PIRATES DOWN HIGH SCHOOL

Land on Undergraduates with Decisive 21 to 5 Beating.

FIRST REVERSE FOR STUDENTS

Greater Accuracy in Basket Shooting and Poor Form Shown by Some of Players Responsible for the Defeat.

Before a large crowd of enthusiastic basket ball rooters the Pirates defeated the Omaha High school team last evening at the Young Men's Christian association by the score of 21 to 5. Despite the high score of the Pirates the game was extremely well played, keeping the bushwhackers on the jump continually to hold the undergraduates from starting a rally. Both teams were about equal as to teamwork, but the Pirates seemed to have an edge on their opponents in being more accurate when it came to shooting baskets. The game was also one of the cleanest played in the Commercial league this season, only fourteen fouls being committed during the entire contest.

In the opening half, after the first ten minutes of play, the Pirates started making points in rapid order and before the close of the half had piled up eleven to their credit as against none for the high school. Sensational baskets made by Drummond and Linn, coupled with accurate goal throwing by Burkenroad, was directly responsible for the bushwhackers taking the lead. The high school team had a number of chances to score, but in some manner the fates seemed against them. Time after time Gardener and Flotow missed easy baskets, which if made would have easily given them the game.

In the second half the high school team seemed to take a reversal of form, playing rather brilliantly at times. They covered their players in fine form and blocked numerous attempts of the Pirates to score. The half opened with Burkenroad throwing a foul basket. Drummond next made a sensational side basket, which ended the scoring for the Pirates until the last few minutes of play. The undergraduates now had their turn and succeeded in making two baskets. A shot from under the basket by Gardener, followed by an accurate throw of Larmon, gave the students their only baskets. During this short interval of time the high school clearly outplayed their opponents, but were unable to continue their good work. Two more fouls thrown by Burkenroad, coupled with a fine basket made by Drummond and a close basket made by Weigle, ended the scoring of the Pirates, giving them twenty-one points. Gardener succeeded in throwing another foul in the last few minutes of play, which brought the final count up to 21 as against 5 for the high school.

The defeat at the hands of the Pirates came as a surprise to the undergraduates, they not having lost a game up to the present time in the Commercial league. The high school team was also handicapped by having Hughes, their star player, out of the contest because of a bad knee. Lineup:

HIGH SCHOOL.		PIRATES.

HURON BASKET BALL TEAM HAS LONG SCHEDULE

HURON, S. D., Jan. 14.—(Special.)—A good sized basket ball squad is out for practice every evening for places on this year's team at Huron college. Sherwood, guard; Wick, forward, and Schoof, forward, of last year's team, will play this season and there is good material in the field for the other positions.

Games will probably be played with Yankton college, the State college, Redfield college the Aberdeen Normal, the State university and the North Dakota Agricultural college. Yankton and the North Dakota Aggies will probably be here the last of this month.

Two trips have been planned, one to northern South Dakota and North Dakota and the other into southern South Dakota, Iowa and Minnesota, it being possible, however, that the latter will not be made.

Two Sign Contracts.

NEW YORK, Jan. 14.—Two more of Frank Chance's players signed contracts for next season today. They are Outfielders James Eschen, recalled from Jersey City of the International league, and First Baseman Owen Quinn, who was purchased from the Kingston club of the New York and New Jersey league and was sent to Galveston in the Texas league for the rest of the season.

Johnson and Moran Matched for Title Contest in June

PARIS, Jan. 14.—"Jack" Johnson, the negro heavyweight pugilist, and Frank Moran, the Pittsburgh heavyweight, today signed articles for a twenty-round bout for the championship of the world, to be fought on the day or before the Paris Grand Prix race, during the first or second week of June, this year.

Johnson was handed a check for $35,000 by Charles McCarthy, representing a group of American sporting men, while Moran was guaranteed $5,000. The fight is to take place in Paris.

The articles were signed in the Pavilion Dauphine in the Bois de Boulogne. There was a long discussion of the terms. Johnson raised numerous objections, one of which was his demand to be paid interest on the amount of the check, which is not payable until the day of the fight.

Johnson agreed not to fight anybody else before meeting Moran in the ring, and if the colored pugilist fails to fight he is to forfeit the $35,000 except the sum of $5,000 for his training expenses.

The signatures to the articles were finally affixed in the presence of many managers, promoters, boxing men and other sportsmen, and Johnson and Moran then drank each other's health in goblets of champagne. Three moving picture machines were working during the negotiations.

