmon and then thought to get in the band wagon that ran direct to the pie distributing stations.

Kim Loses Cash.

While returning to his home at Twenty-eighth and V streets Wednesday night Toney Kim was held up on the Q street viaduct by two masked men, who robbed him of $17.50. Kim reported the loss to the police, who took the matter under investigation.

Holiday Program.

A holiday program consisting of pictures and stories will be given Friday night, December 26, at the First Christian church, Twenty-third and I streets, under the auspices of the Equal Franchise league of South Omaha, a woman's organization, bent on getting the ballot. The following have agreed to serve on the different committees: Reception committee, Mrs. W. W. Widoe, chairman, Mrs. J. W. Hodgen, Mrs. W. J. Heastle, Mrs. S. C. Shrigley, Dr. Adda Wiley Ralston, Mrs. George H. Bligh, Mrs. William Berry, Mrs. Caroline Bronson, Mrs. Edwin Davis, Mrs. E. E. Martin, Mrs. James Kennedy, Mrs. W. F. Burdick, Mrs. W. B. Wyman, Mrs. Ida A. Parsler, Mrs. M. F. Reynolds, Mrs. M. R. Seldomridge, Miss Jessie Graham. Guests of honor will be Rev. and Mrs. William A. Pollock and Mrs. Anna Pollock of United Presbyterian church, who leave for Chicago January 15.

Catholic Services.

Christmas service at St. Anthony's Catholic church was accorded highest respect yesterday by the Lithuanians who attend the church and by many English speaking people who went to see the special service. The choir of St. Anthony's church rendered the best music ever attempted in the existence of the parish. Much time and energy were spent in preparation, and well were the efforts rewarded. The choir of sixteen voices is under the direction of Miss Ruth Flynn, organist. An orchestra of eight instruments, under the leadership of H. H. Robrs of Tecumseh, Neb., added greatly to the effect and majesty of the services. Adeste Fidelis was very telling. Part of it was sung by three sopranos and alto voices behind closed doors. Gradually it increased in volume until the entire choir and orchestra burst forth in gladsome strains.

The pastor, Rev. George F. Jonaitis, preached the sermon.

Magic City Gospel.

Tickets are being sold for the policeman's annual ball. Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Mayfield are sponsoring the holidays at Hastings, Neb. Mr. and Mrs. James Cunningham are entertaining Mr. and Mrs. George Lyrik of Joliet. A small blaze at Cudahy's yesterday evening called out the plant fire department. No damage was done. Members of the Eudora and Eudora News clubs of St. Mary's parish at Thirty-sixth and Q streets are preparing to entertain at a "watch party" Wednesday night, December 31. A unique pleasure party is promised and a large crowd is expected. The party will be given at the school hall.
