BLOODHOUND EVIDENCE VOID

Illinois Man Convicted of Murder of Four Given New Trial

CRIME IS MOST GRUESOME ONE Ray Planschmidt of Quincy Was Convicted of Murder of Parents, Sister and Miss Knemper and Burning House.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Feb. 21 .- Ray Pfanschmidt, convicted in the Adams county circuit court of a quadruple murder, won in the supreme court of the state today when the lower court's finding was reversed on a writ of error. He will have a new trial.

One of the points which won a new trial for the defendant was the decision by the upper court that the conclusions of blood hounds were too unreliable to be accepted as evidence. Blood hounds taken to the scene of the crime were said to have followed a trail to Pfanschmidt's ome. The trial court admitted evidence of the trailing by the dogs. The admission of this testimony was held by the upper court to be error. In its order sending the case back for a new trial. the supreme court directed that a motion for a change of venue from Adams county be granted.

QUINCY, Ill., Feb. 21.-The crime of which Ray Pfanschmidt was convicted was a most gruesome one. Four persons, Charles Pfanschmidt, his mother, Blanche Pfanschmidt, a sister, and Miss Emma Kaempen, a school teacher boarding with the Pfanschmidts were found dead in the ruins of the Pfanschmidt house. sleven miles southeast of Quincy on September 29, 1912. The bodies, although hadly burned in the fire which destroyed the house, showed signs of having been beaten and chopped. It was the testimony of the experts at the trial that the four victims were killed and their bodies

Ray Pfanschmidt, then not II years of age and the only surviving member of awarded. the family, was arrested for the crime. His trial began in the circuit court of Adams county, -arch 18, 1913, Judge Guy Williams of Havana presiding.

The state made an effort to prove that Pfanschmidt, heavily in debt and engaged to marry Esther Reed, killed his herit the Pfanschmidt estate and be the beneficiary of the insurance carried by his father and mother.

Hustlers in The Bee M. and M. Voting Contest

Here are some of the leaders in The Bee M. and M. voting contest. Hustlers, every one of them. Not a label or couper escapes their vigilance.

The contest has yet five weeks to rur No contestant is so far ahead that he or she can afford to stand idle. Those who are behind are not so far away that they cannot easily catch up with the leaders. The merchants and manufacturers listed in this effective selling campaign are enjoying a business stimulation that will ontinue long after the contest has closed and the many handsome prizes have been

The "soap clubs" and mail order solicitors are experiencing a decided alump in their business. That is as it should be. Their loss of trade is the local merchants gain. The few remaining weeks of the M. and

M. contest will show a veritable flood of father, mother and sister in order to in- labels. The special plans outlined by the contest manager afford for the workers a splendid opportunity to add to their standing. The voting value on the labels is so liberal that those who hope for success should not overlook the many chances to collect large quantities of these "vote getters" between now and March 38. Labels are the "busy little workers" that write the big numbers on your voting ballots. Go after them.

The votes in the M. and M. contest and there are millions of them cast each week -are counted on a Dalton adding machine. Without the aid of this marvelous and simple office utility the contest department would find it difficult to keep ! up the pace set by the many nominees So simple and easy to operate is this adding machine that votes are counted at a spead that would be otherwise impossible. There is a big voting value on the purchase of a Dalton. Ask the contest manager about it.

On another page of this issue of The Bee will be found a list of the products that are good for votes. Read it care fully. Then see that not one of the cartons, labels or wrappers are wasted.

Order of Standing. The following are the names of the leaders in the contest arranged in the order of their standing. This list is comnd general super- piled up to and including Thursday,

J. Way. Cecil Woodworth. CHINAMAN IS HELD FOR

IMPORTATION OF OPIUM

Young Sang, a chinaman, charged with importing smoking opium in violation of the federal statutes, was arraigned before United States Commissioner Herbert S. Daniel and bound over to the district court on a bond of $250. According to federal authorities here, W. O. Patton, who is now serving a sentence for smoking opium, will be compelled to face a like charge by the government. Patton's rooms at 1017 Davenport street were raided and a complete outfit for smoking optum was also found there.

COMES FROM IOWA TO BE MARRIED BY DR. ROUSE

Refusing to be married by any minister except Rev. Frederick T. Rouse, pastor of the First Congregational church, who had befriended him when he first came to this country from Holland, Peter H. Spoelstra brought Miss Susie Langerak, his intended bride, all the way from Oskaloosa, Ia., to have the local pastor tie the knot. The ceremony was performed at the home of Rev. Dr. Rouse Friday afternoon, after which the young couple went to Wright, Ia., to make their
