

CHEESE UP, BUTTER DOWN

Each Product Varies Two Cents in Last Ten Days.

FRESH EGGS ARE COMING NOW

Sugar Down a Little, Flour Steady, While All Pork and Mutton Have Made Good Advances During the Week.

Cheese up and butter down is the anomaly this week in the produce market. For ten days cheese has been climbing up, until all brands of cheese are at least 2 cents a pound higher than they were.

Storage eggs are selling as high as fresh eggs. Storage eggs are said to be somewhat scarce now and fresh eggs are beginning to come in better.

Sugar is down a little and is selling twenty-two pounds for $1. In the opinion of some of the leading grocers it is likely to go still lower.

Flour is standing at about steady prices and has for some months. The best grade is selling at $1.19 for a forty-eight-pound sack.

Canned corn and green and string beans of standard brands are selling at 7 1/2 cents per can. Canned tomatoes are off a trifle, selling now at 5 1/2 cents a can, as compared to 10 cents a month or more ago.

Navy beans that sold at 5 cents a pound straight some time ago, are selling six cents for 2 1/2 cents now. Potatoes are holding steady at $1.25 a bushel.

Apples are high. Fancy apples are selling at $2.75 per bushel box. Barrel stuff is selling at $5.50 per barrel. Oranges are of a better quality this year than they have been for years and have recently jumped 25 cents per box wholesale.

M. and M. Contest is Help to All Against Mail Order Houses

When The Omaha Bee M. & M. voting contest was first announced the public at once accepted it as a real value.

The people of Omaha and the surrounding country know that The Bee stands for high-class advertising—nothing else. A sales plan that offers to consumers an opportunity to secure a share of $6,000 in cash and premiums is one that cannot fail to excite interest.

When you buy the products that carry a voting value you pay the regular price. When you patronize the merchants who give away M. & M. voting coupons you are dealing with men who are enterprising—men who give you the best goods with all the service that a properly conducted store can offer.

"Home goods for home people"—that's the watchword of the M. & M. voting contest. The cheaper variety of household necessities that carry with them a prize offer from some mail order house has no place in the plan outlined by The Bee. The local merchant is your friend.

He is always ready to accommodate you. He is a moving spirit in the community. The Bee is offering you special inducements to patronize him. When you spend your money at home it stays at home. Did you ever think of that when the plausible canvasser asks you to give him an order for goods supplied by a mail order house located in a distant city?

Think it over. Then when you are in the market for those articles that you need every day, go to your local merchant with your patronage. Read the list of dealers who give M. & M. voting coupons. Somewhere in the four districts or in the outlying towns you have a friend, or you know of an organization that is striving for one of these valuable and useful prizes. You can help them. Why not do it?

The Jennie Edmundson Memorial hospital in Council Bluffs is a deserving institution that should have the support of everyone in its home city. Not a label or coupon should be wasted when to save them for the hospital means a substantial aid. The ladies who are on the contest committee will take care of all labels and coupons donated. If you want to help this worthy cause, save all the labels and coupons that you collect. Send them to anyone of these ladies and they will be voted for the Jennie Edmundson Memorial hospital.

Mrs. R. H. Nichols, Shugart apartments, phone 1879; Mrs. E. W. Sprague, 911 Fifth avenue, phone 1623; Mrs. Austin R. Smith, 1109 Fifth avenue, phone Red 1288, will take care of all label donations for the hospital that may be sent to them.

There are, no doubt, certain details that are not entirely clear to all those interested. Won't you call at the contest department and talk the matter over with the contest manager? The room is 224 Bee building. The phone Douglas 3119.

GAS COMPANY REPORTS ON SALES FOR THE YEAR

Total sales of the Omaha Gas company for the year 1913 reached 75,212,046 cubic feet, exclusive of the gas consumed by the city. Total gross receipts of the company for the last quarter of the year were $22,317.47.

A total royalty of $7,011.50 will be paid the city in addition to an occupation tax which for the year amounted to $26,071.74, which was 1 per cent of the gross receipts.

In 1912 the royalty paid was $5,046.17. Colds to Be Taken Seriously. Intelligent people realize that common colds should be treated promptly. Standard Oil Has Motor Spirit Oil Ready for Market

The Standard Oil's motor spirit plant at Casper, Wyo., will be started February 1, with a capacity of 20,000 barrels per month. This is the first plant of its kind west of Indiana and it is said that the entire output for the first six months of the run has been sold.

