

COAL PRICES UNCHANGED

Fuel Has Not Made Usual Advance During This Winter.

RETAILERS ARE PAYING MORE

Even Though Mine Owners Are Selling Output at Steady Increase Distributors Are Not Raising Prices.

It is likely there will be no rise in the price of coal this winter according to Victor White, who says the supply of coal is abundant this year, and that the retailers so far have not raised the price according to the normal fall scale.

Every month at the mine the price of coal is about the same. Ordinarily most grades of coal rise from early fall at the rate of 10 cents per ton per month through the winter.

It is likely there will be no rise in the price of coal this winter according to Victor White, who says the supply of coal is abundant this year, and that the retailers so far have not raised the price according to the normal fall scale.

"Retailers have had to pay the increase every month at the mine this winter," says Mr. White, "but so far they have not passed it on to the consumers.

Will Maupin Comes to Omaha on Purely Nonpolitical Visit

There is one democrat in Lincoln that is not looking for a federal appointment from the present administration. He is Will Maupin, editor of Will Maupin's Weekly and former state labor commissioner.

Maupin was a candidate for the appointment as labor commissioner under Governor Morehead, but was turned down by the governor in favor of Charles Pool of Tecumseh.

BOARD IS IN PRETTY FAIR SHAPE

Secretary Bourke Will Make Such a Report at Meeting Which Will Be Held Next Monday Night.

A deficit of $230,000 for the year 1913 has been averted by the Board of Education because it received $250,000 from 1914 school licenses.

"We are not in the best of shape," said President C. T. Walker of the Board of Education, "but we're still running."

Sales Plan Proving Helpful to Merchant in Holding the Trade

A sales plan that helps the home merchant to hold his home trade cannot fail to succeed. The inducements held out by the mail order houses—the premiums offered for buying their goods—are more than offset by the attractive features offered by The Bee's Merchants' and Manufacturers' voting contest.
