

IOWA SUGAR FACTORY CLOSES

Big Institution at Waverly Will No Longer Continue.

PAID OUT MUCH FOR BEETS

Meeting of Republicans Demonstrated Flight on Ticket Will Do No Good and Peace Likely to Prevail.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) DES MOINES, Jan. 17.—(Special)—No longer will it be said that Iowa has at least one sugar factory. It has been decided that the big factory at Waverly, which has been in operation four or five years, must be closed because of the enormous reduction in the market price of sugar. The manager is out in a hurry to get the factory closed, and announces that no more contracts for sugar beets will be asked of the farmers. The factory closed down a short time ago after a rather successful season, though the price of the product had reduced the profits. After investigation of the immediate prospect for the future it was decided not to open this year, and unless something happens to make sugar prices better it will not be reopened. The plant cost $600,000 and the company has paid out $1,500,000 for beets, labor and transportation. Over 700 farmers will be affected. There had been plans made for other factories in the state, but now all are abandoned.

Plea for Wards of State.

Chairman McCullough of the State Board of Control, at a big banquet here made an appeal to the people of the state for sympathy and assistance for the state in the big problem of handling the defective, delinquent and mentally deranged classes. He pointed out that it is impossible for the state to care for all these people without the help of society. There are the hundreds of orphans at the state home who ought to be in good homes. The persons paroled from the industrial schools ought to have help from all the people. Those paroled from the hospitals and reformatories should be encouraged and not treated as outcasts. He urged that here was a great opportunity for the people of the state to give practical aid for those who are entrusted with the care of the state's wards.

Synopsis of Opinions of the Jeffery Dealers of the Country.

TARIFF HAS BUT LITTLE EFFECT

Expect Business to Pick Up by the First of Next Month, with the Buying Heavy, but Conservative.

A careful canvass of more than 600 responsible dealers identified with the Jeffery organization throughout the United States soliciting their opinion of the present business situation has just been completed by E. S. Jeffery, sales manager in charge of the distribution of the new Jeffery four and six. The widespread character of the information gathered in this canvass is assured owing to the fact that the Jeffery company has responsible dealers in towns of all sizes in every state in the union. The reliability of the information was made certain by the character of the questions asked and the insistence of the Jeffery company upon the dealer corroborating his own judgment by asking the judgment of other people in other lines of trade. The result is interesting to all students of economics, bankers, business men and quite likely to the administration at Washington. The conclusions reached are as follows: 'The revision of the tariff has had very little effect with the increased conservatism of bankers, manufacturers and property owners. 'The farmer, upon whom the prosperity of the country largely depends, has not been affected except by rumor. He has lots of money and will buy in the spring, but not extravagantly. 'The sentiment west of Philadelphia among automobile dealers and buyers has changed but slightly within the year. In the east the opinion of Wall street has more weight and people are not buying so many expensive cars. 'Except for the conservatism of bankers in extending credit to dealers the motor car business, as far as the substantial companies are concerned, will be just as big as last year. 'Since 1910 people have been overbuying a little, with the result that they feel the necessity of saving more. 'The first effect upon the motor car industry is shown in the decreased sale of heavy cars and the increased sale of medium-priced light cars that are economical. 'The passage of the currency bill has relieved a great deal of tension as far as loans from small town banks is concerned, as they were holding up apparently waiting for the big city banks to pass the bill along. 'New companies and new capital are being put into the motor car business in cities all through the country, but the demand is for medium-priced light cars of quality. 'There is every indication that the period of retrenchment, while it may extend through the month of January, will be relieved by better business in February, with the opening up in all lines with the opening of spring. 'The motor car industry as a whole will be benefited rather than injured by the conservatism of the last two months, as it will eliminate from the field undesirable elements which always have been detrimental to the progress of the conservative and more business-like companies.'

Reply to Ripley by Thorne.

Clifford Thorne has written another reply to President E. P. Ripley in their controversy over the profits of the railroads. He has presented statistics gathered from a report of the railroads showing that the net operating revenue of the railroads last year was $1,235,000,000, while the previous year it was $1,355,000,000 and in 1908 it was only $1,111,000,000. He declares that the earnings above operating expenses of the American railroads last year were more than $600,000,000 more than they were fifteen years ago and they have troubled since the organization of the Interstate Commerce Commission. He therefore refutes the claim of Mr. Ripley that the railroads have been badly treated.

SORRY HE ESCAPED DEATH TO MARRY WOMAN LATER

CHICAGO, Jan. 17.—Albert Horawill who says he was in charge of the last lifeboat to leave the Titanic and the only man among the forty-five women and children in the emergency craft, told Judge Uhlir in court here today that he is unable to support his wife. Horawill, 23 years old, married a girl 18 years old last November and deserted her a week after the wedding. 'It would have been better if I had gone down with the Titanic,' said Horawill. 'I'm working in a warehouse but can't make enough to support one, let alone two.'

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Jan. 17.—Union men have the right to picket if they do so peacefully and do not use boisterous language or conduct themselves in an obnoxious way. Judge Ralph S. Lathaw decided today in the criminal court. He reversed a decision of the municipal court, in which four union barbers were fined $100 each for picketing a nonunion shop. Since the killing of the owner of a non-union barber here, December 17, last, the police have been arresting pickets.