Charles MacCarthy intimates that the group he represents, which is supplying the money, is actuated by the desire to see the heavyweight championship of the world taken by a white man. The group consists of three American millionaires residing in Paris and does not include William Astor Chanler.

Bob Fitzsimmons Appeals to Supreme Court of New York

NEW YORK, Jan. 14.—Robert Fitzsimmons, former world's heavyweight boxer appeared before Justice Seabury in the supreme court today and asked, through counsel, to be permitted to reappear in the ring, a privilege denied him by the state athletic commission.

"When I return to the ring in this town," said Fitzsimmons, "there will be no more foot races or tangoes inside the ropes. What people want is some genuine boxing."

Affidavits were submitted to show that Fitzsimmons is still in good physical condition. Mike Donovan, instructor of boxing at the New York Athletic club, set forth that Fitzsimmons could meet the best men in the ring without danger. Anthony Drexel Biddle of Philadelphia expressed the same opinion. Fitzsimmons is now 53 years old. Further argument will be heard on Friday.

By steady playing the collegians gradually overtook The Bee team, the score ending in the Indians' favor, 14 to 10, at the end of the first period.

Fredrickson Will Report Progress of Highway at Chicago

H. E. Fredrickson has gone to Chicago where he is to meet A. R. Pardington, vice president of the Lincoln Highway association, to whom he is to make a complete report of the work that has been done in Nebraska on the road. He goes with the report that every county in the state through which the highway passes has been organized.

There are thirteen counties and each has a county consul who is on the job. Each town through which the road passes also has a town consul. He will also report that the highway is marked with the officially copyrighted label of the Lincoln highway throughout the state, and that most of the towns through which the road passes are preparing ordinances for the changing of the name of their principal street to "The Lincoln Way." These are some of the high points that his report will touch, besides a report on the sale of certificates in the state, and the donations of work for the construction of sections of the road that have been promised.

South Dakota Man Runs Down Wolf With Racing Auto

ETHAN, S. D., Jan. 14.—(Special.)—To run down and kill a wolf with his racing automobile was the feat performed by Joseph E. Neuheuse, a prominent resident of Hutchinson county, who lives some miles south of Ethan. He was traveling over a highway near the Missouri river in the darkness of the early evening when he noticed a wolf loping along the road in front of the car.

The wolf was discovered just as the car came swiftly around a curve. The headlight appeared to daze the animal, which, instead of making its way to one side of the road, continued trotting along directly ahead of the car. Taking this as a challenge for a test of speed the driver of the auto opened out his machine and gradually overhauled the wolf. Soon the front of the automobile touched the bushy tail of the animal, and after a final burst of speed the automobile again steadily approached the wolf, which at last disappeared under the car. Stopping the automobile the driver discovered that the wolf was just gasping its last, the back of the animal having been broken when the car ran upon it.

Neuheused brought the carcass to town as evidence of his prowess as a drivef of a racing car, and will have the skin mounted.

GEORGE STONE WOULD MANAGE LINCOLN TEAM

LINCOLN, Jan. 14.—George Stone, for many years a star with the bat and in the outfield in the big base ball leagues, who retired last eyar, has decided to re-enter the game and today applied for the position of manager of the Lincoln Western league club, under the impression that Manager Mullen had been released to Vancouver. Stone is at present assistant cashier of a bank at Coleridge, Neb.

Wilson Anti-Trust Policy Conciliatory

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—President Wilson on his return to Washington today gave the members of the cabinet his ideas on the government's relation to big business, the field that anti-trust legislation should cover and the spirit with which he believed the task should be approached.

So far as is known the cardinal features of the president's plans are:

Supplementing the Sherman anti-trust law to reduce the debatable area around it.

The prohibition of interlocking directorates.

Location of individual responsibility and the fixing of personal guilt for all violations.

The creation of an interstate trade commission to perform the functions not only of a bureau of information, but to determine by its investigations whether decrees of dissolution or mandates of the court are carried out.

PIONEER APARTMENT BUILDER GIVES ADDRESS

John S. Knox, who built the first modern apartment houses in Omaha, made an address at the annual meeting of the Building Owners' and Managers' association yesterday afternoon at Hotel Loyal. He was president of the company which erected the Sherman, Winona and Normandie in 1898, and is now making his home in this city at 2109 Pacific street, after living at Los Angeles for a number of years.

A report of the association's work during the last year was made by Howard G. Loomis, retiring president. These officers were elected for 1914: E. O. Hamilton, president; Ernest Sweet, vice president; John F. Miles, treasurer. The directors chosen were Frank H. Myers, William R. McFarland, L. C. Sholes, Howard G. Loomis, Edwin S. Jewell and Dr. F. H. Millener.

