House of Representatives Passes Bill for Half Million.

SENT ON FOR SENATE ACTION

Only Opposition to Appropriation Comes from Mr. Sherley of Kentucky—Morrissey for Naval Academy.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)
WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 17.—(Special Telegram.)—The emergency appropriation measure providing $500,000 to combat hog cholera and other animal diseases, and also $10,000 for extermination of dourine in horses, was called up for consideration under suspension of the rules today and passed.
Congressmen Sloan and Maguire made speeches that were necessarily brief, but nevertheless effective, in support of the bill, and Congressman Barton took a hand in the running rapid fire debate that preceded passage of the bill, a debate that was precipitated by the opposition to the measure displayed by Mr. Sherley of Kentucky. The appropriation for the extermination of dourine is a house addition to the bill as it came from the senate, and the bill as passed today will be returned to the senate for concurrence in this amendment.
Young Morrissey Has Chance.
Senator Young Morrissey of Kentucky, who was named as an alternate, will be next in line to receive the coveted appointment provided he meets all the field requirements. Mr. Kirk is now an enlisted man in the navy, and is at the Mare Island navy yard preparing for the examination in case the fate should be against the principal candidate.

G. L. Shumway of Scott's Bluff, Neb., is in the city in connection with land irrigation matters in which his section is interested.
J. C. Martin of Central City, Neb., is in Washington on legal business and called today upon Representative Sloan, Judge F. M. Walcott of Valentine, Neb., is here on business before the Department of the Interior and was a guest of Representative Kinkaid today.
W. Y. Bennett and wife of Omaha were among Congressman Lobeck's callers today. They are returning home from a trip to Ottawa, Canada and New York.
Richard Hargreaves of Lincoln, son-in-law of Secretary Bryan, has arrived in Washington to spend a fortnight with the secretary and his family. Mrs. Hargreaves have been a house guest at the Bryan home this winter.

County Progressive Club is Organized, With Broatch Head

Captain W. J. Broatch, former mayor of Omaha, was last night elected president of a newly formed Douglas county progressive club. A meeting of progressive was called for the Paxton block, room 64. About twenty men were present. Anson H. Bigelow presided. A temporary organization was formed with Broatch president, W. O. Llanos secretary, and a committee on by-laws was chosen. George Turkington, H. W. Morrow and Dr. W. W. Ward were chosen on this committee.
The club was organized largely by the executive committee of the old Roosevelt club that sprung up in Omaha during the last presidential campaign.
The club aims at active concerted political activity in behalf of the progressive party and wherever local activities may concern that party. As this was the preliminary meeting no action has as yet been taken in regard to putting a progressive county ticket in the field next fall, nor in regard to the attitude of the party on the various bond issues and the proposed charter to come up at the special election March 10. Another meeting is to be held next Monday evening.

TO UNDERWRITE W. U. STOCK

Syndicate Formed in Order to Carry Out Agreement with U. S.

KUHN, LOEB & COMPANY HEAD

About Thirty Millions, Now Owned by the American Telephone and Telegraph Company.

NEW YORK, Feb. 17.—For the purpose of underwriting Western Union Telegraph company stock to the amount of about $30,000,000, now owned by the American Telephone and Telegraph company, a syndicate, at the head of which is Kuhn, Loeb & Co., has been formed, it was announced tonight.
According to the announcement, details of the plan have not been made public, but it is understood it is designed to carry out the agreement reached recently between the federal Department of Justice and the American Telephone and Telegraph company, providing for the segregation of the interests of the Western Union and the American Telephone and Telegraph company. It is the intention of the syndicate to underwrite the stock to present shareholders of the Western Union company.
Charges of Government.
It is said that October 21, 1911, the American Telephone and Telegraph company owned $25,000,000 worth of Western Union stock of a total of $60,000,000, then outstanding. Due to the fact that the stock of American Telephone and Telegraph was being voted on in block this one-third holding gave the company control over the Western Union. It was charged by the government. The stock in question was acquired by the telephone company through purchase of the Gould, Sargent and Morosini holdings.
The American Telephone and Telegraph company was under investigation by the Department of Justice for a number of years, it being charged by the various independent telephone lines and that trunk lines of the combination stifled competition.
Complaints of Unfair Treatment.
The telephone companies complained of unfair treatment in the matter of rates charged on messages transferred from this system to the Western Union and alleged that the telephone company instructed the operators to switch all subscribers wishing to send a telegram on to the wires and offices of the Western Union, which complaints were sustained by the Public Service commission.
In addition to its promise to relinquish its holdings, the company's agreement with the Department of Justice also provided that "neither the parent company nor any other company in the Bell system will hereafter acquire dominion or control over a competing telephone company." The agreement also stipulated that arrangements would be made promptly by which all other telephone companies could procure for their subscribers toll service over lines of the Bell companies.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., Feb. 17.—Miss Eliza Francis, a young stenographer, was held up on one of the city's busiest streets today by Miss Mary McCormick, 30 years old, who, at the point of a revolver, demanded money of her. Miss McCormick was seized by a policeman. She said she had not eaten for a week and had decided to kill "some of the women" whom, she said, she did not like to see "walking up and down the streets with furs and mesh bags." She was placed under observation to determine her mental condition.

