

CHOLERA RAVAGES INCREASE

More Than Six Thousand Cases Among Turkish Troops.

NO EASY TASK FOR BULGARIANS

Seven Stipulations Made by Leader of Allied Nations in Reply to Turkey's Request for Peace.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Nov. 16.—By way of Kustendje.—The cholera epidemic among the Turkish troops holding the line of fortifications at Tchatalja, in front of Constantinople, is rapidly becoming worse. More than 6,000 cases are reported daily and the total number already exceeds 6,000.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Nov. 16.—An official statement issued this evening on the basis of a telegram received from the Turkish commander at Scutari reports a defeat of the Montenegrin troops in the vicinity of Scutari. The commander's telegram says:

"We have beaten seven battalions of Montenegrins who were advancing on the heights of Kakarik. The enemy fled beyond the Boyana river, abandoning 100 of their dead, many rifles and a quantity of ammunition. We captured a quantity of baggage belonging to General Tchorevitch and his tent, sword and uniform."

Another official statement denounces as infamous the charges that the Ottoman troops have been guilty of massacres, pillage and other excesses.

The denial is supported by statements of seven foreign war correspondents who say they saw nothing of this character, but, on the contrary, everywhere the Turkish troops displayed extreme moderation in their dealings with Christian non-combatants.

Bulgarian troops have reached the vicinity of Killos, on the Black sea coast, at the entrance to the Bosphorus, and within a few miles of the capital. The men belonging to the Turkish lifeboat station have left.

Whatever hopes the Turks may have had of maintaining the line of defense at Tchatalja have been dashed by the outbreak of cholera. An eye-witness declares he saw 300 corpses buried in one very shallow trench at Hadenkull, the headquarters of the Turkish commander-in-chief, on Tuesday. The bodies were dragged to the trench on hooks.

While cholera is undermining the Turkish defenses, it also constitutes a most formidable opponent to the Bulgarian advance and it is generally believed here that the outbreak has disposed of the question of even a temporary occupation of Constantinople by the Bulgarian troops. It is thought unlikely that King Ferdinand of Bulgaria will risk the lives of his soldiers in this way if he can avoid it.

Situation Perplexing.
LONDON, Nov. 16.—As the censorship permits no news to come from the front, the situation at the scene of the fighting in the Balkans is more perplexing than ever tonight.

Various reports have drifted in, however, among them that Adrianople has fallen; that the Bulgarians have captured Hadenkull, the headquarters of the Turkish commander-in-chief; that Nasim Pasha, the Turkish generalissimo, had capitulated, and that the Bulgarians, either by sea or by land, had reached the vicinity of Killos on the Black sea coast, a short distance from Constantinople. These reports are still without confirmation. A vague dispatch is published at Sofia that six forts along the Tchatalja line have been captured after what are described as heavy sacrifices on the part of the Bulgarians.

All the reports previously published through the Vienna Reichspost or emanating from other sources go to show that the Bulgarians are having no easy task. Nothing is known as to whether the battle continues. The British government has received no news from the seat of war for some days.

What perhaps is of greater import than the progress of the hostilities in southeastern Europe, however, is the revelation of the tremendous ravages cholera is making, not only among the destitute refugees who daily are arriving in thousands in Constantinople, but among the Turkish troops on the Tchatalja lines.

Bulgaria Offers Terms.
Bulgaria's terms of peace to Turkey, as reported at Vienna, and sent from that city by the correspondent of the Daily Telegraph, consist of seven stipulations. Included in the first stipulation is the surrender of the Tchatalja army and its withdrawal, guarded by Bulgarians.

The second provides for the evacuation by the Turks of Adrianople, Scutari, Monastir and Janina.

The third calls for payment of a war indemnity.

The fourth demands the surrender of conquered territory.

The fifth calls for the internationalization of Constantinople.

The sixth provides for opening the Dardanelles and making Saloniki a free port.

Since Bulgaria has already expressed a willingness to leave the status of Constantinople and the Dardanelles to the power, says the correspondent, the fifth and sixth clauses of the terms as reported here appear improbable.

American Greeks Brave.
The few newspaper correspondents who have seen the Greek army at Saloniki unite in declaring that the American contingent was the backbone of the organization. The Morning Post correspondent with the Turks says these 3,000 men "defied the army and made the infantry incomparable."

Germany Forms

Oil Monopoly to Oust the Standard

BERLIN, Nov. 16.—The government tonight made known the proposed law creating the state petroleum monopoly which is to oust the Standard Oil company from Germany. The monopoly covers only illuminating oils.

