RIOTING IN CAPE HAITIEN

Commander of Gunboat Nashville Lands Eighty Marines.

REQUEST OF FOREIGN CONSULS

Davilmar Theodore, Leader of the Faction Defeated at Gonaves, Trying to Set Up Government in Haiti.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—Rioting and pillage broke out in Cape Haitien yesterday to such an extent that Commander Hostwick of the gunboat Nashville landed eighty men to protect lives and property of foreign residents.

Commander Hostwick took action at the request of foreign consuls. Instructions to his landing force were to protect Americans, all foreigners and their property. Davilmar Theodore, who had proclaimed himself provisional president before his defeat at Gonaves at the hands of the Zamor Brothers, is trying to set up a government at Cape Haitien, where he retreated after the battle. He has appointed a cabinet, but according to Commander Hostwick's report, appears to be losing control of his forces. Latest reports from Captain Russell of the battleship South Carolina at Port Au Prince expressed apprehension for the safety of the city. However, he reports no organized efforts to expel the foreign naval forces policing the city, though his earlier reports indicated a disposition by natives generally at the presence of the sailors and marines ashore.

A committee on safety, headed by an American resident at Port Au Prince, representing foreign residents and principal business men of the community, also requested the landing of naval forces and asked to have rebel army now advancing on Port Au Prince excluded until some form of government can be organized.

Captain Russell is expected to carry out the request if it becomes necessary in his judgment to protect life and property in view of the threats by rebel leaders.

supplied with arms from the United States, the government at Washington is bound to impose respect for the lives and property of foreigners in Mexico.

Calls It Declaration of War.

LONDON, Feb. 6.—While "respect for his high character and fine ideals" moves the Globe to wish President Wilson well out of his troubles in connection with Mexico, Peru and Haiti, whose "blood-stained" administration challenges the president's policy of nonrecognition, it nevertheless continues:

"The expedition of sanctioning and supporting civil war in a neighboring state is a declaration of war in a form which can hardly be reconciled with the comity of nations. The danger of the situation from the point of view of the United States is that there is no restraint with honor from the uncompromising, impracticable, position President Wilson has taken up."

Exiled Mexican Millionaire Will Operate Small Farm.

EL PASO, Tex., Feb. 6.—His immense income had up by three years of exiles, Alberto Terrazas of the family whose name in Mexico is a synonym for great wealth, has been compelled to seek a means of livelihood.

This information, astounding in Mexico and along the Rio Grande border as similar news affecting a Rockefeller or a Vanderbilt would be in the United States, became known today with his departure for Pasadena, Cal. He was accompanied by his family, but not the usual horde of servants.

Near Pasadena, Terrazas expects to buy or lease a small farm where he can make a modest living. He is one of those who see no immediate prospects of peace in his native land, and until tranquility is restored the income of the vast Terrazas family fortune, estimated at $5,000,000 to $10,000,000 in American gold, will be tied up. Even in the event of peace it may be lost.

"I do not mind going to work; it may be a good thing," he said to his friends before his departure, and then smiled at his own remarks, for his prodigality with money has been a story, chapters of which have been written on two continents.

Now, according to himself, he is to labor for bread and butter. He learned much of farming and the breeding of horses and cattle on his own ranches, and his friends say he will be able to hold his own in wrestling an income from the soil.

The Terrazas fortune was founded by Don Luis Terrazas, now an octogenarian refugee in this city, in land grants from President Juarez and President Porfirio Diaz. These holdings, immense as they were, have been augmented constantly until now, as train schedules are in Mexico, it would take a passenger train, making the usual stops, three days to travel the boundaries of this domain. It stretches from Juarez, 375 miles south to Jimenez, and west to Casas Grandes. On it are whole towns, many hamlets, mines, factories and fertile farms. All this was the property of the senior Terrazas and his three sons: Juan, now in the City of Mexico; Luis, Jr., held at Chihuahua as a hostage by the rebels, and Alberto, until the rebels declared the whole estate confiscated.

the east, enroute west and northwest, were much less, falling constantly in facing the strong head wind. Freight trains moved slowly and no attempt was made to send out perishable commodities.

