Asks Policeman to Arrest Him Because of Hunger and Cold

Mike Murphy of Denver was arrested early Thursday morning to keep out of jail. Peculiar as that may seem, it is so, for Murphy delivered himself to an officer at Sixteenth and Hurt streets, declaring he would soon be tempted through hunger and exposure to break in some shop and steal and he did not want to be caught and sent to jail.

McClain's Experience with Croup

"When my boy, Ray, was small he was subject to croup, and I was always alarmed at such times. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy proved far better than any other for this trouble. It always relieved him quickly. I can testify without a doubt in the house, for I know it is a positive cure for croup," writes Mrs. W. H. McClain, Blairsville, Pa. If Back Hurts Begin on Salts

Flush your Kidneys occasionally if you eat meat regularly.

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which excites the kidneys, they become overworked from the strain, get sluggish and fail to filter the waste and poisons from the blood, then we get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headache, liver trouble, nervousness, dizziness, sleeplessness and urinary disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, stop eating meat and get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes, and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate the kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.—Advertisement.

MANUFACTURE--

There are two ways of making cars. One says—"Get it done." The other—"Get it done right." Quality production has its virtues—but in quality production, quantity is necessarily a second consideration. Quality production means greater care—more attention to the finer points—close scrutiny of details maintaining a high standard—doing it right. The cost is necessarily greater, but the results are invariably worth the cost—otherwise why should anyone strive to produce a better article. Be sure the maker is just as particular in making his car as you are in buying it. This is one of a series of talks on how to buy an automobile. The complete series containing a wealth of valuable information may be had in booklet form by asking: Marmon Automobile Co. 2101-2103 Farnam Street. Omaha, Neb. C. W. McDonald, Mgr.

AFFAIRS AT SOUTH OMAHA

Miss Gertrude O'Reilly to Speak at High School.

VIEWPOINT OF AN IRISH WOMAN

Frank Brown Back from Texas, Where Greater Part of His Fortune Was Wiped Out by Floods.

Under the auspices of the Woman's Equal Suffrage League, Miss Gertrude O'Reilly of Dublin, Ireland, will speak tonight at the high school auditorium on the "Viewpoint of an Irish Woman." Miss O'Reilly comes here from Chicago, Omaha and Lincoln, in all of which places she has addressed suffrage meetings. Her address was scheduled to have taken place last Sunday afternoon, but an illness caused the committee to postpone the address. Miss O'Reilly is now fully recovered and will entertain the South Omaha audience this evening at 8 o'clock. The meeting will be attended by a number of South Omaha suffragettes and by Omaha supporters of the "cause." No admission will be charged. Miss O'Reilly is expected to find a warm welcome from the many Irish residents of South Omaha. Mrs. G. F. Copper, president of the Equal Franchise League, will preside at the meeting.

Refugee from Texas. Frank Brown, formerly auditor of the Omaha & Council Bluffs street railway, and well known in business affairs of the three cities, has returned to Omaha, a refugee from the Texas floods which visited his home at Arcadia, Tex., some weeks ago. Brown owned a nice plantation, and has been operating it for the last three years. The first two years he had poor luck with his crops, but this year promised to be a big one until the coming of the flood, which wiped out the savings of years.

Mr. Brown is a cousin of A. A. Wright of this city and has many friends here and in Omaha.

No Contracts Let. Although the bids were tabulated and the contracts for city supplies were all ready to be awarded yesterday afternoon when the city council met, that honorable body adjourned after discussing the state of the weather, the condition of the feed and coal markets and a few other matters of similar import. No contracts were let and none will be let until next Monday evening.

Miss Bertha Lichonovsky, stenographer to Mayor Hoctor, learned yesterday that instead of a sprained ankle she had enjoyed the distinction of a broken ankle. She fell a few days ago and was being treated for a strain until the surgeon found that a bone had been fractured. She will be compelled to walk on crutches for some weeks yet. Otherwise she will be able to be at her desk in the city hall.

Burglars Escape. When Swan Larson returned to his home on N street yesterday evening he discovered two negroes leaving his house by way of the back door. As the family was absent, and as the two back doors had been locked, Larson suspected robbery. He found his home ransacked, but nothing taken.

Chief of Detectives James Sheahan and Captain of Police Frank Carey gave chase to the negroes, but Sheahan and Carey in their haste to catch the fleeing burglars gave no thought to a low hung wire in Larson's back yard. Both minions of the law took violent headers into the ground.

Basket Ball Game. South Omaha High school will meet Fremont high school in a basket ball game Friday evening in the South Omaha High school gymnasium at Twenty-fourth and J streets. This will be the third regular game of the Magic City schedule. Last year the local players at Fremont lost the game. This year the lineup for South Omaha will be somewhat changed because of the absence of Captain McBride. Little is known of the size or ability of the Fremont squad this year, but it is expected that South Omaha will put up a hard fight for the game.

The Omaha high school won three victories this year and lost one. But this loss is due to the fact that McBride, captain and forward for South Omaha became sick a few hours before the game started and was unable to play. A preliminary game, probably between the junior and senior teams of the high school, will be played at 7:30 o'clock before the main game.

Magic City Gossp. The Southeast Improvement club will meet Friday night at Madison school. Mrs. A. Gardner of Lincoln is a guest at the club. Mrs. E. E. Emmons this week.

