

GRAIN AND-PRODUCE MARKET

Possible Attempt Will Be Made to Capitalize War News.

WHEAT SITUATION IS BEARISH

Farmers Do Not Seem Disposed to Rush Their Corn to Market on Account of the Low Prices Prevailing.

OMAHA, Nov. 12. 1912.

It may be possible that the bulls in wheat and the bears in stocks will, from time to time, attempt to make additional out-of-war news, which is likely to make an appearance here for some time to come. The legitimate grain market grows more and more bearish with the passing of days. There are innumerable circumstances which tend to depress against the bulls and in favor of the bears. The most important bear item is the lack of demand for cash wheat on either domestic or export account. In many sections of the country grain dealers are enabled to secure more wheat near home than they can possibly use, and a fact has caused them to withdraw from the market. Kansas City, St. Louis and Omaha market was held up last night as though the wheat trailers were short last night from the way in which they were offered. Indemnities which were due above the regular market price were down with a slight indemnity which was paid to the buyers of the wheat. A majority of the traders said there was nothing to the closing advance except a little extra money shorts because of the break in the market when the wheat was taken off the market.

One of the most active of the traders in corn said a majority of the operators thought that prices were low enough for the buying by shorts on predictions who were nervous about the future of the weather. One of the largest buyers said his action was due to the break in stocks and a belief that the price were overpaid. He regarded the market as head and short, and argued that farmers were holding disposition to rush the new crop to market on account of the low price and that as supplies of old corn are light there should be a demand for all the new corn that comes to market in the near future. Cash corn was unchanged.

While oats stocks are beginning to pile up more rapidly than at any other time this season, with 2,635,000 bushels in two weeks, the market did not break in a way that the bears could like and the desire to accept small profits by traders makes the market a choppy affair. Cash corn was steady at $1.10 higher.

Cash wheat was weak and round $3.00 bu.; corn, 80¢ bu.; oats, 47¢ bu.; Liverpool close: Wheat, 47¢ bu. lower; corn, 46¢ bu. lower; oats, 38¢ bu. higher. Winter wheat receipts were 2,570,000 bushels and shipments 1,429,000, while against receipts of 70,000 bushels and shipments of 50,000 bushels last year.

Primary corn receipts were 45,000 bushels, while against receipts of 51,000 bushels and shipments of 220,000 bushels last year.

Primary oats receipts were 1,047,000 bushels and shipments 1,049,000, while against receipts of 40,000 bushels and shipments of 70,000 bushels last year.

CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISIONS

Features of the Trading and Closing Prices on Board of Trade.

CHICAGO, Ill., Nov. 12.—Strength of resources, which was the main factor while thought that a big advance in wheat was best augured an approach of hostilities between Servia and Austria. In consequence, the market closed steady at a net decline of 4¢ to 5¢. Corn finished net down to 4¢, while oats were 4¢ higher to 5¢. In provisions, the outcropping from unchanged figures to 12¢c advance. Reports of hot winds in one Argentine province and of too much rain in another were offset in the local wheat market by a good increase in the world's visible supply. December fluctuated between $8.69/bu. with last sales 4¢c net lower at $8.65/bu.

Rain and snow gave temporary strength to corn, but a forecast of favorable weather led to a further fall in the market. December ranged from 4¢c to 5¢c, closing steady 4¢c net under last night at 4¢c/bu. Cash grades were No. 2 yellow was quoted at 3¢c.

Big and small movements of other grain caused the fall in oats. Unchanged lower levels for December were 3¢c/bu. and 3¢c, with the close at 3¢c, a net decline of 3¢c.

Backbone in the provision market came from commodity house buying that ignored weakness at the yards. December lard achieved the greatest advance, 12¢c.
