

WILLIAMS FOR COMPTROLLER

Nomination of West Virginia Man is Sent to Senate.

SOME OPPOSITION IN SENATE

New Member of Federal Reserve Board is Now First Assistant to Secretary of Treasury McAdoo.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—President Wilson today nominated John Skelton Williams of Virginia, assistant secretary of the treasury, for comptroller of the currency and ex-officio member of the federal reserve board, which will administer the affairs of the new currency system.

Mr. Williams is now in charge of the fiscal bureau and Secretary McAdoo's first assistant in matters of government finance. The office of comptroller of the currency has been vacant several months. From time to time various reports have been afloat in congressional circles of opposition being brought to bear against the nomination of Mr. Williams. It was said that the so-called great financial interests were opposing him. There has never been recorded so far as is known, before any committee or through any official channel, any opposition to his appointment, though there are various reports of impending opposition to his confirmation by the senate.

Announcement of Mr. Williams' selection followed a conference between President Wilson and Secretary McAdoo. It is understood that during the president's absence Mr. McAdoo has been sounding senators about the nomination and believes it will be confirmed. So far as known, the president has made no other selections for the federal reserve board. Secretary Houston said today he did not plan to resign from the cabinet to become a member of the board.

Before the cabinet meeting the president had a conference with Secretary McAdoo, at which it is understood a report of the progress of the organization committee at work on the new currency law was made.

The president has set aside tomorrow for conferences on the trust question, arranging to meet Chairman Clayton and perhaps the entire democratic membership of the house judiciary committee. Mayor John Purroy Mitchel of New York was the guest of the president at luncheon. The purpose of his visit was not disclosed.

Prof. Fling Regards Mirabeau as One of Greatest Frenchmen

Prof. Fling of the department of European history at the University of Nebraska gave the second of a series of six lectures on European statesmen at the high school auditorium yesterday afternoon, taking Mirabeau, the famous Frenchman, who led such a strenuous life during the latter part of the eighteenth century. The professor gave an unbiased account of Mirabeau's life and activities and gave a general synopsis of his private affairs as well as his political life.

Prof. Fling characterized Mirabeau as one of the greatest of all Frenchmen and told of his evolution from an army officer to a member of the general assembly of France to his eventual and final position of adviser to the king. He spoke of Mirabeau's desire to become a member of the general assembly and how he bought a clothier's shop in order to secure eligibility to the third estate when he learned that he could not become a member of the nobility, as he did not possess a fief of his own. He characterized Mirabeau as the man who made the general assembly the powerful organization it became and he stated that Mirabeau was really the one man who started the French revolution.

When listless, pale, feverish, full of cold, breath bad, throat sore, doesn't eat, sleep or act naturally, has a stomach ache, indigestion, diarrhoea, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the foul waste, the sour bile and fermenting food passes out of the bowels and you have a well and playful child again. COLD WAVE GRIPS THE EAST

Twenty-Six Below is Reported in New England.

WILL LAST ONLY A FEW HOURS

Balmy Weather Prevailing in West Will Soon Push Storm Into the Atlantic—Gale Blowing Along the Coast.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—Continued cold that drove the mercury to zero in many spots and as far as 26 degrees below in some, still gripped the entire north and central portions of the country today and caused much suffering. Following in the wake of Monday's St. Lawrence storm, which passed out to whip the New Foundland coast, a blanket of still frost settled down for another day.

But to the westward of the wintry region is another "area," as the weather sharpens, pressing for room to move, and as it slides eastward it is expected to displace the colder air tomorrow and bring relief. Rising temperatures all through the west were marking the movement of the new weather today and temperatures there were again above the seasonal average. An the warmer air moves toward the Atlantic the weather, men say it will be accompanied by blue skies. So, the winter's first real cold. (Continued from Page One.) fashioned weather promises to be short-lived.

Thirty-Four Below. BOSTON, Jan. 12.—A breath from the Arctic, which followed the St. Lawrence storm of yesterday, brought to New England today the lowest temperatures in three years. St. Albans, where a reading of 34 below zero was recorded, heads the minus list. At Pittsfield, Mass., it was 28 below; Burlington, Vt., 22 below; Concord, N. H., 14 below; Portland, Me., 9 below, and in this city 6 below. The cold weather was harder to withstand than usual owing to the northwest gale, which blew a mile a minute on Cape Cod. The maximum wind velocity was seventy-two miles an hour on Cape Cod.

Twenty-Two Below. SYRACUSE, N. Y., Jan. 12.—The thermometer registered 22 below zero in Syracuse this morning. The big drop followed one of the worst blizzards the city has suffered in years.

WILL STOP TREE CUTTING

Fontenelle Forest Association Holds Its Election.

C. J. ERNST IS THE PRESIDENT

Purpose is to Preserve Natural Park Along Missouri River Bluffs Between Childs' Point and Bellevue.

"Promiscuous cutting of trees in Nebraska will soon stop, as the result of the organization of the Fontenelle Forest association," said Thomas R. Kimball, one of the incorporators of the project, after the meeting for permanent organization yesterday afternoon at the Commercial club.

"People who contemplate chopping down trees will now stop and consider whether the value of the cleared ground is not exceeded by the value of the tract with the trees standing, as concerns rainfall, soil preservation, natural beauty and cash productive value. In some cases it may be justifiable to cut down trees, but usually in Nebraska it will be found economically wise to let them grow, for they are a valuable asset to the land." The forest association is the result of a desire to preserve a natural park for public use along the Missouri river bluffs between Childs' point and Bellevue. The organization was incorporated last week, and at Monday's meeting the following permanent officers were elected to serve one year: President, C. J. Ernst, assistant treasurer of the Burlington railroad.

Vice president, Henry W. Yates, president of the Nebraska National bank. Treasurer, C. E. McGraw, president of the Live Stock National bank. Secretary, Dr. A. A. Tyler, dean and head of the biology department of Bellevue college, originator of the organization. Additional members of the executive council, Thomas R. Kimball, Rome Miller and Dr. Solon R. Towne.

In addition to the executive council of seven, these men are incorporators of the association: C. C. Belden, Roy N. Towle, Alfred C. Kennedy, C. M. Wilhelm, C. N. Diets, H. H. Baldwin, Fred J. Adams, Dr. A. F. Jones, W. H. Buchholz, Dr. Harold Gifford, Rev. Stephen Stookley. Committees on grounds, legal affairs, finance and publicity were authorized at yesterday's meeting. They will consist of three men each, to be appointed by the president. An assessment was agreed upon by the members to take care of the present running expenses.

The by-laws adopted include provisions for raising some of the money necessary for carrying out the association's plans for a large public park along the river bluffs, south of South Omaha. They indicate that private subscriptions will be largely depended upon to make the project a reality. It is provided that persons making donations of $10.00 or more shall be made honorary vice presidents of the association, those who give $5.00