STATE HIGHWAY DIRECTORS ARE HOLDING CONFERENCE

CHICAGO, Feb. 17.—A resolution asking congress to authorize the creation of a commission to determine how national aid should be given in the building of highways was adopted today at the annual conference of the Association of State Highway Directors. The association also advocated the use of convict labor in highway building and repair work. T. H. McDonald, state engineer of Iowa, presided at the conference.
Says Chicago is in Bed.
Secretary Charles Williams, formerly of the Cubs, who recently went over to the Federal league, says that things were not running smoothly in the Chicago club, and that the money offered by the Federal was so much more than that which he had received from President Murphy that he had no alternative in the matter. Williams is very popular with Chicago fans.

Salazar is Placed in a Cell.

General Jose Ynes Salazar, the most carefully guarded of the Mexican prisoners, interned at Fort Bliss, snuggled closer to the protecting breast of Uncle Sam today when at his own request he was locked up in the post guardhouse and assigned to a cell.
General Salazar made the request yesterday. The guards were under orders to shoot him if any attempt at rescue should be made by his friends, and the general feared that his enemies might take advantage of the order to make a false demonstration to mislead the guard. Maximo Castillo, the bandit, charged with the Cumbre tunnel tragedy, was heard from again today.
The message reading: "Castillo on our ranch," was received at Hachita, N. M., this afternoon by Captain White of the Ninth United States cavalry, who transmitted it by army wireless to Fort Bliss. The message to "McCormick," the manager of Las Palomas ranch, was while he is regarded as reliable, the news was considered of little importance save to show that the bandit is alive, for Las Palomas is a ranch of 400,000 acres in extent.
General Scott telegraphed Captain White that there was no word of the latter could do unless Castillo came on American soil, in which case the captain was instructed to arrest him.

Fling Lectures on Bismarck; Starts New Series Next Monday

At the closing number of his series of lectures, which have been given at the Auditorium of the High school, Dr. Fred Morrow Fling discussed the union of the empire of Germany, and the influence which the diplomacy of Otto Von Bismarck had in effecting the amalgamation.
At the outset, Dr. Fling told of the compromise government which was granted the people of Prussia in the provision for two assemblies, which, instead of originating from the people, were granted and controlled by the king, making the government one emanating from the king rather than from the people. He discussed the vast diplomatic knowledge which Bismarck gained at various posts, and how through intricate devices, he finally forced Prussia to become the aggressor in the war which resulted in binding the various states of Germany into the empire.
Following the lecture yesterday afternoon, it was announced that on next Monday Dr. Fling would open a series of six lectures on the French revolution. The lectures will occur consecutively on Monday afternoon, starting at 8 o'clock at the high school auditorium.

THE LAWYER AND THE PUBLIC EDITOR PRESENTS EVIDENCE

Guilty Discusses Relation at Creighton Law School Banquet.

PROFESSION WILL BEAR TEST

Declares It Will Measure Up to Others—First Gathering of All Students and Alumni of School.