Street railway traffic was not interfered with, owing to the fact that the snow was light and snow plows were run over the lines at frequent intervals during the day, keeping the tracks clear.

Below Zero All Over.

But two points in Nebraska reported warmer weather today. These points were Nebraska City and Strang. At the former, in the southeast corner of the state, the temperature was 2 degrees above, and at Strang, pretty near the southwest corner, it was 4 above.

Covering a wide area of country in Nebraska and Wyoming and Kansas, the Burlington has received reports from more than 100 of its agents and those of Wyoming and Colorado. On the Billings line from Sheridan north, a number of agents reported 20 below at 7 o'clock; with indications that it was rapidly growing colder. South of Sheridan it was a little warmer, but down as far as Alliance 2 to 20 and 24 below were pretty general. Down through the sand hill country and at Burwell it was 15 below, while down along the south Platte line in the southern part of Nebraska temperatures ranged from 10 to 18, with 20 below at Sidney.

Singing Weather.

The Northwestern rail singing weather all through northern Nebraska and across Wyoming. From Fremont to Norfolk the range of temperature was from 8 to 12 below; from Norfolk to Long Pine, 10 to 22, and from Long Pine to Winner 22 to 26, with 24 to 28 around Lincoln, S. D., and up in the Black Hills.

Along the Nebraska lines of the Union Pacific temperatures ranged from 4 to 24 below, with a little lower temperature up the North Platte branch. Along the main line out at North Platte it was close to 24 below, while across Wyoming and Colorado there was a temperature with a range between 20 and 24 below.

Even down in Kansas, at McDonald and Ellis it was 8 below, said to be the record of ten years.

Big Drops Recorded.

At North Platte a drop of 23 degrees in the temperature Thursday night gave them 14 below zero Friday mornings, while Cheyenne, Wyo., reported 29 degrees below zero. Valentine had a minimum of 30 below at 7 o'clock in the morning, while Huron, S. D., registered 44 degrees below zero. Sioux City reported a minimum of 8 below zero, with the mercury steadily falling.

Six Below at Lincoln.

LINCOLN, Neb., Feb. 6.—The storm which started early yesterday in western Nebraska and swept over the entire state during the night reached the proportions of a blizzard here this morning, with the temperature at 6 below zero. Heavy snow, accompanied by a high wind, fell over the entire state, and western Nebraska points report temperatures from 12 to 15 degrees below. At Homestead, Neb., the temperature was 13 degrees below, and North Platte reports that the thermometer has fallen to 12 below.

Railroad traffic is delayed, and in the western part of the state several trains are reported snowbound. Telephone and telegraph service has been interrupted but little.

LOVE AND DOUBLE TRAGEDY

Young Man Shoots Girl and Commits Suicide in Automobile.

NOTE FOUND IN HIS POCKET

Had Sent Letter to Young Woman in Another Town Saying He Would Kill Other Girl and Himself.

GREENSBURG, Pa., Feb. 6.—Love for two 16-year-old girls, neither of whom knew of the other's existence, prompted John McFadden to kill Anna Lutz and himself, Pa., early today. McFadden, who had taken the girl for a ride late last night, telephoned his employer here that he would never see him again, and men in high-power machines were sent hurrying over the mountains to find him. They came on the automobile by the roadside, its engine still running, and McFadden and the girl dead. In McFadden's pocket was a note saying that Bertha Milligan, at Lambert, Pa., could tell the cause of the tragedy. To copier H. A. McMurray the girl said McFadden had written her a letter yesterday, telling her he was going to kill "the other girl" and himself.

THREE MEN FROZEN TO DEATH

Tragedy Follows Carousal in Chicago Crib.

CHICAGO, Feb. 6.—Search for the bodies of three men drowned among the ice floes of Lake Michigan a few hundred yards from the fashionable North Shore residence district last night was abandoned this morning when it was found that the pack ice was too heavy for tugs to break through. A few fragments of their shattered skull are in plain sight from shore.

