Miss Kate M. Ball, Formerly of Omaha Schools, Talks on Art.

AMERICANS HAVE CLEAR VIEW

America is Younger and More Virile—Paintings of the Future Age Are to Be Purely Decorative.

An interesting bit of news comes to us in an interview with Miss Katherine M. Ball of San Francisco, formerly of Omaha, which was published in the San Francisco Bulletin.

Miss Ball was formerly supervisor of drawing in the Omaha public schools and is now supervisor of art in the schools of San Francisco. Last August Miss Ball was sent as a delegate to the International Congress for the Promotion of Art Education, which was held in Dresden.

Development of art in America could best be promoted and hastened by the stopping of American travel in Europe, and says:

"I refer to our art workers, as well as to the rank and file of American travelers. Our students learn in Europe not art, but artifice.

"Americans nationally have a clearer sense of aesthetics than Europeans. There the effort is to excite the senses, and our students forget that beauty must be in simplicity. They come back to us sophisticated, emburdened and blinded with false notions, and proceed to perpetuate European forms and standards in America. These standards, even true in their own surroundings—as they often are—are false in America.

"Our young architects, returning from France, inflat the mansard roof upon us. If they are particularly vicious, we must suffer from all the other redundancies of French and Italian decorative art—the rococo curves, the festoons of fruits, flowers and cupids sprawling over the ceilings and walls.

"America is younger and more virile. What art we have is more virile. Moreover, standards in art are very rapidly changing. Just now we are in one of those formative periods when the processes which have been going on for perhaps centuries come to a seemingly sudden development.

"Will Be Repudiated. Twenty-five years from now much of what is now considered art will be repudiated. Especially is this true of painting. Paintings now recognized as masterpieces will not be given that place in a quarter of a century. We are acquiring entirely different ideas of what really constitutes art in painting.

"The paintings of the Renaissance are merely illustrations of the decorative art of the future to be purely decorative. Art is to be no longer a detached report of some fragment of nature. It is to be a creative composition. And in this development the American painters are leading—partly, perhaps, because of the influence of the orient, from which we have learned so much in the way of almost scientific rules of artistic decorative construction and composition, and from whom we have gained something of their spirit of restraint and art of elimination.

"However, while the work of our younger decorative painters shows a thorough understanding of the principles of oriental composition, they are not in any sense imitators. Who could say that a Maxfield Parrish poster struggles to be like a Japanese print? Yet if Parrish did not understand the oriental principles he could not paint as he does.

"By the way," laughed Miss Ball, "I became a Greek enthusiast while I was away. I learned much, too, from the primitives—the pre-Raphaelites. Their unsophisticated spontaneity I found delightful.

"As to sculpture, I'll take back all I've said about European art. Repression and composition are being given new and in-

The Gadder Is On the Job

Travelers Don't Fear Strange Dishes, Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets Enable the Stomach to Stand Anything.

A Box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets Is Your Best Traveling Companion.

"Railroads tell you about the wonders of Nature along their lines; hotels describe their modern accommodations; but they never tell you about the 'Gadder' who is taking 'pot' luck when he leaves home, because a box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is quite as essential as many of the other traveling requisites.

This commented a philosophical traveling man, speaking of hotel life, restaurants, grills and junction lunch counters. "The 'Gadder' in this world," he continued, "are the result of one set of men trying to compel the other set to think and act against their own inclinations. It is the same in religion, politics, and eating. I have learned from experience to eat what they serve; to forget the food experts, read the current news and jokes and leave the stomach to the best expert in the world—Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets."

And Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets actually do the work assigned them. They relieve weak and overburdened stomachs of a great portion of digestive action. Their component parts assist the digestive fluids and secretions of the stomach and they simply take up the grind and carry on the work just the same as a good, strong, healthy stomach would do it.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are for sale by all druggists, at 50 cents a box, and they are the one article that the druggist does not try to sell something in the place of it that's "just as good." The universal demand for them has placed them within the reach of everyone—Advertisement.

AFFAIRS AT SOUTH OMAHA

Men Who Want to Cast Votes at Election Must Register Today.

FOOT BALL AT ROURKE PARK

Employers of Labor in City Complain that They Cannot Get Workers, Though They Are Paying High Wages.

