'STADIUM A DREAM,' HOWELL

Water Board Manager Hopes to Give Boys Place to Play.

TALK OVER BOULEVARD MATTER—Practically Agree on Way Connecting Strip Might Be Put In, but It is Referred to Committee Once More.

A committee of five members of the Bemis Park Improvement club, headed by Guy C. Cramer, called on the Water board yesterday afternoon to learn why the board refused to grant a strip of land for a boulevard through the Walnut hill reservoir reservation. They also protested against the board's plan to establish a stadium there for baseball and other games.

City Commissioner J. B. Hummel said the board held control of the connecting link in the line of boulevard and he could do nothing until the Water board moved.

Chairman Charles Sherman of the Water board said he did not think Hummel's plan of running the boulevard diagonally across the Water board's land street for boulevard and parking.

However, the board disposed of the matter in the same manner that it was disposed of a year ago by referring it to a committee. This committee consists of W. J. Coad, F. D. Wead and P. C. Healey. The committee was instructed to confer and report.

Disputed points between house and senate on the postal appropriation bill were compromised after a conference.

When you go to Edinburgh Castle, where the Highland battalions are stationed, hardly a man is wearing a kilt, except the sentries, and this has given rise to the alarming rumor.

As a matter of fact, after a soldier has worn a kilt for about two years he usually has it made into trousers.

"I may say that I have worn the kilt myself in a variety of climates and degrees of temperature at home and in India, summer and winter, in rains, on the plains and in the hills, and in this hot and moist climate; also in the jungles, such as one gets in Bhootea and Kashmir, where I have lived and been.

There is no question that the kilt is a tremendously picturesque costume, perhaps the most appealing of any of the British army uniforms. It needs, however, a good pair of legs to set it off, and it is rather lamentable that today many of the Highland regiments are recruited largely from Whitechapel and South London instead of from the cradles of Scotland—Edinburgh Letter to New York Tribune.

U. P. PENSIONER ENDS LIFE

Robert Nelson Shoots Himself at Daughter's Home.

DESPONDENT OVER DISEASE—Uses Mirror to Be Certain that Bullet Will Go True—Body is Found Lying in Bathroom.

With a looking glass propped up on the end of a bath tub in which he lay, Robert Nelson, 68-year-old Union Pacific pensioner, last night put a pistol in his mouth, and looking into the mirror to be sure that the bullet would go true, he pulled the trigger. The tragedy occurred at the home of his daughter, Mrs. W. L. Peterson, 123 South Sixth street, with whom he made his home.

Mr. Nelson had been suffering from hardening of the arteries for the last two years, and despondency over his illness is believed to be the motive for his act.

Coroner Crosby took charge of the body and will hold an inquest probably tomorrow.

Secretary and Mrs. Bryan were hosts last night to a host of senators, representatives and prominent public officials at a dinner given in honor of Senator and Mrs. John W. Kern of Indiana.

MAKES A RUSH AT BLEASE

Friends Hold Representative Advancing Toward Governor.

RESENTS REMARKS OF CHIEF—Becomes Wrathful When Other Says He is Acting in Cowardly Manner by Raising Technical Point.

COLUMBUS, S. C., March 5.—An exciting scene marked the session of the house of representatives tonight when Governor Blease replied to certain statements made by W. E. Stevenson, in a speech on the asylum probe today. Personal encounters at one time seemed likely.

When Governor Blease charged that Representative N. H. Barnwell was acting in a cowardly manner by raising a technical point that the governor was not within the constitutional limits in making his remarks, Mr. Barnwell advanced to the speaker's stand, but was restrained by delegates.

Disorder reigned for several minutes while the governor was making his charges. Friends of Mr. Barnwell and the governor crowded around and for a time it seemed as if a general fight was imminent.

Filter the blood and keep you well. If you suffer with backache—have pains in the neck or sides—nervous or dizzy spells—a few doses of Croxone will relieve the congestion and you will be surprised how quickly all kidney, bladder and rheumatic troubles will disappear.

Croxone is different from all other remedies. It is not like anything else on earth ever used for the purpose. It starts to work the minute you take it and relieves your suffering the very first time you use it. It is so prepared that it is practically impossible to take it into the human system without results.