College cheer and college cheers shed a special atmosphere of good fellowship over the crowd of 150 students and alumni of the law school of Creighton university at their banquet at the Commercial club last night.
It was the first occasion of the kind ever held in Omaha, an event at which all classes and the faculty sat with the alumni, and the event promises to establish a precedent which will be dear to Creighton men in the years to come.
Walter T. Moran, the senior class president, presided. Maurice Griffin of the freshman class responded to the toast, "First Impressions." He was followed by Edwin D. Mitchell, president of the junior class, who had for his subject, "Adrift." Claude R. Mattal of the night class responded to the toast, "Night," and John O. Moran of the senior class chose for his subject, "The Dawn." E. J. McVann, president of the Pan-Alumni Association of Creighton university, spoke for the alumni, being assigned the subject, "The Loan and Hungry Look on what men know they ought to do, on the ideals to be striven for. And why not brag, when the object is to uplift ourselves? Brag is not only an American characteristic, but a national habit."
"Another reason, however, why we brag, is to protect ourselves from a general assault, which amounts to almost a conspiracy, against lawyers on the part of organized society. When the citizens discuss us individually as lawyers, they speak well of us, but when they mention us as a profession it is with bitterness and contemptuousness. I have often wondered if there was a radical defect in the profession and have concluded, after much reflection, that there is not. I believe that there are no more weak brothers in the legal profession than in any other profession or business."
What Public Thinks.
"The reason for this contempt on the part of the public, I believe, is due to the fact that it looks upon lawyers as men who live by their wits, who are neither laborers nor capitalists. The general public seems to regard the lawyer as the forerunner of trouble, the fomenter of litigation. The average business man and the average laborer are both materialists. When either of them pays out his good money he wants something tangible, something that is substantial in matter. You may save his reputation, get him damages, clear his name, or protect his business, yet he wants something that is more material. Society at large regards the lawyer from an economic standpoint, as one who does not contribute to the wealth of the world. This belief is fundamentally false. We must have organized society, justice, law and security in order to have a basic civilization upon which to found our business. The lawyer always has been and always will be a quasi-public man, and the integrity of the courts and the very government itself is largely in his hands. Democracy without restraint is not a true democracy. We have a constitution, written or unwritten, to prescribe the rights of the majority, and a man who believes that a section of the bill of rights can be repealed the same as a city ordinance has no conception of stable government."

ROSEWATER GIVES REASONS FOR DEMAND FOR BAR HOUSECLEANING.

Demanded in Made that Perjured Testimony Used in Contempt Hearing Which Followed Libel Trial be Investigated.

The grand jury yesterday listened to evidence given by Victor Rosewater, editor of The Bee, summoned before it to give reasons for charges made by him that the local bar association needs a "housecleaning." Mr. Rosewater presented to the jury about a dozen cases of alleged wrongdoing to which lawyers practicing here were parties. One of them came close to an office of the bar association which has been scouting the housecleaning idea.
A demand that the grand jury investigate directly contradicting evidence growing out of a fight over a jury, by means of which attorneys for Cadet Taylor secured a new trial of the libel case against The Bee was made by Mr. Rosewater. He asserted that perjured testimony was used in the contempt hearing which followed the libel suit and that indictments should be returned against the guilty persons.
Records Show Misconduct.
Asked about his appearance before the grand jury, Mr. Rosewater said: "In considerable detail I went into matters on which my demand in The Bee for a housecleaning by the lawyers had been based. If the various cases of crookedness disclosed by the court records are thoroughly investigated there will be no trouble sustaining the charge of unprofessional conduct and to warrant more than one indictments. I also called attention to the bribery of witnesses and packing of juries, particularly the case of Juror Gard in the libel case in which I was able to give my own direct testimony as to the perjury committed. I asked the grand jury either to indict Gard for perjury or to indict those who contradicted him, according to the preponderance of testimony."

FATHER OF ACTRESS PLAYING IN OMAHA DIES FROM INJURY

CINCINNATI, O., Feb. 17.—(Special Telegram.)—Coroner Foertmeyer prepared today to summon the crew of a Cincinnati street car to tell their story of an altercation during which, it is said, James Pierpont, aged 51, a well-known scenic artist and father of Mrs. Taylor Granville, an actress now playing in Omaha, was injured so that he died yesterday. Mr. Pierpont received injuries on January 17, when, it is alleged, he was ejected from the street car by the conductor and motorman after a dispute which arose because, it is said, Pierpont boarded the car on the wrong side of the street. During the quarrel that followed, it is alleged, Pierpont was struck on the head with the controller handle.
Traction officials to whom the report of the affair was made on the day following the altercation, denied today that a controller handle had been used.
Mrs. Granville is expected home from Omaha tomorrow. Another daughter, Mrs. Ida Pierpont Stevens, well known singer of New York, is also coming home for the funeral.

BOY SUBS FOR PORKER IN CARLOAD SHIPMENT

LINCOLN, Neb., Feb. 17.—A boy crated and shipped as live stock was the discovery made by a veterinary surgeon here today when he was called upon to inspect a carload of goods billed from Bertrand, Neb., to Burke, S. D. The waybill on the shipment included household goods and "one hog, value released at $10."
Being an interstate shipment inspection was required. The veterinary found the household goods, but no sign of a hog. A careful search, however, revealed a boy curled up in a corner of the car, none the worse for his trip. By billing the car as part live stock the shipper is allowed the low rate on the household goods, and in the absence of a hog the boy was sent by the shipper as a substitute.

Meat forms uric acid, which clogs kidneys, irritates bladder or causes Rheumatism.
cloudy, full of sediment, channels often get sore, water scales and you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night.
Either consult a good, reliable physician at once or get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.
