

TOPICS FOR A DAY OF REST

Special "Go-to-Church" Program at Lowe Avenue Church.

MUSICALS AT NORTH CHURCH

Free-Lent Service to be Held at Church of the Good Shepherd by the Members of the Choir.

One of the first buildings to pass with the Easter tornado coming up from the southwest was a little Methodist church—Jennings church—standing away out in the southwest corner of the city. Together with the homes of many of its members it was left a mass of ruins in the wake of the wind. But the membership and the spirit of the little church survived. Now the rebuilding of the church is nearing completion and the membership and the spirit are more alive than ever and planning big things when, under the leadership of the pastor, Rev. Mr. Smith, the house of worship is open again. In the meantime meetings have been held in the homes of the good people. One of the features of the church is a "Y. E. U.", which taken out of its code meaning, is a Young People's branch of the Woman's Christian Temperance union. It is a fine, wide-awake body of young folks, meeting regularly in the homes, having good programs and doing much, materially and otherwise, to help along the fortunes of the little church that suffered so much. These young folks are planning to help in the refurbishing of the new church. Last night they held their meeting at the home of Mrs. Horace C. Claggett, 489 Pierce street.

Sunday will be "Go-to-Church Sunday" at the Lowe Avenue Presbyterian church. Special sermons will be given Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock, Mrs. H. J. Where City of Omaha Houses Thousands of Dollars in Rare Flowers

Seventy thousand dollars worth of flowers and fine shrubbery are cared for by Park Commissioner J. B. Hummel in Hanscom park alone, where three new greenhouses have been erected at a cost of $9,000 to protect the plants in winter. Part of this collection of floral beauty was donated by Mrs. George A. Joslyn after the tornado had greatly damaged her flower gardens and greenhouses last year. The collection of rare orchids and other plants donated is valued at $30,000. Great care must be exercised by the park commissioner in housing the tender plants in freezing weather. Caretakers constantly watch over the plants, and when spring comes the large number of shrubs and flowers transplanted to the flower beds in the parks require the services of several men. More money has been expended to beautify Hanscom park with flowers and shrubbery than any other park in the city, but Park Commissioner Hummel has spent several thousand dollars for trees and plants for the other parks and for boulevards. The permanent boulevards of the city are being lined with maple trees and birch, and the park commissioner is gradually improving the landscapes in the other parks and the vacant lands held by the city. In addition to the shrubbery, flowers and trees planted in the parks, Commissioner Hummel, although handicapped by insufficient funds, has made many other permanent improvements, including drinking fountains, public comfort stations, new cement sidewalks, playgrounds and play apparatus.

OMAHA GIRLS AS MERMAIDS

Juniors at Smith College Take Part in Annual Frolic.

FLIRT WITH DEATH OVER FALLS

Misses Bianche Brotherton and Helen Robinson of Omaha Also Take Part in Skit "Votes for Men."

NORTHAMPTON, Mass., Feb. 11.—(Special Telegram)—The junior frolic, second of the year, the event with which the students of the junior class in Smith college lay aside all the dignity that they have acquired in three years of college life, doing in turn the most ridiculous stunts imaginable, was held tonight in the alumnae gymnasium. The affair was unusually clever and the juniors surprised every one who attended by their remarkably funny stunts. Particularly good was the skit in which the marvelous mermaids flirted with death over the Horseshoe Falls in their barrels and when a little later two lovers, crossed by their parents, threw themselves to death over the falls, every one involuntarily gasped with horror. Misses Bianche Elizabeth Brotherton and Helen Robinson of Omaha, featured as one of the daring mermaids, also made a decided hit in the little skit called "Votes for Men—1914." Later the scene changed to Niagara Falls and everything from the password, "Aragain," Niagara spelled backward, to the last stunt, was in accordance with previous ingenious schemes.

And here again Miss Robinson made a name for herself representing the waves of the rapids, which fairly made one seasick. And so it went on, from one thing to another until at midnight the party broke up and each little junior returned to her dormitory tired, but happy and none the worse for her evening's frolic.

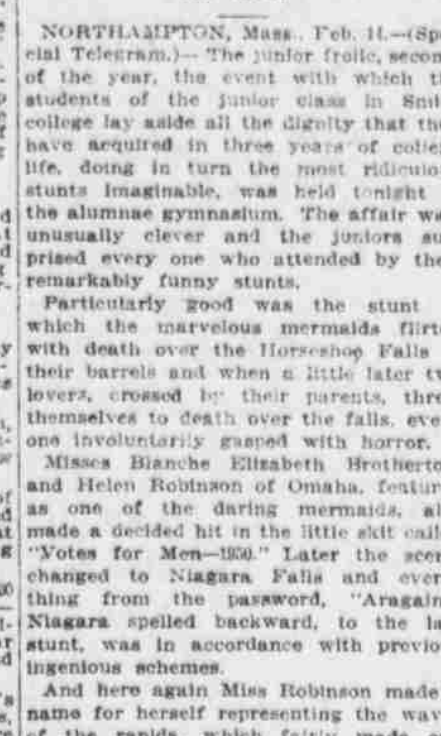

Permanent Isolation. Here is one of Walter Kelly's dog stories. Walter doesn't vouch for it, but it comes from a friend of his, so it is probably all right. It seems that Kelly left town on a business trip some time ago and left his blue ribbon dog in the care of a man who was supposed to know all about dogs. In about a week this man wrote Kelly one of the dogs had developed symptoms that indicated mange and asked for instructions. Kelly wired back as follows: "Isolate dog at once. Take no chances of mange spreading." "Suffice instructions, and within the ten-word limit. When the owner got back