'Kodak Trust' the Latest Seeking to Evade Prosecution

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—The 'Kodak Trust' is the latest of the great corporations, sued under the Sherman anti-trust act, to seek a peaceful settlement of its troubles with the Department of Justice. Negotiations between representatives of the so-called trust and the department have progressed so rapidly that an agreement probably will be reached within a short time. Suit was begun against the Eastman Kodak company of New Jersey and Eastman Kodak company of New York at Buffalo last June. Answer was made by the defendants and the taking of testimony by the government is near completion. Settlement of the suit may be reached either by an agreement out of court, similar to that with the American Telephone and Telegraph company in the form of a 'consent decree' registered in a federal court. The success of the agreement plan so far has inclined officials to favor it in this case. The two Eastman concerns were charged with controlling 72 per cent of the trade of the United States in photographic supplies, and with fixing the resale price of cameras, films and other patented articles. It was the first suit instituted by Attorney General Clegg, applying the principle announced by the supreme court, denying the right to patentees to fix resale prices for retailers.

Bandit and Deputy Fight Duel on Train

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 17.—A bandit boarded a Western & Atlantic passenger train at Vinings, Ga., tonight, robbed passengers in one of the coaches of several hundred dollars and after engaging in a pistol duel with a deputy sheriff who was on board jumped from the train at Bolton, Ga. Authorities at Bolton, which is seven miles west of Atlanta, arrested a man said to answer the description of the bandit. The train runs from Chattanooga to Atlanta, and most of the passengers were residents of Chattanooga and intermediate towns. As the train passed through Vinings shortly after 7 o'clock a man entered the chair car, drew a pistol and began to collect valuables from the passengers. He had robbed more than a score when C. C. Heard, an Atlanta deputy, who was returning from Rome, Ga., opened fire upon him. Half a dozen shots were exchanged. Heard being slightly wounded. The bandit swung from the train as it slowed down at Bolton and disappeared. The robber did not enter the express or mail cars. The amount stolen from passengers is believed to have been small, although one man reported he gave up $300.

SEATTLE, Wash., Jan. 17.—Members of the Delta Tau Delta fraternity of the University of Washington were officially notified today by President Landes that they would not be permitted to occupy the costly club house they had just built adjoining the sorority house of the Gamma Phi Beta. The young collegians were notified when the plans were being drawn that they must choose another site for the building, farther away from the girl's home, but went ahead in the hope that the university officials would relent.

Driver Unconscious, Train with Magnates Aboard Keeps Going

BALTIMORE, Jan. 17.—With the engineer unconscious, from a fractured skull, the New York and St. Louis Express to the Baltimore and Ohio railroad sped over the rails for a brief time today without a controlling hand on the throttle. President Willard and other officials of the road were aboard the train. The plight of the engineer, J. H. Moxley of Baltimore was discovered by the foreman of locomotives who was riding on the engine and had his attention attracted to Moxley by the latter's failure to blow a crossing signal. The train was stopped and examination disclosed the nature of the man's injuries. It is believed he was struck on the head by a piece of ice or a rock falling from a cliff. Moxley was rushed to the hospital in a special train. His condition is critical.

Criticized for Not Giving Oake Notice, Does the Hari Kari

TOKIO, Jan. 17.—The suicide today by Hari kari of the chief of the meteorological observatory at Kagoshima is announced in the newspapers here. The dispatches declare that the scientist committed suicide because he had been severely criticized for failing to warn the citizens of Kagoshima of their danger from the eruption of the volcano Sakurajima. He assured them, it is said, that the center of the subterranean disturbance was elsewhere. Shocks Are Felt. KAGOSHIMA, Japan, Jan. 17.—Although the volcano Sakurajima was not active today, severe earthquake shocks were felt in the towns of Tarumizu and Ushio, in the province of Osumi, which lies across Kagoshima bay to the east. The inhabitants fled in terror. There were many casualties. Numerous houses were destroyed. In various places the movement of the earth caused large crevices. The large quantities of lava and rock thrown out by Sakurajima have formed a neck which connects the island on which it is situated with the province of Osumi, a distance of about a mile.

Projected General Strike in the Rand Has Been Abandoned

CAPETOWN, Jan. 17.—Although strict press censorship under martial law makes difficult the hearing of accurate news concerning the strike situation it is known the railway strike is almost ended. That the situation at the mines is improving and that the projected general strike has been abandoned. The government, however, is determined to maintain martial law and keep the 'Burgers' mobilized until normal conditions are restored. Among amusing mistakes made during the operation of martial law was the arrest today of the mayor of Pretoria while he was engaged with a strike committee endeavoring to induce them to have their men return to work. The zeal of the burghers also has resulted in the arrest without proper authority of hundreds of peaceful citizens.

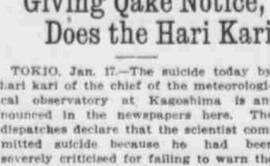

Klopp Loses in Suit for Possession

A decision which is expected by lawyers to alter greatly the government of corporations in Nebraska was rendered by Judge Troup yesterday, when he decided adversely the second suit brought by A. T. Klopp, president of the Klopp & Bartlett Printing company, to regain his lost control of the business. Judge Troup held that, under the Nebraska constitution every holder of a share of stock, whether common or preferred, is entitled to vote and have a voice in the selection of directors. It is said that in Omaha there are many corporations governed by authority of the common stockholders, as was the case with the Klopp & Bartlett company, prior to the reorganization last year. Klopp claimed that he by mistaken legal advice was induced to readjust the distribution of stock in the company. His request that the reorganization be set aside was denied for the legal advice upon which he acted was sustained by the judge's opinion. Judge Troup ruled that the rights of preferred shareholders of corporations may not be given up by agreement and that directors may not be legally elected in any other manner than that prescribed by the constitution.