Today is the last registration day before election and leaders in all parties are making a final effort to get out the unregistered vote. To date a little more than 48 per cent of the voters in Omaha have been recorded and of that there is little difference between the registration of the two great parties. The democrats have a slight increase over the number of republicans registered, but this superiority in number is even less than the usual proportion.

For days and weeks republicans and democrats have been urging the stay-at-homes to get out and register and it is expected that tomorrow will be a busy day for the clerks and judges of the registration board.

As the campaign nears an end there is a strong tendency on the part of all local republicans to concentrate upon the state and county tickets and leaders from both camps have signified their desire to have the voters register insofar as these two sections of the ticket are concerned. Many voters, especially among the laboring men of the packing houses and the stockmen, are said to be turning to the support of the republican ticket, feeling that it would be suicidal in business or elect free trader Wilson with low wages and closed mills.

The following places have been designated as registration offices: First Ward—First precinct, 620 North Twentieth street; second precinct, 620 North Twenty-fourth street. Second Ward—First Precinct, southwest corner Twentieth and S streets; second precinct, 100 North Twenty-fourth street. Third Ward—First precinct, Twenty-first and Z streets; second precinct, Twenty-eighth and V streets.

Fourth Ward—First precinct, 123 North Twenty-eighth street; second precinct, 469 South Thirtieth street. Fifth Ward—First precinct, 332 North Twenty-seventh street; second precinct, Thirty-ninth and S streets. Sixth Ward—First precinct, 124 North Twenty-fourth street; second precinct, 622 North Twenty-fourth street.

Seventh Ward—First precinct, 303 Q street; second precinct, Thirty-sixth and U streets. New Settlers' hall. Foot Ball at Rourke Park. South Omaha and Lincoln High school foot ball teams will try their strength today at Rourke park in Omaha. The game is expected to be one of the red letter occasions of the season and Prof. R. H. Johnson, who has taken over the conduct of the team after a lapse of more than a year, has roused the enthusiasm of the boys and the schools at large. As it is the only game scheduled in Omaha today a large crowd is expected to turn out. The local team is a busy bunch and when once into the game they exhibit such class as to stir the strongest opponents in the high school class.

Laborers Not to Be Hed. Employers of labor in South Omaha say it is impossible to get laborers even at a good wage. Within the last week coal men have complained that they were unable to fill all their orders because of the scarcity of labor. Mayor Tom Horton has agreed to furnish Water Commissioner R. B. Howell with labor enough to construct water tanks for the installation of several new mains. The work pays $2.50 a day. Mayor Horton says he can furnish the men.

Health Commissioner R. W. Connell is traveling at dairymen who adulterate milk, and hereafter when any dairymen is convicted on such a count in police court for the second time Dr. Connell will issue a signed statement warning consumers of milk against the product sold by this dairymen.

Two dairymen were convicted in police court one for selling watered milk and the other for furnishing consumers with milk that tested 760,000 bacteria per cubic centimeter, when it ought to have shown only 100,000.

The dairymen appeared. Dr. Connell said, "but for some reason they never reach the district court. This kind of procedure has got to stop, and I am taking this method of stopping it. Hereafter I will issue a signed statement warning the milk consumers against using milk sold by these dairymen."

RECALL THOSE JUDGES, SHOUTS BULL MOOSER

Recall Those Judges, Shouts Bull Mooser

"Gentlemen, if there ever was a set of judges that needed recalling, it's our supreme judges at Lincoln."

This was a remark of C. D. Hutchinson, vicepresident bull mooser, in a brief speech before the local Roosevelt club at the Murray hotel last night. He had touched on recall and on the decision of the supreme court that forced the progressives to take the progressive designation instead of the republican label on the election ballot.

"It's a shame," he continued, "that we don't have the power to recall judges who make such rotten decisions." And the crowd clapped hands.

It was a crowd of bull moosers, of course. Hutchinson was put up to fill about ten minutes of time before the regular speaker of the evening was introduced. This was J. L. Kaley. Kaley, when he had talked for some time, was interrupted repeatedly by loud voices from the hall above. One man interrupting appeared to have been drinking, as the crowd clapped hands.

