Blondes and Brunettes All Welcome New Shampoo

It certainly will be glad news to every lady to learn of a really successful hair shampoo. Soape fade the hair, injure the roots, make the scalp scaly and leave the hair stringy. These conditions are caused by the alkali in soaps. A successful product has fin-ally been made from the cocoanut and other vegetable oils that gives a most wonderful shampoo. It is known as Coconide. You simply dissolve a teaceconide. You simply dissolve a teaspoonful in a cup of hot water and shampoo in the usual way. The results are astonishing. The hair becomes wavy, fluffy, bright and siken.
The scalp is delightfully refreshed and all dandruff disappears. But the best part is the after-effect. The hair roots are invigorated, growth promoted and hair loss immediately stopped. Wamen everywhere who have tested this Coconide are enthusiastic. A fifty-cent package is sufficient for ten or more elegant shampoos. Any druggist has Coconide in stock or will quickly get it from his wholessic house. Any lady that really cares about her hair should get some of this Coconide without delay, but should not be talked into taking something clase instead, as there is nothing that is even similar to it. A single trial proves this. It is equally as good for men's and children's hair.

After extensive investigation it was found that he got it in his power to appoint committees which ever gave him the power to appoint himself as chairman of the committee on rules." The congressman was warming well to the subject when the chairman reminded senator is the fact that all roads lead to New York and all rates are primarily for New York. For this reason all the great industries are forced to locate on vantage of the cheaper freight rates. The rates from New York are affected by the competition on the lakes and for this reason it is cheaper than rates in districts

"The way to solve this problem for the west is to revolutionize the rates so that The senator then touched the bility of making the Mississippi river navigable to a greater extent. "If we can spend $400,000,000 on the Panama canal and not feel it, as we have done," ne said, "then I want to know why we can't spend some money in like manner to open up this great artery of commerce through the heart of the country and into the great lakes. Along with this comes the idea of improving our own old Missouri river. They have told us it could not be harnessed. I say, gentlemen, it can be harnessed, but we can't harness it with a straw rope.