The victims, William Cannell, keeper of the half-mile intake crib; "Lefty" Williams, his assistant, and Stephen Varley, lost their lives as a sequel to a day of merrymaking with two women friends at the crib. It was learned today, when the two women, who were taken from the crib late last night by a fire tug after a five hours' battle with the ice, consented to give their real names and tell their story.

They are Mrs. May Smith, 31 years old, and Miss Margaret Wade. Mrs. Smith said she was Cannell's cousin. They said they had been enjoying themselves all day at the crib and that the three men had made several trips ashore for provisions. It was on the last trip, just at nightfall, that their boat overturned and was crushed by the ice. The men clung to the ice and called for help for nearly two hours. Crows on shore shouted encouragement, automobile lights were brought, a line throwing station and apparatus from the life saving station and appeals were sent to the city departments for tugs.

Two kiffs manned by volunteers made futile attempts to chop their way through. It took the fire tug five hours to reach the scene and long before that the men's cries had ceased.

CHANGES IN LAWS ASKED BY GOETHALS ATTACKED

NEW YORK, Feb. 6.—Application for an injunction restraining Mayor Mitchell from advocating measures in the state legislature increasing the power of police commissioner, as suggested by Colonel George W. Goethals, the mayor's choice for commissioner, was filed today in the supreme court by the editor of the civil service newspaper, Joseph J. O'Reilly.

One of the conditions under which Colonel Goethals recently told the mayor that he might accept the commissionership, was that he should be given the power of removing subordinates without court review.

To this O'Reilly, whose paper circulates largely among policemen, specifically objects.

MURDER CHARGE AGAINST GREENDIN IS DISMISSED

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Feb. 6.—A charge of wife murder against John H. Greendin, a chemist, formerly of Waterville, Me., was dismissed today by Police Judge Joseph Chambers on the ground that the state had not established a case.

Mrs. Zella Greendin was found dying October 20 last in her home, with a tube discharging gas into a hat box which fitted over her head. After 17 days Greendin exhibited a note signed with her name announcing her intention to commit suicide so that he could go to the woman he loved. The state contended this note was a forgery, but it was not brought into evidence.

WILL REACH ATLANTIC SEABOARD BY SUNDAY MORNING

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—"The severest winter of the year is now prevailing in the upper Mississippi valley and the plains states, as far south as Oklahoma and the panhandle of Texas," the weather bureau, in a special bulletin, announced today. "Temperature at Havre, Mont., this morning was 42 degrees below zero, and zero or lower prevailed as far south as the Kansas-Oklahoma line. The unusually low readings have been attended by snow, high winds and gales."

"East of the Mississippi there have been numerous thunder showers in the southern states and snow in the northern regions. Thus far the snow has been comparatively light, but indications point to heavy snow in the lake regions and northern New England."

"The cold wave will overspread the east gulf states, the middle Mississippi valley and the lower Ohio valley in the next twenty-four hours, and will reach the Atlantic coast by Sunday morning."

Southern Women in Worse Fear of Negro Than Indian of Yore

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—After another debate on the race question, the senate agreed to vote tomorrow on the final passage of the Lever agricultural extension bill.

Senator Gallinger started today's argument with a statement in favor of the Jones amendment to provide that negro agricultural colleges in the south shall share in the administration of the proposed fund for farm demonstration. This brought forth extended remarks upon the negro by Senator Vardaman, who declared it would be a godsend if the negro was not permitted to vote in any state. He added that the republican party was getting tired of the black in politics, and was considering a way to get him out of the national conventions.

Describing present conditions in the "black belt" of the Mississippi senator said the women of the southern states were living today in a state of siege with more dread than in the days when the wild man and wild beast roamed the frontier.

"And yet," he added, "some men who know no more about the subject than I do about the political economy of the planet Mars would tell you all about the negro problem."

Possibility of the extension of the strike to other trades was discussed during the day by the employes.
