Omaha council No. 622 of the Knights of Columbus will initiate a large class today. The candidates and members will attend mass at 10:30 a. m. at St. Mary's Magdalene's church. Dinner will be given noon, after which they will be taken to the Swedish auditorium. Sixteenth and Chicago streets. Three degrees will be exemplified, the first starting at 2 p. m. sharp. This class, numbering sixty odd, will be one of the largest ever initiated in Omaha. The exercises are under the supervision of the officers of Omaha council No. 622.

Independent Order of Odd Fellows.

A district meeting of the grand lodge will convene at the Swedish Auditorium, Sixteenth and Chicago streets, at 2:30 next Wednesday afternoon. The program for the afternoon will include the conferring of the past grand and grand lodge degrees upon a large class of candidates and the transaction of a number of special orders of business. In the evening Wassa lodge, No. 183, will take charge and open the session in the third degree. Beginning promptly at 7 o'clock Beacon lodge, No. 20, will exemplify the initiatory degree, which will be followed by the first degree, put on by Omaha lodge, No. 2; this is the team that made such a hit with the first degree at the grand lodge session in Lincoln last October. A series of tableaux will then be given by the members of the Omaha, No. 2, first degree staff, which will be followed by the second degree, exemplified by Wassa lodge, No. 183, and the third degree by Jonathan lodge, No. 275, of Florence. Following the degree work the secret work will be exemplified, and after a few short addresses by officers of the grand lodge a banquet will be served. Arrangements have been made with the street car company to have cars in waiting to accommodate all of those in attendance, even if the session does not adjourn until 2 o'clock in the morning. All Odd Fellows are invited to be present at the evening session and accommodations have been provided for six or seven hundred. The session will be in charge of Grand Master John of Grand Island. The lodges participating in the session are Omaha, No. 2; State, No. 19; Beacon, No. 20; South Omaha, No. 148; Wassa, No. 183; Dannebrog, No. 24; Benson, No. 221; Jonathan, No. 231, and the lodges at Louisville, Valley and Tolson. At its last meeting Ruth Rebekah lodge No. 1 presented a program of unusual merit. A scene from "The Gleaners" was given, in which Miss Grace Pool sang the title roll and in a manner that showed her to be the possessor of a rare and well trained contralto voice; Mrs. Bralley and Miss Anna Kuppang sang solos in this scene. Readings were given by Messrs. Justin and Swiney and a number of living pictures were given illustrating scenes in Bible history. The Odd Fellows' social club of Florence will give a dance at Odd Fellows' hall, Florence, next Saturday evening. A district meeting of the grand lodge was held at Seward last Monday afternoon and evening, with 300 members in attendance. Grand Master Frank John presided over the session and conducted a question box for the information of those in attendance. A. R. Des Jardins of Lincoln delivered a talk on Odd Fellowship that made a big hit. In the evening the first, second and third degrees were conferred upon a class of nineteen candidates by a joint degree team from Capitol lodge No. 11 and Lincoln lodge No. 128 of Lincoln. After the degree work a number of short addresses were made by prominent Odd Fellows and the meeting was closed at 2 o'clock the following morning with a buffet lunch. The officers of the grand lodge report this as being one of the best district grand lodge meetings ever held in the state.

In her former petition Mrs. Novak declared that her husband owned their handsome home at 212 William street as well as other property in Omaha and owned two ranches in Tehama county, California.

Mr. and Mrs. Novak were married at Lincoln, November 5, 1907.