It was emphasized in the report made by Mr. Loomis that the members of the association are managing properties that are worth more than the combined capital and surplus of all the banks of Omaha. This includes the Union Pacific building, the Woodmen of the World building, the City National bank building and the Omaha National bank building.

STATE HEALTH AUTHORITIES FIND SMALLPOX AT FLORENCE

Dr. Wilson, president of the State Board of Health, made a trip from Lincoln to Omaha yesterday to investigate the conditions and he passed the quarantine edict before he departed for Nebraska City last night.

MEXICAN POLICY VISIONARY

Henry Lane Wilson Scores Administration's Attitude.

TREND IS ON TOWARD ANARCHY

Impossible for Millions of Uneducated People to Govern Selves—Strong Arm of Control Essential to Welfare.

Little hope for either an early or amicable settlement of the revolutionary conditions in Mexico was given by Henry Lane Wilson, late ambassador to Mexico, in his address before the Palimpsest club, at its dinner at the Omaha club last night.

"I come to you to speak as a free American citizen; the freedom of speech is given every one of us in time of peace. In times of war, we must all stand behind the president of the United States," said Mr. Wilson, who was introduced by John L. Webster, president of the club.

"Our president is a great and good man, but I differ with him greatly on some of his policies. It is my right and your right to do so, or this is Russia and not the United States."

"The history of Mexico, until the era of Diaz, was a procession of passing conquerers. The victor of today was the fugitive of tomorrow. The people could be controlled only with a firm and positive hand of government.

"Upon being appointed to the post in Mexico, following thirteen years of service abroad and in the South American countries, I soon discerned the seething spirit of rebellion which underlay the state of Mexico. My prediction of the fall of Diaz was made before the first shot of the Madero rebellion was fired.

Madero's Nepotism.

"Likewise, did I forsee that the dissipated government of the country under the Madero family, with 100 relatives of the president in elective and appointive offices pilfering for their personal gain, would fall before a similar rebellion.

"It was during the siege of the City of Mexico, that we organized the commissary, medical relief corps, and provided homes out of the firing line for some 1,500 people, sheltering 175 Americans in the embassy itself. The horrors of the siege I will pass over, merely pausing to state that there were 5,000 soldiers killed in the slaughter, and some 1,500 noncombatants also killed.

"It was after the tenth day of the battle, and after the fall of Madero, that I summoned Felix Diaz and General Huerta to the embassy.

"I realized that these two powerful forces, each lying in readiness for an opportunity to spring at the other, might result in another dreadful carnage. I believed that it was the human thing to do, to abate if possible, the terrible loss of life. At the close of a six-hour conference, and after the relations had three times been perilously near the breaking point, papers were signed by both men, through which it was agreed that Huerta was to be made the provisional president, and Felix Diaz was to be allowed to pursue his own candidacy for the presidency, independently.

American Capital at Stake.

"To realize the responsibility which rested on my shoulders at that time, let me tell you that there were 75,000 Americans in Mexico at the outbreak of the rebellion, and more than $1,000,000,000 of American capital invested in Mexico. Hundreds of Americans were killed, and several hundred arrested and thrown in vile jails on the most trivial charges, while thousands of dollars' worth of property was confiscated, destroyed, or taxed out of existence. The strong anti-American feeling which had smouldered under Porfirio Diaz had been fanned into a flame during the rebellion.

"With the advent of Huerta, there came a man who seemed strong enough to control Mexico by force, and I advocated that control, not because it was ideal, but because it seemed better than any other alternative.

"With 80 per cent of its population unable to read and write, who would say that the country was ready for a self-imposed government? How long could this fair government of ours exist if we had such a percentage of ignorant, rebellious people?

Saw Glimpse of Peace.

"When Huerta came into power, all of the people in Mexico wanted peace. The majority of them were glad to see Huerta as president, for they believed that his rule would restore peace. It was this theory that brought about the recognition of his government by the powers of Europe. If his government had received the recognition to which it was entitled, not for its excellency, but because of the fact that as the only sort of government which could bring about peace in Mexico, it would have established peace from the Rio Grande to the southern boundary, and there would be no rebellion in Mexico today. And in the future, if they do get a government which can control Mexico, it will be one of the same sort which Huerta has tried to establish, though I myself believe that his rule will be overthrown.

"We may succeed in upsetting President Huerta but in that event, success will be worse than failure, for after him, the United States will have to deal with professional bandits and marauders like Zapata, Carranza and the other heroes of scores of bloody slaughters.

