The advantages that Boyles College o ffers he or she who wishes to most thoroughly, most successfully train for a pro sperous career as a Stenographer, Book-keeper, Stenotypist, Telegrapher or Sales man, are ones that are undeniable—ones that are big enough to cause you to prefer Boyles Cellege to any other commercial training institution. cial training institution.

First, our Situation-Finding Department, plus the prestige this college has earned, enables us to gain the best of positions for our graduates. We even go further and get positions for many grad uates of other schools who have not sufficient interest in their graduates to spen d the time and the money necessary to ficient interest in their graduates to spen d the time and the money necessary to gain positions for them.

Second, we alone of all the schools in Omaha can teach you the great new profession of Stenotypy—by which you sit before a wee little machine and record the fastest dictation—and produce that record in big, black, type-print—as plain as a "piece" out of a Third Reader. Stenotypists record so much faster dictation than shorthand writers ever can that they are in tremendous demand among the big business offices where swiftness of mind in recording dictation and absolutely invariable accuracy are in great demand.
