

STATE BANK TO OPEN TODAY

New Concern Will Keep Open House All Day.

A. D. SCHANTZ IS THE PRESIDENT

Other Officers Are All Well Known Bankers and Have Been Engaged in the Business for Some Years.

The State Bank of Omaha is to be formally opened for business this morning at 9 o'clock and will be open Saturday from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m.

Albert L. Schantz is the president of the new bank. He was formerly manager of the Bennett store.

There will be flowers for the women who visit the bank during the open hours Saturday, and the officials promise there will be something for the gentlemen, but they have not yet said whether it will be cigars or what.

CADET TAYLOR TALKS ON TARIFFS AND CUSTOMS

Cadet Taylor, United States collector of internal revenue in Omaha, addressed the members of the civil government class of the public library at the library building Thursday night on the subject of "Tariff and Customs Duties."

Mr. Taylor explained to the class the various tariffs from 1899 down to the present day. He discussed the theories of both the republican and democratic parties, not from a political standpoint, but from that of an official.

Over thirty members of the class listened to the address, besides a large number of outsiders.

Death of Lumbard Brings Poverty to Widow of Brother

A single 50-cent piece is the coin that stands between Mrs. Frank Lumbard and absolute pennilessness, according to word from Chicago, her home.

Mrs. Lumbard's mother was one of the moving spirits, back in the early '90s, in the establishment of the Chicago Home for the Friendless.

The 50-cent piece that is Mrs. Lumbard's entire capital is not in the form of legal tender. It was found on a battlefield of the civil war.

When General Grant appeared in Chicago on his return from his trip around the world this coin was thrown onto the stage of McVicker's theater on the night of his appearance there.

Mrs. Lumbard, who is staying with friends at 102 West Sixty-eighth street, Chicago, until arrangements can be made for her future, has many wartime anecdotes of interest to the few remaining veterans.

The recent death of Jules Lumbard left the aged widow of his dead brother Frank without any means of support.

Man Who Admires Volunteer Lass is Released by Foster

Edward Benninghoff, representative of the National Fur and Tanning company, 1925 South Thirtieth street, arrested Saturday night on complaint of his wife, on a statutory charge, was discharged by Police Magistrate Foster for lack of evidence.

Mrs. Benninghoff, who resides in Council Bluffs, followed her husband around for four weeks disguised as an old woman and saw him taking Miss Georgia Smith, a member of the Volunteers of America, to theaters, and afterwards to supper numerous times.

She employed six private detectives to watch Benninghoff. They testified in police court that they had seen Benninghoff go with Miss Smith to her rooms at 4019 Nicholas street several times, but had never seen him leave the house, although they had watched until after 12 o'clock.

Mrs. Benninghoff has started suit in district court for divorce. She says her husband left her penniless in Council Bluffs last winter and that at the present time she has little money. She is stopping at the Palace Hotel.

Swobe is Elected President of the Fidelity Company

At the regular meeting of the directors of the National Fidelity and Casualty company Edwin T. Swobe, the organizer and general manager of the company, was elected president, to succeed E. A. Benson, who was obliged to retire on account of the stress of private business and because he is required to be away from the city so much of the time.

About two years ago the company bought the old United States National Bank building, renovated it from top to bottom, put in tile and marble corridors, making it generally up-to-date and a credit to the city.

Formed originally for the purpose of doing business in Nebraska alone, the company has since been admitted into many of the western states.

In Looking for Pal Brady Makes Mistake

Approaching Block Watchman Pigrino at Fourteenth and Farnam streets about 3 o'clock Friday morning Jack Brady, a well known police character, told the officer in a hoarse whisper that he knew where both could make a "killing" by breaking into a jewelry store.

He said they could break in a rear window, obtain about $50.00 worth of diamonds, and if they had time after they had picked out the best stones they could blow the safe and get equally as much in money.

"And the best part of it is the block watchman will never be able to detect us," continued Brady. At this point Pigrino grabbed Brady and hurried him to the station in the police bus.

Mayor Inspects Roads in Missouri

Mayor Dahlman, who is at Excelsior Springs, Mo., riding fine saddle horses for his health, gave an interview to a paper there in which he declares he will ask the city commission of Omaha to appoint a committee to visit Excelsior Springs and inspect the system of oiled roads maintained there.

The mayor went on record strongly in favor of such a system here. He conferred with Mayor Bates of Excelsior Springs and together they inspected the roads about that city.

