Dirigible Airship to Make Passenger Trips During Fair

The Panama-Pacific International exposition has made an agreement with the Parseval company of Hamburg, Germany, to operate a Parseval dirigible at the exposition.
The dirigible will be the largest ever constructed, having a length of 400 feet and a width of 80 feet and will cost $250,000. The hangar, or house in which it will be kept when on exhibition, will be portable, constructed in Germany at a cost of $60,000. A gas plant will be built, costing $60,000. The gigantic airship will make trips of fifty miles length, carrying passengers, at $5 each. Two licensed crews of eight members in each crew, from Germany, will accompany the dirigible to America and operate it while at San Francisco.
When not making regular trips the Parseval will be on exhibition at the hangar. Here exposition visitors will have an opportunity to explore its spacious interior, comprised of observation rooms, sleeping rooms, dining room, kitchen, smoking room, reading room and all accessories that provide a modern transportation car with the comforts of travel.

How to Win a Free Trip to the Panama Exposition

FOOD ADULTERATION TO BE DEMONSTRATED AT PANAMA EXPOSITION

The housewife who visits the Panama-Pacific International exposition will find in the Palace of Liberal Arts an exhibit of the methods of adulteration of food products, drugs and even of dry goods, and will have the privilege of seeing daily demonstrations of ways of detecting these adulterations. Chief Theodore Hardee of the department has planned this as a special pure food educational display. Best methods employed in preserving foods in all parts of the globe will be shown.

BIG QUESTION OF RADIUM AT PANAMA EXPOSITION

Radium, the rarest and costliest of all minerals, the curative and energizing powers of which are holding the attention of the scientific world, will be one of the most important exhibits at the Panama-Pacific International exposition. The intrinsic value of material shown at the exhibit will reach a fabulous sum.
Many of the most important and heaviest tasks in the preparation of the exposition have been completed. Such are the installation of the water, drainage, and electric conduit systems; the construction of seawalls, wharves and freight ferry slip; of the standard gauge terminal railroad system and other necessities.

ROUND-THE-WORLD AIR FLIGHT ATTRACTS MANY

The first round-the-world air flight is planned to start from the grounds of the Panama-Pacific International exposition in May, 1915. Airmen from all the nations of civilization, in an effort of every eye, will contend for the largest prize fund ever offered in any sporting event in history. Three hundred thousand dollars will be distributed among the victors. The route will pass eastward across the American continent, the Atlantic, Europe, Russia, Asia and the Pacific ocean to Alaska, thence the flyers will proceed to San Francisco.
A time limit of ninety days is placed upon the contest, which will have the sanction of the Federation Aeronautique Internationale, the central organization of aeronautical bodies in every civilized country on the globe.

WILL SHOW RARE CHINESE FABRICS AT SAN FRANCISCO

The rarest fabrics produced in China will be exhibited at the Panama-Pacific International exposition. Dr. T. C. Chu, counselor of the ministry of industry and commerce of China, and special commissioner to the exposition, announces that the Chinese architect who is to design the Chinese pavilion will reach San Francisco soon. China will expend $800,000 on its display, says Dr. Chu. The exhibit will be concerned principally with the liberal arts, manufactures and agricultural pursuits of the republic.
At the close of the exposition the pavilion, which will be of permanent construction, will be presented to the American people.

GERMANS TO DEMONSTRATE THE POTASH INDUSTRY

The Reichstag of Germany has approved the expenditure of 500,000 marks, or $125,000, for an exhibit of the potash industry of Germany at the Panama-Pacific International exposition.
The exhibit will show potash in various forms and will demonstrate the value of the fertilizer by showing the growth of plants and trees which potash is used.

Benj. Franklin Said--

"The use of money is all the advantage there is in having money"
Poor Richard's Almanac.

Benjamin Franklin was economical but not penurious. He would have quickly recognized the many economies and comforts made possible by the Electric Chafing Dish.

For preparing tasty luncheons and after-theater suppers, it is unequalled. There is no bother or fuss in preparation—just twitch the switch. The Electric Chafing Dish heats quickly, is convenient, economical and safe.

A Dry Cleaning Service Mixed With Brains!

Almost ANY cleaner will give you a stereotyped tale of "Service," but WHAT other cleaner has placed a branch in Omaha's largest department store just to SERVE you quicker and handier. WE have maintained such an agency right along in the Brandeis stores, to say nothing of our Dresher The Tailor branch at 1515 Farnam St. We prepay express or parcel post charges one way on all out of town shipments amounting to $3 or over; we maintain a perfect battery of Autos for delivery; we have a private branch phone exchange that brooks no delay and the moment an improved piece of equipment comes along we INSTALL it. In short we mix "brains" with every bit of SERVICE we render; we spend all our time in MAKING GOOD instead of inventing excuses as to why we haven't.