Some of the bull moosers were for slipping around the Paxton entrance and getting at the fellows, but better judgment prevailed.

Kaley was mad because some had asked what Roosevelt had done in his administration, so he reviewed the administration.

PRIVATE IN RANKS IS HEIR TO FORTUNE

COREY TALKS TO DEMOCRATS AFTER COMMITTEE MEETING

M. L. Corey was the principal speaker before a meeting of democrats that followed a session of the Douglas county central committee at Washington hall last night.

Peter Elsasner, C. O. Lobeck and Jerry Howard were among the other speakers who were introduced by Joe Butler, the chairman.

Corey, who has been speaking for the candidates for state and national offices throughout the state, declared to the audience that Wilson would carry Nebraska by a large plurality. He requested his hearers to cast their votes for A. C. Stallenberger for United States senator and support the Douglas county democratic ticket.

The session of the Douglas county central committee was called last night for the purpose of getting supporters of the democratic ticket to come to the county seat for a heavy registration.

TWO HURT IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Fremont Man May Die of Injury Received on Dodge Street Road.

CAR ROLLS DOWN STEEP BANK

Fast Ride on Smooth Stretch of Road, with Demonstrator at Wheel, Adds Two More to Recent List of Victims.

Automobile riding which has claimed several victims in the last week, added two more to its toll last night. An automobile driven by A. W. Cole, a demonstrator in the employ of the Great Western Automobile company, turned over twelve miles out of Omaha on the West Dodge street road at 6:30 o'clock. Gustav Jones of Fremont, who was the only other occupant of the car, was probably fatally injured and Cole was seriously hurt.

Jones was taken by a passing automobile and was rushed to Elkhorn. He suffered internal injuries and a badly wrenched back.

Cole sustained a sprained back and a deep laceration in the side of his head. He was picked up by Mike Oswald, chauffeur for Eugene Melady, member of the firm of Thuet Bros. & Melady, South Omaha live stock merchants, and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Lake. He was taken to the police station where his wounds were dressed by Dr. Dawson.

For a stretch of nearly a mile where the accident happened the road is level with a thirty-foot embankment on one side. On striking this piece of road Cole threw his motor into high speed. Something went wrong with the steering wheel, Cole says, and the car turned turtle, crashing down the steep embankment.

Cole was thrown clear of the machine, but Jones was pinned underneath. The two men were on their way from Fremont to Omaha. The machine is practically a total wreck. It is a new car worth approximately $250.

This is the second accident on the Dodge street road within two days due to fast driving. Roy, the 3-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Nelson, was killed Thursday afternoon when the automobile in which he was riding with his parents overturned. Mr. and Mrs. Nelson and A. P. They were so much improved last night that they were removed to their home at Ames, Neb.

Eitor and Arturo Giovannitti, on trial for the murder of Anna Loizito, victim of the Lawrence textile strike riots, was declared by witnesses today to have been present when Policeman Oscar Benoit was stabbed and the Loizito girl shot on the evening of January 25, last.

Edward Marshall, a policeman who was with Benoit on that night, testified that Caruso, accompanied by Salvatore Scuffs, now a fugitive, stood directly behind Benoit immediately before the shooting and stabbing. The defense immediately took up the presentation of testimony. Nearly all of the accused men were placed on the stand and in each case the knowledge of a conspiracy to murder Callahan, or of any fund to pay his assassin, was denied. The testimony for the defense will be continued when court convenes tomorrow and following this the ruling on the motion for bail will be made, after which the jury for the trial of the defendants will be empanelled.

Dr. Hartman Makes Public the Facts As to What Doctors Think of Peruna

After taking the Peruna treatment for a few months he again applied for insurance, was examined and accepted. This was one year ago now and he is still well. The doctor goes on to say, "I await your early reply, and if you place the valuation to you on this that I do I can assure the individual who will meet my approval and I will furnish you with a sworn statement of the case for an advertisement."

Now these two letters are only samples of letters that I have been receiving for the last twenty-five years, from doctors from all parts of the United States. I have made no use of these letters for the reason that pay was always demanded and I do not think it is strictly moral to offer any monetary inducement for published testimonials. I have never done so and I never shall.