"After that, will again come a chaos, when these men go into power. The United States must then go into Mexico to be consistent with the policy which has been outlined by the president and his secretary of state, and I am opposed to such a move, or be compelled to permit other countries to go into Mexico for the purpose of protecting life and property of their citizens. This, by the policy adopted by our idealistic president, is the only logical course to pursue.

"If another foreign power invades Mexico, and finally does establish a government, then we will be compelled in that event to intervene and invade Mexico, for we cannot, according to the present policy, recognize any government established by violence, and then chaos will again result. That brings us again to such a situation as exists now, and we will have to go into Mexico again, and perhaps this time stay there for a long time. The ceding of Mexico to the United States would bring with it some 15,000,000 uneducated people, entirely unfit for our form or ideals of government, and since we have plenty of troubles of our own, I would be opposed to such a move.

Attempting Impossible.

"You can no more impose a democratic form of government upon an uneducated vicious class of people than you can build the statue of liberty on a quicksand and expect it to stand upright. The president is intending to do the impossible. To carry the case further, if the present policy is to be consistently followed out, then we will have to impose good government on every warring Latin republic from the Rio Grande to the Straits of Magellan. I believe that both the president and his secretary are honest, but they have blundered into this policy rather than taken a definite stand. They spoke too quick, and now they must go on and abide by the results.

"Whenever before, have we in history tried to depose the ruler of a sovereign state?

"When before in history, have we attempted to pass on the validity of the elections of another country?

"When before in the history of our fair nation, have we attempted to ingraft our code of morals on another independent nation?

"When before in the history of this country, have we been compelled to drive our own citizens out of another country, and have refused them protection to their property?

Vision of a Dreamer.

"The policies which have brought about this condition are those of a scholastic dreamer, of misguided though honest idealism; from that mind which sees only the north star, yet fails to realize that the forces which control the firmament and the surrounding firmament, also controls the north star.

"Out of the din and strife and struggle of this revolution will come the truth, and the lash of scorpions will scourge him who was wrong, but to the right will come the recognition of righteousness in truth, and the glorification of his works."

CENSUS SHOWS TERRIBLE LIFE WASTE IN BALKANS

SOFIA, Bulgaria, Jan. 14.—A striking illustration of the terrible human waste in war is furnished by the census just taken of the new Bulgarian territories acquired by conquest. The male population of that portion of Macedonia allotted to Bulgaria was reduced during hostilities from 175,000 to 62,500. In Bulgarian Thrace only 225,000 males remain out of a total before the war of 494,000 while in the district of Mustapha Pasha, where fighting waged long and fiercely only 4,000 males are left out of 22,000.

Belgian Tiger to Wrestle Hussane

Armand La Tresse, known as the Belgian tiger and fresh from Europe, will wrestle with Yousiff Hussane Monday night at the Krug theater. It is said that La Tresse came over from the other side for the express purpose of meeting Frank Gotch, but since the champion refuses to enter the game again the visitor is seeking other matches. La Tresse is 26 years of age and weighs 230 pounds.

Beatrice Signs Outfielder.

BEATRICE, Neb., Jan. 14.—(Special.)—Outfielder C. C. Guyer of Norman, Okl., has been signed to play with the Beatrice ball team in the Nebraska State league the coming season. He is touted as a fast fielder and a good hitter. He will report early with the rest of the squad for spring practice. Pimples Often the Source of Serious Blood Trouble

In thousands of instances blood troubles have been the result of coming in contact with disease germs in public places. And the apparently insignificant pimple has been the cause. It spreads with astonishing rapidity, often infecting the entire system in a few days.

It is fortunate, however, that there is a remedy to cope quickly and thoroughly with such a condition, in the famous S. S. S.

This preparation stands alone as a blood purifier. It is somewhat revolutionary in its composition, since it has accomplished all that was ever claimed for mercury, iodides, arsenic, and other destructive mineral drugs, and yet it is absolutely a purely vegetable product. It contains one ingredient which serves the active purpose of stimulating each tiny cellular part of the tissues to the healthy and judicious selection of its own essential nutriment. There are more cases of articular rheumatism, locomotor ataxia, paresis, neuritis, and similar diseases resultant from the use of minerals than most people are aware of. These facts are brought out in a highly interesting book compiled by the medical department of The Swift Specific Co., 304 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga. It is mailed free, together with special information, to all who write describing their symptoms.

Get a bottle of S. S. S. to-day, but be careful not to have something palmed off on you falsely claimed to be "just as good."

The only reason why anyone will try to sell you something in place of S. S. S. is the extra profit.
