dragay, and during the first couple of hours not much of anything was done. Buyers held out for the decline, how-ever, and as there did not appear to be any chance for values to Firengthen up sellers finally began to cut loose at prices that were fully a dime lower. Up to this time activities had been confined solely to the good hogs, buyers in the majority of cases retusing to even make a bid on the commoner grades. As the morning advanced prices did brace up a very little in spots, but the general market showed little change from the common grades, and during the early prices. As was the case on the early part of the foremoon not much of anything was done with them. Later on buyers did make bids on the light hogs, but in most cases sellers were too low, so that al midding there were still a number of loads in first hands. On the whole the market can be quoted as a bine lower. Bulk of the sellers was NEW YORK STOCK MARKET Dealings on Enlarged Scale and

Prices on Board of Trade. CHICAGO, Jan. 21.—Shrinkage worse than at any previous time this season appeared today in estimates of the Ar-gentine exportable surplus of wheat. Prices here made a corresponding ad-vance and closed steady with a gain of $254c to $429%c net. Other leading sta-ples all finished at loss compared with the night before, corn $42%67%c, oats a shade to $6c, and provisions 2%20c. Revised figures frim threshers brought the probable yield of wheat in Argentina down to where the margin for export could not be put at more than $6,00000 bushels, as against 105,000,000 bushels a year ago. The effect of this bullish news was increased by dread that the cold wave northwest of Chicago might spread over the winter crop belt and cause a dangerous sudden freeze. Improved European Comand for wheat here and elsewhere throughout the west as well as at the eastern seaboard gave prices an additional life, which, however, failed to last, the bulge having led to a leading firm. Nevertheless, the dip from top figures was kept within %c, and was hot regarded by the bulls as more than what might naturally have been ex-pected. Batements that the number of meat 37%c.

Iteading firm. Nevertheless, the dip from top figures was kept within %c, and was not trans that might naturally have been expected.
 Statements that the number of meat producing animals on farms had decreased 5 to 7 per cent as compared with last year tended materially to pull down the price of corn. The market made only a temporary response to early advices that the Argentine crop was failing to maintain recent high promise. Oats weakened with corn. Selling from commission houses developed as soon as prices had shown a little upturn.
 Provisions regained much of a decline due to more liberal receipts of hogs than expected. The rally came about in corn. sequence of the reported falling off in the total of meat producing animals on farms.
