TELLS OF THE ELLASONA BATTLE

Thousands of Ottoman Subjects Are Captured and Field is Literally Strewn with Their Dead Bodies.

Slaughter of Turks was so terrible and terrific that it was impossible to count the number of dead strewn over the battlefield near the little town of Servia. where one of the first engagements of the Salkan war was fought. This information one fust reached Omaha in a letter writen by John Kamero to his brother leorge D. Kazeros, a grocer at 1603 Jack-

This is the first letter to reach Omaha direct from the field of action, where the allies have opened up their veins for the cause of Christianity. It was neither postmarked nor carried a stamp, it having been impossible to secure postage The fee was paid here by the brother who received the letter.

T CERTAINLY was a fine game at Lincoln Saturday, and the Omahar's who were fortunate enough to attend are still talking about it. There is just one rooter keeping quiet, Gould Dietz. Saturday noon, Everett Buckingham, manager of the Union Stock Yards and former governor of Ak-Sar-Ben, together with a special train of stockmen and governors of Ak-Sar-Ben, were the special guests at the State farm at Lincoln, at a delightful luncheon prepared by the fair co-eds of the domestic science department of the university. Gould Dietz, who is a veritable fairy godfather, asked the young women if they were going to the game. They re- board's office room in the city hall may plied sowewhat mournfully in the negative. Mr. Dietz was jollied considerably by his Omaha friends, but seemed to be having a very good time, nevertheless.

Omaha was well represented at the foot ball game at Lincoln Saturday society, business men and college youths and maids were all there. A large number planned to motor to Lincoln, but nearly everyone went by train instead. Among those attending were Misses Ella Mae Brown, Nell Moore of Council Bluffs, Ola Belle Hervey, Mrs. Eva Wallace, Mrs. C. Y. Smith, Mrs. C. Belden, Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Haller, Mr and Mrs. R. Public to Vote on Near and Far Side Street Car Stops

Whether street cars shall stop on the near side or far side of street intersections probably will be put to a vote of the patrons of the car company.

The municipal affairs committee of the Commercial club, after hearing from the managers of the car company at the regular meeting yesterday still maintains its stand for having cars stop on the near side and that recommendation will be referred to the executive committee of the club at its meeting Tuesday. As members of the executive committee of the club already have announced their favor of the municipal affairs committee decision, it probably will recommend that the matter be put to a vote of the car patrons and their choice will be acted upon by the city council through the passage of an ordinance which shall make the wish of the car patrons a fact. President Wattles informed the committee that the street car company would make any change that the patrons desired. He announced that more cars will soon be put into service and the people may decide on which side of the street they shall stop if the matter is made important enough. If such a referendum is taken, a committee member said, the question of owl cars will be inserted in the matter of choice.