Hot air often results from a heated argument. The fellow with a weak head shouldn't butt in. Never give advice unless you label it "handle with care." The good die young. Lying about your age won't prolong your life. You never can tell. Even a good fellow may make a model husband. When the Stomach Goes Back to Work

Then is the Whole System Glad. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets Will Quickly Put the Stomach in Shape.

When the stomach fails to do its work properly the whole machine of man is unstrung and wholly incapable of work. This condition obtains from the distention of the big, strong, pumping heart. It is a wise law of nature that has made the stomach man's strongest organ, like when it stops work man ought to realize that it does so because it can continue no longer.

"Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets Are the Real Appetite Bringers." Stuart's dyspepsia tablets will certainly give the stomach the repair it needs and is always crying aloud for. A tablet taken after each meal will in the course of several hours become a portion of the digestive fluids. It will build up these fluids. First in the stomach, then in the intestines. The liver is the storehouse of the body. Here are assembled all the reserve fluids of the system and here the various ingredients of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets mingle with the natural juices and strengthen them or if they are too strong they will be reduced to their proper strength and proportion. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets contain a single ingredient, one grain of which is sufficient to digest 3,500 grains of food. Just think how gratefully such an element is received into a body that cannot digest at all without a new weakening of the already depleted juices. Go to your druggist for this very day and obtain a box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, price, 50 cents. A week's trial will make you a new man and your stomach will go back to work.

It's a belated shipment—the beds were expected early last Fall, but did not arrive until long after the Fall selling season was over. We cannot afford to carry these beds over until spring. We'd rather sacrifice the profit now and stimulate buying during this ordinarily quiet month. We have, therefore, prepared to throw these beds out at a terrific cut in price—at prices so much below regular, that you simply cannot resist buying now.

To Renew Complexion Without Cosmetics. (From The Dermatologist.) If the excessive use of cosmetics only knew the impression her artificiality really makes upon others, she would quickly seek relief from a natural complexion. Let her acquire the recognized wax habit, discarding make-ups entirely, and she will have the kind of complexion that women envy and men admire. It's so easy to get an ounce of mercurial wax at any drugstore, using nightly like cold cream and wash it off mornings. And the results are so remarkable. Gradually the lifeless cuticle peels off, in almost invisible flakes, particles. In a week or so there's a brand new complexion, clear, velvety-soft, of girlish color and texture. The treatment is so simple, harmless and marvelously effective, the wonder is that every woman whose skin is withered, discolored, rough, chapped, freckled or pimpled, has not already adopted it. Lot wrinkled women quit pastes and massage creams which mar the skin still more and try this more sensible treatment: Dissolve 1 oz. powdered siccative in 1/2 pint which hasel, use as a face bath. Every line will quickly disappear.—Advertisement.

Getting Rid of a Cough

A Prominent Physician Says:—

In nearly every family cough is quite a frequent if not a constant annoyance. From the baby to the grandfather a cough is a constant liability. There are two kinds of cough for which Peruna is recommended. For instance, a person catches cold and acquires a congestion of the mucous membrane of the throat or bronchial tubes. This creates a roughness and sensitiveness of the membrane. The sensitive condition of the nerves of the mucous membrane excites cough. Cough is intended to expel something from the tubes. There being little or nothing to expel, the cough continues, needlessly irritating the tubes more and more. Peruna is regarded as an excellent tonic expectorant in such cases. It allays the irritation of the bronchial tubes. It also assists the nerve centers in resisting further progress of the cough. The ordinary cough, however, this is generally dispensed by the use of Peruna. Other times it may require a little longer treatment. There is another form of cough for which Peruna is well adapted. It is the so-called stomach cough, which comes from an irritable condition of the stomach. With this kind of cough there is little or no expectoration. There is nothing to expel from the bronchial tubes, but if the cough is allowed to continue very long it may produce a serious condition of the bronchial tubes. Peruna is a good stomachic. It tends to correct the irritable condition of the stomach. It generally operates very promptly and effectually. Sometimes even the first dose of Peruna will give immediate relief to the stomach cough.

The Ills of Life THE THIRTIETH EDITION OF THE ILLS OF LIFE is now ready for distribution. This booklet contains a large number of testimonials from different parts of the United States. Nearly every state is represented. There should be a copy in every family. Sent free by the Peruna Company, Columbus, Ohio. Did you know that you could get Peruna in tablet form? Some people prefer tablets to fluid medicines.