In an exhaustive brief which accompanies the draft of the proposed law, the government declares that the Standard Oil company first conquered the whole sales and is now exterminating the retailer. The government in 1896, it is stated, realized the danger ahead and the time has now come when it must act to prevent absolute monopoly and price increases.

It will be possible, the brief asserts, to supply Germany with oil without the Standard Oil company from Galicia, Rumania, Russia, Germany and American independents.

It was desired to include benzine in the state monopoly, but the government was unable to do this, since the control of the product was complete and unassailable. The new law provides for the organization of a stock company with a thirty-year contract, under the supervision of the chancellor, who will appoint an imperial commissioner vested with complete oversight of all the company's transactions. The commissioner is to have a council of twenty experts. The company's by-laws and any subsequent change therein will require the chancellor's assent.

The capital stock is to be 30,000,000 marks, divided in registered stock and scrip. Both share equally in the profits but the registered stock possesses increased voting power, which must be never less than a majority.

The company will have a monopoly of the production, importation and wholesaling of oil and is clothed with power to appropriate existing plants, equipments, tank cars, tank wagons, etc.

Jewish Business Men Celebrate Election

Thirty prominent Jewish business men of Omaha gave a banquet at Morris Arkin's cafe at 218 South Fifteenth street in honor of the election of Edward Simon and Martin Sugarman to the house of representatives. Harry Lapidus was toastmaster. He spoke highly of the efficiency of the two candidates and said they would do work creditable to Omaha while at the state capital.

Martin Sugarman talked at length upon the election and told what he intended doing while at Lincoln. He inferred that Mr. Simon might be asked to accept the position of speaker of the house and if he should he would do all in his power to secure the place for him. The assembly loudly applauded this statement. Mr. Simon made an interesting talk, which was followed by short addresses by a number of others gathered around the banquet board.

Those present were: Harry Lapidus, toastmaster; Edward Simon, Martin Sugarman, Harry Zimman, Harry A. Wolfe, Herman Aurbach, S. J. Leon, Max Levy, J. L. Brodkey, J. Hips, A. Rips, J. MANUFACTURERS ARE SOLID
They Complete Organization at Meeting Held Yesterday. ENDORSE MANY PROPOSITIONS. Factory Owners from All Parts of the State Attend Meeting Which Results in a Solid Organization.

Governor-elect Morehead's prison labor plan, the "Made-in-Nebraska Show," development of water power, workmen's compensation, the blue sky law, opening the Missouri river to navigation and pure food were endorsed yesterday afternoon by the Nebraska Manufacturers' association directly after it had completed its organization and elected officers.

The dream of the Omaha Manufacturers' association, that of a state association of Nebraska manufacturers, is now a reality. Factory owners from all over the state attended the Omaha convention and their enthusiasm resulted in the formation of a sound organization of nearly 300 members.

The officers elected are: President—C. B. Towin, Lincoln. First Vice President—John H. Steinhardt, Nebraska City. Vice President—C. D. Dempster, Omaha. Secretary—P. M. Fodres, Omaha. Treasurer—Scott O. Omaha. Directors—C. L. Ailer, Crete; C. D. Marr, Fremont; Edmund Simmons, Scottsbluff; W. C. Shinn, Lincoln; H. E. Osoch, Lincoln; F. S. Knapp, Omaha; Chauncey Abbott, Schuyler; H. Nebraska Organization.
In the beginning the Omaha manufacturers made it plain that no Omaha man would accept the presidency or first vice presidency. When Temporary Chairman F. L. Elick, resigned yesterday morning that he might attend the meeting of the Workmen's Compensation commission, he asked that F. E. Sanborn be elected to take his place in order that any attempt to make an Omaha president or first vice president would be thwarted. Sanborn was made chairman and the stand the Omaha manufacturers had taken at the beginning of the convention held good to the end.

The committee on resolutions made its report before the election took place and all its suggestions were unanimously endorsed. Practically every subject that had been brought up during the convention, such as a workmen's compensation act for Nebraska, prevention of fire waste, conservation of the state's resources, the blue sky law and Governor-elect Morehead's plan to put state prisoners at work on the country roads and on a farm were enthusiastically endorsed.

Resolutions thanking the Omaha Commercial club, the Omaha press and the Omaha Manufacturers' association for the courtesies given them while here were also included in the committee report.

Following adjournment the board of directors held a meeting and began preparations for a membership campaign. Members of the board will work in their home districts and local associations will be formed in practically all of the arrier towns of the state.

