Miss Carolyn Harding, whose wedding to Mr. Justin Frederick Lowe will take place February 22, will have many attendants in her wedding party which will be four young matrons, to whom Miss Harding has served either as maid of honor or as bridesmaid. Although Miss Harding has spent most of her time during the last four years either at Vassar college or elsewhere, she has found time to serve in numerous wedding parties. She was maid of honor at the wedding of her sister, Miss Ruth Harding, and Mr. Samuel Rees, Jr., and the sister will serve as matron of honor in return. Miss Harding was bridesmaid for each of Mrs. John McCague, Jr., Mrs. Jesse Macmillan Harding and Mrs. Maxwell Beightol of Lincoln, whom with Miss Mary McCague will carry the ribbons. The two bridesmaids will be: Miss Sylvia Conant of Pawtucket, R. I., a classmate at Vassar, and Miss Marie Hughes of Columbus, O., who studies music in Paris the same time that Miss Harding did.

The visitors will arrive Monday and every day this week is filled with social entertainments for the wedding party.

Original Valentine. St. Valentine's day usually brings some surprises and most of them are pleasant ones. The youthful scion of one of the prominent families of this city is apt to be extravagant for one of his years, so when the young son and daughter motored down town yesterday morning with their father, the pair decided to give the children a little advice. "Now, I wouldn't spend your money on a lot of frivolous and expensive valentines," he said to them and told them instead to put their money in the bank.

So the father, who is one of the wealthiest men of Omaha, received this valentine from his young son—"It's h—l to be poor."

Society Night at Auto Show. Thursday evening February 12, will be "society night" at the Automobile show, which is coming to the Auditorium that week. Mr. Clark Powell, who is manager of the Auto show, has appointed Mr. J. T. Stewart, 2d., to have charge of society night, and Mr. Stewart has chosen the following aids:

Messrs.—Cuthbert Potter, William Butler, Robert Burns, Ralph Peters, Robert Connell, Samuel Burns, Jr., Denise Backus, W. T. Burns.

All of the men assisting the automobile show and those in charge of the affair will be in full dress. Thursday evening, Mr. Powell and Mr. Stewart are planning to have the tango and the maxixe, the newest dance, a feature, society night.

Mrs. Harold Pritchett will entertain at bridge Tuesday afternoon for Mrs. Ralph Peters and Mrs. Ben Wood, Jr., and on Wednesday will give a luncheon for Miss Heth Vail.

To Warmer Climes. Snow in the east, colder in the west, are some of the prophecies of the weatherman, and Omahans are fleeing to warmer climates. Large colonies are assembling in Florida and in California, others have gone to Panama, or the Mediterranean trip, and others as far as Australia. Mr. and Mrs. Gougl Dietz,

Members of Lowe-Harding Wedding Party

Mrs. Maxwell Beightol, Mrs. John McCague, Jr.