HOWELL PLANS BETTERMENTS

Water Board Boss Contemplates Spending Million and Half.

ESTIMATES PUT AT $1,531,181 This Sum to Be Spent in the Next Three Years in Addition to the Regular Running Expenses of Plant.

General Manager R. Beecher Howell of the Metropolitan Water district and his board of directors have planned improvements and extensions to cost $1,531,181, work to commence this year and to extend over a period of three years.

The most expensive of the improvements will be rip-rapping and other river protection, to cost $150,000. Two new reservoirs, one at Leocast hill and another at Oak Hill, will cost a total of $22,000.

After several executive board meetings the contemplated improvements were agreed upon and will be submitted at an open meeting of the directors for final sanction.

Some of the improvements will be: Circulating system at Florence, $12,000; lighting system at Florence, $10,000; concrete intake, $20,000; new basin at Florence, $50,000; river protection, $100,000; Mill creek sewer, $12,500; two new boilers and chain cranes, $15,000; enlargement of the Florence station, $30,000; State street crossing connection, $30,000; new high service pumping engine, $70,000; low service engine, $60,000; Poppleton avenue pump, $35,000; coal crushers for Florence, $700; Walnut Hill electric pumps, $50,000; pump hill reservoir and pipe line, $135,000; Oak Hill reservoir and pipe line, $102,000; distributing system, $100,000; weir protection at Florence, $1,200; steam flow meters for Florence, $500; new boiler service pump at Poppleton, $7,000; south basin for Walnut Hill, $50,000.

In addition to these expenditures $50,000 will be set aside for "possible contingencies," $10,000 for intermediate fire hydrants, $5,000 for coagulating house and fittings, $15,000 for baffle wall for basin. General Manager Howell says the expenditures for work now in progress or completed will reach $463,341 for minor improvements, such as ash pits, underground flues and small contractors' pay, including construction completed, in progress and contemplated the general manager and his board announce that within the next three years the grand total of $1,531,181 will be expended, exclusive of the usual maintenance and operation cost.

When you buy the products that carry a voting value you pay the regular price. When you patronize the merchants who give away M. & M. voting coupons you are dealing with men who are enterprising—men who give you the best goods with all the service that a properly conducted store can offer.

Sheriff McShane Declares He Knew Nothing of Resort

That Sheriff Felix McShane never knew of the existence of a resort at 414 North Fourteenth street, was his comment on the tragedy that occurred there.

The sheriff was asked how it was possible for such a place to "run wide open" when he was elected by the voters as a result of pledges that he would enforce the law regardless of the action of the police department.

"I had no idea there was a resort there," he said. "No, I do not know of the whereabouts of any other such places."

County Attorney Magney said if the Fourteenth street resort attempted to re-open he would start prosecution under the Albert law.

FARMERS PREPARING TO PLANT IMMENSE CROPS

District Passenger Agent North of the Illinois Central is in from an extended trip over his territory, which includes Nebraska and South Dakota. He reports business with the country merchants from 25 to 50 per cent better than when he covered the same territory in November and early December. All through the two states farmers are preparing to put out an immense crop next spring and the ground is in prime condition they are anticipating good results.

Throughout Mr. North's territory stock has wintered well and up to this time the losses have been the lightest in years. In fact, no animals have died except from natural causes.

Mr. North found the movement south the lightest in years, people going upon the theory that with such a winter as has been general in the Missouri valley there is no use of going elsewhere for climate. However, during the last half of the month and during February he is looking for a fairly heavy travel to Florida and Cuba, provided there is a spell of cold weather. If the cold weather does not put in an appearance the business south will be even lighter than now.

JOHN H. DE JONG AND MISS A. TRENBERTH MARRY

A marriage, which was a surprise not only to friends of the couple, but also to the bride herself, because she had always maintained she would never marry, was performed Thursday evening at the Paxton hotel. John H. DeJong, manager of the Apperson Auto company, married Miss Alice Trenberth, cashier for the concern. The wedding makes a life partnership out of what had been a close business association for the last seven years. Rev. Edwin Hart Jenks performed the ceremony, with six close friends of the couple attending. An elaborate supper was served afterward. No honeymoon will be taken now, as the newlyweds say "their commercial interests cannot be left at this season. They plan to go south to Atlanta, Ga., in May."

Those attending the wedding and supper were: Mr. and Mrs. Henry Krueger, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Goulding, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hayward.