SEARCHING FOR CIVIL WAR VOLUNTEER OFFICERS

Search for surviving volunteer officers of the civil war, now being prosecuted throughout the country by a national association whose membership is drawn from their numbers, has been given an Nebraska twist in the charge of Captain William J. Hahn of Omaha, a well known veteran. Captain Hahn, having found the records at Lincoln deficient, has issued a request that civil war officers communicate with him, the object being the agitation of legislation for retirement of volunteer officers. This so far has been neglected by the government. Captain Hahn's statement follows: "All honorably discharged commissioned officers of the civil war now residing in Nebraska are earnestly requested to communicate with William J. Hahn, 207 McCague building, Omaha, for information of much importance. By decision of the national association, Nebraska papers please copy. Nebraska papers please copy. Sunny Side of Omaha

It happened in the Orpheum theater one night this week. A young lady was before the footlights getting in a few words about the "nighten-ga-ha-ha-ha-ha-ha!" every once in a while between the high notes and the original lowbrow was visibly uncomfortable. The young woman's voice undoubtedly offered evidence of "culture stuff," but the way she ended each audible word with a trilling "aha-ha-ha-ha-ha!" plainly cornered L. L.'s genius capra.

Welsh Not Alarmed at Stage of the River

In spite of the fact that the electric light plant was shut down for nearly an hour Wednesday night on account of the low stage of the river, the Missouri stands at a higher stage than it did a few weeks ago. The weather bureau's observation recorded the river stage at 27 feet above the low water mark, within the last few weeks the measurement has been recorded below one foot. "We always look for a low river stage at this season of the year, and the present low water mark, though very low, does not establish a new low mark, even for the present season. I do not consider the present condition of the river as being alarming," said Colonel Welsh, in charge of the weather bureau here.

DEPUTY CHASES DEMENTED MAN OVER CORN FIELDS

Marquis Glassman, farmer, whose home is three miles west of Benson, shot in the head during the Boer war, in which he fought against the English invaders, was arrested Wednesday on an insanity charge after a cross-country chase of several miles. Deputy Sheriff John Hopkins, former Creighton foot ball star, after following Glassman through corn fields and over country roads, overtook him on a hill near Irvington and brought him to the county jail.

ONLY PART OF THEM WRONG

Nefarious Lawyers Have Been Always Mixed with Good Ones.

GIBBON WRITES OF LONG AGO

Historian Talks About the Times When Rome Supported Unscrupulous Attorneys Just Like Some of Today.

That present day lawyers are no worse than their predecessors of centuries ago, and that The Bee's statement that the local bar association needs a house-cleaning is an indication that a portion of the membership of the bar merely is on the way to the decline in integrity and influence which has been inevitable in every nation in its maturity, is the assertion of a student of history at the court house on the authority of a description of Roman lawyers by the historian Gibbon. Gibbon, writing in dispassionate style, of conditions which existed during the decline of the Roman empire, tells of attorneys who encouraged suits to provide fees; who furnished rich clients with legal subterfuges, and who took their clients through a maze of expense and delay only to leave them after years of litigation with patience and fortune exhausted. The historian thus describes the bar association which needed a house-cleaning at that early date: "But in the decline of Roman jurisprudence, the ordinary promotion of lawyers was pregnant with mischief and disgrace. The noble art, which had once been preserved as the sacred inheritance of the patricians, was falling into the hands of freedmen and plebeians, who, with cunning rather than with skill, exercised a sordid and pernicious trade. Some of them procured admittance into families for the purpose of fomenting differences, of encouraging suits, and of preparing a harvest of gain for themselves or their brethren. Others, recluses in their chambers, maintained the dignity of legal professors, by furnishing a rich client with subtleties to confound the plainest truths, and with arguments to color the most unjustifiable pretensions. The splendid and popular mans were composed of the advocate, who filled the Forum with the sound of their turgid and loquacious rhetoric. Careless of fame and of justice, they are described, for the most part, as ignorant and rapacious guides, who conducted their clients through a maze of expense, of delay and of disappointment; from whence, after a tedious series of years, they were at length dismissed, when their patience and fortunes were almost exhausted."

PRISONER SAYS HE WAS ONLY LICKING A STAMP

Dick and George Armstrong of Des Moines were taken by Officer Timm Wednesday evening for disturbing the peace in the postoffice, where they were trying to tango and drink whiskey at the same time. In police court one of the pair was asked by Judge Foster what they were doing. "Why, Judge, your honor, please, I was only licking a postage stamp," informed the prisoner. "Wrong complaint," declared Foster, glaring at the city prosecutor, "these men should have been arraigned for assault and battery. Discharged." Persistent Advertising is the Road to Big Returns.

Yost Receives Most Votes at Election at Commercial Club

A very complimentary vote was received by C. E. Yost in Wednesday's election of members for the board of directors of the Commercial club. Mr. Yost was honored with the highest vote in the list of 162 names. Mr. Yost's vote was 256. The next highest vote was that of Gould Dietz, who received 232. Then came C. H. Pickens, with 243 and then followed C. H. Wilhelm and P. W. Judson each with 223 votes.

Weather Outlook Not Good for Ice Harvest

Weather prospects for Omaha and vicinity are not encouraging to the unemployed men here who have looked forward with keen anticipation for employment in the ice harvest. Weather reports show a marked rise in the temperature in Wyoming, in some instances the upward trend of the thermometer being more than 30 degrees. The forecast for Omaha is again fair, with little change in temperature. The ice men here are beginning to be uneasy over the prospects for this winter, but Colonel Welsh, local forecaster, yesterday said that the best crops of ice in years past have often been gathered in February. During several winters the lowest temperatures recorded were late in February.