Roads Pay Nebraska a Fortune in Taxes

State and local governments will be enriched by a few thousand more than a million dollars within the next few weeks by the payment of the Union Pacific taxes. Kansas will also come in for a share of this big budget.

MANY MEN GIVE UP CHECKS

More Than Five Thousand Dollars Collected by Gang in Omaha.

COMPLAINTS ARE POURING IN

Scheme Worked May Be a Legitimate One, but It is Now Hard to Convince Patrons That This is True.

Scores of Omaha business men are beginning to believe that they have been swindled out of $5,000 or more by a clever gang of men who worked here for about two months last spring.

Of course it still remains to be seen whether or not the operations amounted to a swindle, yet practically all of the men who gave up checks ranging in value from $17.50 to $50 feel certain that they will never have value returned.

Establish an Office. The name, if it were such, was worked in the name of cartoonists employed on the Omaha daily papers.

Each of the business men who took space in the book was told that it would be published within ninety days, but eight months have elapsed and still nothing has been heard of "Omaha in Caricature."

Within the last few weeks Doane Powell of The Bee has received a score of letters from anxious patrons of the "Omaha in Caricature" asking for information, indicating that his name was used freely in the game.

Polished Young Men. The members of the gang had the appearance of being young college men, polished, smooth and apparently of good bearing.

Sam Faier, a pawnbroker at 514 South Tenth street, was arrested by Motorcycle Officer Emery yesterday on the charge of obtaining money under false pretenses from Hans Lagona, a farmer living at Aurora, Neb.

After Lagona left the store he believed it would be advisable to take a look at the works in the watch. He discovered that the watch was not a Waltham and lacked many jewels from being what it was said to be.

He returned to the pawnshop and demanded that Faier return the price of the timepiece, which the pawnbroker refused to do. He then swore out warrants for the arrest of Faier and Tom Saunders, in the employ of the pawnbroker.

Arrest Pawnbroker for Bilking Farmer

The two men were arrested and released on cash bonds for appearance in police court.

Fire Warden Orders Old Buildings Down

Fire Warden Ed Morris has ordered the demolishing of two two-story flat buildings and one street car barn, which he inspected and declared dangerous as fire-traps.

The other flat building is at Tenth and Douglas streets. Several small frame buildings in that vicinity also have been condemned and ordered torn down.

An old car barn at Twenty-first and Ames avenue has also been condemned and the street car company will be notified to tear it down at once.

Many other small buildings and shacks are on the fire warden's list and will be ordered demolished.

Courtney Lays Off for a Week to Rest Up

C. H. Courtney has gone to Excelsior Springs for a week's rest in preparation for heavy holiday rush. From Excelsior Springs he will go to Kansas City, where he will visit the larger retail and wholesale grocery companies to get ideas for his holiday decorations and sales.

LITTLE LAD IS STRICKEN WITH SPINAL MENINGITIS

The little son of Charles Powell has been stricken with a very serious case of spinal meningitis. The lad was attending Lake school. The principal at Lake has been instructed by the city health commission to thoroughly fumigate two rooms of the building, where there is possible danger.

Bring $5 Saturday morning and join the Orkin Brothers Piano Club

If you come down town Saturday morning, come in and join the Orkin Brothers piano club.

Come in, anyway, and look at the piano—and hear it. If you think well enough of it—5 dollars is all it takes to join the club.

The remainder of the club price ($252.50) is then payable at the rate of 1 dollar and 25 cents a week.

You may have the piano delivered at once, or later—just as you wish.

The weekly payments of 1 dollar and 25 cents does not necessarily begin until the piano is delivered, though you may, if you wish, keep up your weekly payments until you have your piano delivered if you do not want your piano until later.

The important protective feature of the club becomes operative when you begin your weekly payments. From that time on, should you die, the remaining unpaid payments will be canceled forthwith and a receipt in full for the instrument will be turned over to your family.

There are so many reasons why you should join the Orkin Brothers piano club if you are thinking of buying a piano, that they cannot all be mentioned in one advertisement.

The thing to do is to investigate them. Go over them one by one with one of our salesmen who can explain them point by point to you.

A piano is something you do not buy every day—you owe it to yourself to look well into what you are getting before you do buy.

For the convenience of people who cannot come in during the day appointments will be made to show the piano evenings