But incidentally this kind of letters proves conclusively that Peruna is a great remedy for catarrhal diseases. No doctor would resort to Peruna until after he had exhausted every other remedy. When Peruna can assert its value in the hands of people that are naturally prejudiced against it, it has proven itself a wonderful remedy.

Again I wish to say, I do not blame these doctors for expecting me to pay them. That is the way the regular ethical manufacturer does and I have no quarrel with it. I am citing these cases not to disparage the doctors who have written these letters, but rather to show that doctors in good standing, in spite of their prejudice against Peruna, scores of doctors, have been convinced of its value in the treatment of catarrhal diseases.

I am a doctor myself. I have probably treated more patients than any one doctor in the state in which I live. I doubt if there are many doctors in the United States who have treated more cases. I have long been convinced that Peruna is a great remedy for catarrhal diseases. I have seen thousands, yes tens of thousands, of people recover from catarrhal ailments by the use of Peruna. I cannot believe otherwise than that Peruna is today the best remedy that has ever been devised for catarrhal diseases.

I am not sure but that I will have my files searched for similar letters to the ones I have alluded to, for there are a great many of them filed away. I may publish a book containing a large number of testimonials given me by doctors, which I have withheld from the public because I was not willing to pay any one for writing a testimonial, however valuable it might seem to be. Of course I will not use this booklet for public advertisement since I have not the doctors' consent to do so, but it will be sent through the mails to those only who request it, chiefly to the medical profession.

SPECIAL NOTICE—Many persons inquired for The Old-time Peruna. They want the Peruna that their Fathers and Mothers used to take. The old Peruna is now called Karno. If your dealer does not keep it for sale write the Karno Company, Columbus, Ohio, and they will tell you all about it.—Advertisement.

Dr. Hartman Makes Public the Facts As to What Doctors Think of Peruna

dreads of testimonials from doctors if I would pay the doctors for doing so. I recently received such a letter from Kentucky, from a doctor who says he has been practicing medicine for a quarter of a century, and is at present "medical referee for this county, president of the county medical board, local surgeon of the C. & O. railroad, member of the state medical society and American Medical Association," and all that. He has used Peruna and offers to give me a very remarkable testimonial if I would pay him for doing so. He does not set any price but which of course I refused to do. He said, "I have been afflicted with a sub acute inflammatory condition of the post nasal space, and of recent years the larynx has been involved in the catarrhal process. Your Peruna entirely relieved me of both conditions, after a comparatively short time of using it. Today I am the happiest man alive. Medical men will hardly believe me when I tell them that your medicine cured me, but it is a fact. Nevertheless I had tried for fifteen years every known means, took treatment at several sanitariums." He is willing to take oath to these statements if I will make it worth his while to do so.

It is very gratifying to receive such a testimonial from a brother physician and given a temptation to pay him a small sum and allow his letter to be published. But I have an undeviating policy of refusing to pay any one for a testimonial. Nothing would sooner lead to insincerity and embarrassment than to offer pay for testimonials. I should be flooded with testimonials of all sorts and in spite of every precaution some of them would be untrustworthy.

In referring to the doctor's letter I do not consider that I am violating the ordinary courtesies and confidences of private correspondence. I have not made use of his name or the town where he resides. But I am perfectly willing to communicate the name and address by private correspondence if any one wishes me to do so, or submit the letter for examination to any inquirer who may call at my office. And I may say the same in advance of the next letter that I am about to refer to.

Another doctor from North Carolina writes me. He says: "I have a case under observation now permanently cured by Peruna that has baffled the medical profession ever since the disease was known." He says, "I have successfully cured the case with Peruna and feel that if the public knew the facts about the case that it would be a great boon to the public, as well as the greatest advertisement ever given any medicine on the market." He says, "I can furnish a sworn statement of the particular case and give you the greatest ad. for Peruna ever known for any remedy. The disease cured in this case is regarded by the profession as incurable. I prescribed the Peruna myself and knew all the particulars. The patient had consulted leading medical authorities, had taken the most modern treatment, and everything failed, not even obtaining relief. He had also applied for insurance and upon examination was rejected
