

MANY TRIBUTES TO LARRABEE

Business Governor Had Long Contacts with Political Bosses.

INSISTED UPON GOOD SERVICE

No Executive of Iowa Has Held for So Long the Affection of a Majority of the People.

DES MOINES, Ia., Nov. 17.—(Special.)—William Larrabee, whose death occurred yesterday, had been referred to as a "war governor," but he was not a soldier during the war nor was he a soldier of the war. Rather he was Iowa's "business governor" for he was the most thorough business man that was ever in the governor's chair and he devoted his administration to business matters. At the very outset of his administration he came into conflict with the political ring which had previously directed affairs in the state, and gained the undying hostility of influential interests by his refusal to permit them to dictate his appointments in giving the policies of his administration. He insisted upon competency in the public service and economy of administration. This did not suit the politicians who had had access to the state treasury for various petty grafts and the result was that the administration of Larrabee was decidedly stormy. But he aided in establishing, largely through his chairmanship of the state executive council, a great many of the reforms that have since been perfected, and he was instrumental in giving the first big boost to the assessments of the railroads for taxation purposes.

The prohibition question was most troublesome during the Larrabee administration and to this day he is looked upon by opponents of prohibition as one of the authors of much of their trouble. But as a matter of fact, he was a high license man while in the legislature and not at all connected with the state-wide prohibition. When he came into office he found a prohibitory law which it was his duty to enforce and he did not shrink his duty. By reason of what he learned in that experience he became a staunch believer in absolute prohibition and he had much to do with encouragement of temperance sentiment in the state in recent years.

No governor of Iowa has so held to the end the warm affection of the majority of the people. He was greatly honored a few years ago by an invitation to appear before a joint assembly of the legislature on the occasion of his birthday. No other Iowa ever had a memorial service in his honor with him present in the flesh.

His funeral at the little village of Clermont will be largely attended by the prominent men of the state.

Tribute from Cummins.

"Governor Larrabee was one of the greatest men that Iowa has ever produced," said Senator A. B. Cummins. "I first formed a close acquaintance with him when I was elected to the legislature from Polk county in 1888. He was then governor. It was at this time that the railroad laws of the state were being revised and fitted into forms suggested by Larrabee. The railroad commission was established then. Governor Larrabee was not only interested in these reforms—he was responsible for them. During the session of the legislature when the matters came up the governor and I met frequently in conference and the close relationship which we enjoyed at that time has since been a matter of great comfort and benefit to me. Governor Larrabee was not only great as a statesman, he was great as a patriot with a big, loving heart, reaching out toward his fellow men. His administration was carried forward always with a purpose to accomplish something for the people of his state."

Teamsters' Strike and Labor Leaders.

The fact that at the last city election the ticket for members of the city council supported by the labor unions won out is having its effect in relation to the strike of the teamsters in this city. The majority of the members of the city council know that they owe their election entirely to the union laborers of the city. Their slightest wavering or inaction is taken to mean that they are subservient to the union laborers. They do not desire to go further in fighting the battles of the transfer companies than other officials. The result is that the strikers are encouraged to go on with their plans for forcible prevention of the carrying business of the city. The labor leaders know that they have little to fear from the present city administration and there is disagreement between the city and county authorities as to the plans for suppression of violence. The strike continues, with little prospect of change. Just at present there is little violence, but a delicate situation has developed which may cause injury to persons or property at any time.

Celebrate Victory Over Turks.

Three Italian societies of Des Moines united today in a celebration of the peace agreement between Turkey and Italy which has resulted in a large accession of territory in Africa for the Italian nation. They united in a parade of the downtown streets and a mass meeting at a hall, where several hundred met and heard spirited addresses and sang patriotic songs. The Italian colony in the city is in great rejoicing over the situation, and is ready to lend aid to the allies in the present war to annihilate the Ottoman empire.

LAST WEEK IN WALL STREET

Disturbances of Previous Period Are Quieted to Great Extent.

MONEY SUPPLIES RESTRICTED

Shift in Attitude of Foreign Operators Toward American Securities Has Important Place Among Influences.

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—The principal feature of last week's stock market was the quieting of the disturbance seen in the previous week. While relieved from this disturbance there was little revival of strength or animation. Restricted money supplies were the main factor of restraint, although political uncertainties, both domestic and foreign, shared responsibility for this condition. Subject to these restrictions, underlying confidence found reflection in the firmness of tone and in the resistance to occasional pressure, until the close of the week, when announcement by President-elect Wilson that he would call an extra session of congress in April resulted in a downward movement. Such an announcement had been looked for in financial circles, however, and the moderate extent of the movement showed it to have been largely discounted.

