COCKETY-É

OMAHA man who returned from Europe within the last few weeks, has decided that Europe is not the only place the traveler can be "held up." In fact he has been abroad so many times that he is now able to accomplish the feat, missing very few of the interesting events over there, and still have shillings, francs and marks, literally speaking, in his pockets.

jubilant over the fact that he had spent the summer in Europe without being short-changed or overcharged to any great extent. But upon landing in New York, he gave a messenger boy 60 cents of Uncle Sam's coin of the realm with which to send a telegram to the folks at home telling of his safe arrival.

How to Beautify Complexion and Hair

To retain a charming complexion, tender skins need better protection against harsh, cold winds than is given by face powder. There is no finer complexion-besutifier to be had than a lotion made by dissolving a ounces of spurmax in a half-pint which hazel (or hot water), and adding 2 teaspoonfuls of giveerine. While this lotion cannot be detected when applied to the face, neck and arms, it transforms an ordinary complexion into one of girlish attractiveness. It does not show or rub off like face powder and is much easier to apply. This spurmax lotion will clear up and whiten any sallow skin and make it youthful and charming. It is unequaled for overcoming that shiny, greasy look which is so troublesome to many ladies.

Quite a risk is taken in using "dry shampoos," for unless the powder is entirely brushed out it will clog up the pares in the scalp and cause dandruff. One can shampoo thoroughly only by thing water. As it is dangerous to use soap and most ready-prepared shampoos, owing to the "free" alkalt they contain, which tends to kill the hair, making it didli, faded and streaky, most pleasing itsulfs will be experienced from a shampoo made from one leaspoonful of canton of the pares the hair bright, soft and fluffy. This shampoo has given such excellent salisfaction that it is now being used exclusively by many hairdressers—Advertisement.

The small boy evidently put the money in his pocket, for no message several telegrams asking if said traveler had arrived.

His next experience was nearer home. On the dining car, he gave the walter a five-dollar bill to pay for his breakfast. After waiting for a considerable time, he called the waiter and asked for change. "There ain't no change, sah," replied the waiter, "you gave me a dollah and your breakfast was a dollah." A passenger across the aisle witnessed the episode and came to his assistance, but to no avail; the waiter kept the