Delegates from Lincoln, Nebraska City and Fremont declared their intention of organizing local associations of manufacturers as soon as they return home.

The place of meeting for the next annual convention will be decided upon by the board at its next meeting, which will be held at the call of the president. In the meantime the association members will direct their efforts toward the in-

GUNMEN CLOSE THE DEFENSE

Dago Frank Relates Story, Attempting to Prove Alibi. DOZEN WITNESSES ARE HEARD. Four Informers Brought Into Court to Face Men on Trial Exchange Sneers and Savage Glances.

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—The case for the defense in the trial of the four gunmen accused of killing the gambler, Herman Rosenthal, was completed yesterday. Nearly a dozen witnesses testified in support of the gunmen's claim that the two informers, Harry Vallon and "Bridgie" Webber, and an unidentified stranger had fired the fatal shots at the murder. He left "Gyp," "Lefty" and "Whitey" Lewis, were on the scene only as innocent spectators and that the fourth, "Dago Frank," was not there at all.

"Dago Frank," a diamond pin flashing from his tie and a gold watch chain dangling from a waistcoat of the latest cut, told on the stand the story that purported to be his alibi of the night of the murder. He left "Gyp," "Lefty" and "Whitey" at "Bridgie" Webber's poker room just after the mysterious stranger had invited them all to go to the Hotel Metropole, where Rosenthal was slain, to see Jack Rose, he said. He went to the home of his girl, Jean Gordon, he swore. When he got there he found that she had been arrested and he went to the police station to bail her out. It was not until then that he heard of the murder of Herman Rosenthal, he declared.

Then followed testimony from the lips of an old woman, which corroborated the stories delivered yesterday by the other three defendants, that Webber and Vallon were the real gunmen in the case. The witness was Mary Kydd, who was selling newspapers near the Metropole on the morning of the murder and who swore that she saw four men fitting the description of Jack Rose, Sam Schepp, Webber and Vallon in a group near the hotel and that the shot fired came from that group. She did not see the four defendants there at all, she said.

John Hickey, a bartender, swore he saw Rosenthal shot at by a man whose description in some particulars fitted that given by the gunmen of the mysterious stranger and in others "Bridgie" Webber. He saw three other men fire, but could not see their faces, he said.

A barber testified that he saw "Bridgie" Webber running from the scene. Giovanni Stanish, eye-witness for the state, was called in rebuttal before court adjourned and while he was on the stand Rose, Webber, Vallon and Schepp were brought into the court room and lined up against the rail, in front of which the gunmen were sitting. Stanish swore that he had not seen them at the Metropole.

The gunmen turned in their seats and the sneers and savage glances that passed each other in one room for the first time since their arrest, excited the keen interest of the spectators. The informers will be called in rebuttal by the state tomorrow. It was on the understanding that they fired no shots at Rosenthal that they were given immunity from prosecution.

It is expected the case will be in the hands of the jury by Tuesday. The lawyers indicated today that they would spend all day Monday in summing up.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—The United Daughters of the Confederacy in convention here today voted unanimously to hold the 1913 convention in New Orleans. The New Orleans delegation made a vigorous campaign for the honor, and when the final vote came won without opposition.

The New York delegation made an effort to secure the convention for New York City, but when it became apparent that sentiment among the delegates was strongly in favor of the Louisiana city the New Yorkers withdrew.

Today's session of the convention went but meagerly attended.

NEWARK, N. J., Nov. 16.—The jury in the case of Ernest Welch, charged with participating in the tarring of Minnie La Valley at West Clarksfield on the night of August 20, tonight returned a verdict of guilty of assault and battery. Welch was the first to be tried of six men indicted.

The jury report found the defendant guilty as charged under the one count of assault and battery and not guilty of the other seven counts of "riotous conspiracy."

The maximum penalty is $300 fine and imprisonment in the workhouse. Sentence, however, was not passed and Welch was released under $500 bonds.

Murdered with Axe is Fate of Aged Man

OTTAWA, Kan., Nov. 16.—That William Marks, 69 years old, who was found dead in his home near here the night of September 15, may have been killed with an axe and his home burned to conceal the crime, was indicated by evidence given at the coroner's inquest, held today at Greenwood township, nine miles from here.

Marion F. Conner, a neighbor, testified that he found an axe on which were gray hairs near the ruins of the house the morning after Mark's body was found. The axe was introduced in evidence. Marks owned property valued at $5,000.