HOTEL BIDS ARE TOO HIGH

Returns Made by Contractors More Than the Available Funds.

SOME CUTS MUST BE MADE

Owners to Meet Saturday Morning to Decide What is to Be Done in Order to Make Both Ends Meet.

Because all bids for the erection of the new Fontenelle hotel are greater than the funds available for the purpose and because the conference of the owners, architect and leasee have not yet agreed on what to cut out of the plans to reduce the cost of erection, the contract for the work has not been let. A meeting of the directors of the Douglas Hotel company, which will own the new building, has been called by Secretary A. L. Reed for this morning at 11 o'clock at the Omaha National bank, when the three lowest bids with the alternatives acceptable to William R. Burbank, the leasee, will be reported and a contract chosen.

The elimination of one entire bedroom floor from the plans, the reduction of the number of bathrooms from 200 to about half that number, the postponement of finishing one or two floors until more money is available and a number of lesser alternatives are being considered by the conference at Architect Kimball's office.

To Reduce Cost. One or more of these schemes will have to be adopted in order to reduce the cost of construction to a figure that can be handled with the funds at the command of the owners. These consist of first mortgage bonds of $400,000, preferred stock of $400,000 and second issue preferred stock of $100,000, making a total of $900,000.

The amount actually available for payment to the builders is between $50,000 and $100,000 less than that, says Mr. Reed. The architect's fee of $60,000 or $50,000 and the cost of excavating, indemnifying insurance, operating and organization of the owning company must be deducted from the original $900,000 before the money available for erection is determined.

"All the bids submitted exceed the amount of our pile," said Mr. Reed at noon. "We therefore have to cut down the cost of erection by cutting out one of the floors, or making savings in plumbing or finish."

Plans Not Changed. "Our plans for an absolutely fireproof building, with perfect foundation and steel work, will not be altered."

Only three contracting firms are now in the running for the big job, according to Secretary Reed, although eleven firms signified their intention to bid. He refuses to say which firms stand a chance of getting the contract, but admits that one of the following five, whose representatives remain in Omaha, will probably receive the award: Central Engineering company, Davenport; J. C. Mardis construction company, Omaha; and Des Moines; James Stewart & Co., New York; Chicago and St. Louis; Selden-Breck Construction company, St. Louis; Westlake Construction company, St. Louis.

Of the other six bidders, one decided not to submit figures, two others failed to get their bids in on time, and three were too high to be in the running, Mr. Reed says.

"Not a single floor will be cut out of the plans for the Fontenelle," William R. Burbank, the leasee, said very emphatically yesterday. "That is something which I shall have something to say about and I will not stand for it."

The hotel will be built as originally planned, so far as the essentials are concerned. Any alternatives that are decided upon will not detract in the slightest degree from the fitness and completeness of the building, or from the extent and thoroughly up-to-date character of its accommodations.

Although Secretary Reed of the hotel company has expressed himself as believing that no more money for the building will be raised, it is said that other directors favor increasing the available fund to equal the amount of the lowest bid, rather than cutting down the cost of the job by eliminations or alterations in construction.

WARM WEATHER PREVAILS ALL OVER WYOMING

According to the weather reports to the railroads a Chinook wind is sweeping down through Wyoming, a number of points in that state registering 40 to 60 degrees above zero at 8 o'clock Friday morning. At that hour a brisk and warm wind was blowing from the west.

There was a peculiar weather condition existing in the Basin country. At the town of Basin when the thermometer reading was made the registration was 45 degrees above, while at Greybull, twenty miles distant and a town with about the same altitude the mercury was down to zero.

Lothrop School is Closed Because of Smallpox Exposure

Lothrop school has been closed because of several exposures to smallpox. The building is being fumigated. The school was closed by order of Health Commissioner H. W. Connell. Health authorities are straining every effort to prevent a contagion.

Scarlet fever, diphtheria and pneumonia are ravaging the ranks of the young, with pneumonia proving unusually fatal and surprisingly prevalent among babies.

The following deaths were reported to the city health office Friday: Eight-month-old son of Thomas J. Roach, 214 South Nineteenth street, pneumonia; Joseph, 13-year-old son of John Lafferter, died of diphtheria and scarlet fever at city emergency hospital; 6-month-old son of C. H. Rupp, 213 North Twenty-first street, diphtheria; 1-year-old daughter of G. R. Russell, died of whooping cough.