Foreign Sentiment Changes.

An important item in the week's market influences was the shift in the attitude of foreign operators toward American securities. Repurchases on a large scale were believed to have been made of foreign speculative holdings, which were thrown over hastily in the panic conditions of mid-half of October, consequent on the break of Turkey's defenses. The news last week of most effect was of diplomatic exchanges looking to a peaceful adjustment of the points in dispute between the great powers of Europe over the proposed Balkan settlement.

Study New Legislation.

Governor B. F. Carroll is off on another junket. He left last night for New York. He will study first hand the employers' liability laws. The governor will be gone several days and he proposes to make an investigation that will give him sufficient information to make the proper sort of a recommendation to the legislature this winter when it convenes.

FIVE YEARS IN PRISON GIVEN TO FRANK WHITE

FORT DODGE, Ia., Nov. 17.—(Special Telegram.)—Frank White, alias F. M. Lee, a much-wanted criminal, this afternoon was sentenced by Federal Judge Henry T. Reed to five years imprisonment at Fort Leavenworth. White broke jail here last year by clever work while incarcerated in connection with Colliery burglaries. Shortly afterward his Clinton crime occurred and federal authorities suspected Lee. He was captured at St. Louis and returned to plead guilty and receive sentence. George McCormick, a Mason City bootlegger, also was sentenced. F. O. Barger, an Ellsworth newspaper man, was fined $25 for sending objectionable matter through mails in his newspaper. Henry Emerick of Ayraire, postmaster, was fined $100 for loaning government funds to mail carriers.

KILLS WIFE AND HIMSELF; THIRD SUICIDE IN FAMILY

CRESTON, Ia., Nov. 17.—Alva Bartlett, a blacksmith's helper here, killed his wife and himself this afternoon. His suicide completes the death of three brothers, each by his own hand. Mrs. Bartlett had just returned from Kansas City, where she had taken treatment. A daughter, Eida, watched the shooting and was the cause of the quarrel preceding the deaths.

Iowa News Notes.

DEWITT.—There was an attempt to rob the postoffice at Charter Oak on Friday night. The heavy explosion, which wrecked the vault door was heard by the night watch, who hastened to the office and began firing at the would-be robbers. They made their escape, but took nothing from the postoffice.

Notes from Beatrice and Gage County

BEATRICE, Neb., Nov. 17.—(Special.)—C. L. Rogers, a pioneer of Dewitt, Neb., died suddenly yesterday of heart trouble, aged 51 years. He is survived by his widow and one son. The funeral services were held from the Episcopal church at Beatrice yesterday at 2 o'clock.

A postoffice fight is on at Cortland between E. A. Grotjan, a republican, and Frank Miltenberger, a democrat, who wanted to succeed A. L. Sausman, who tendered his resignation last Monday.

The legality of the school bond election held at Cortland a few weeks ago for the erection of a new building to cost $15,000, has been attacked by twenty-seven residents of Cortland, who have filed a remonstrance against the issuance of bonds. They charge that five "questionable" votes were cast at the election, which they declare was illegal.

The Beatrice foot ball team will play its last game of the season on Thanksgiving day with the Topoka, Kan., eleven. No other games will be played until that time.

Lincoln Walks Over Ida Grove's Eleven

IDA GROVE, Ia., Nov. 17.—(Special Telegram.)—Lincoln won Saturday from Ida Grove, 35 to 10. Lincoln received the ball on the kickoff and marched down the field to a touchdown in five minutes, Lahr going over and Wilke kicking goal. Ida Grove took the ball down the field rapidly and from thirty yards march made a dropkick for goal.

Base Ball Association Gives Hastings Title

HASTINGS, Neb., Nov. 17.—(Special Telegram.)—Reports were received from Milwaukee today saying that the Board of Arbitration of the Minor's association had reversed the decision of the Nebraska State League directors and reinstated a game which Hastings won against Fremont and which the directors threw out on the ground that Hastings was carrying more men than the league rule allowed. This gives Hastings the league championship in spite of the directors' decision. Hastings and Fremont were left tied for the championship.

(Continued from Page One.) Then there is another little slide of no less than fifty acres on the opposite side of the canal. The result of these earth movements, which are quite exceptional in engineering practice, has been to leave the canal in its deepest portions, with very flat slopes. The encouraging feature of the heavy work at that point is found in the statement in the report "that none of the slides, which occurred during the year would have interfered with the passage of ships had the canal been in operation."
