THREE KILLED BY JUMPING

Hotel St. George in Los Angeles Destroyed by Fire.

FOURTEEN PERSONS INJURED

Building is Six Stories High and Most of the Victims Were Trapped on the Upper Floors.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Nov. 19.—Three persons lost their lives in the fire which practically destroyed the St. George, a theatrical hotel, shortly after midnight last night. Fourteen were injured, of whom a baby, who was dropped in a flame swept hallway by a fireman, probably will die.

The dead are: MRS. CHARLOTTE HARRINGTON, whose stage name was Ella Moran, a vaudeville performer, killed jumping from the sixth floor.

JOSEPH MARTIN, Los Angeles, a jeweler's clerk, killed jumping from the sixth floor.

JULIUS MALONE, colored, night engineer of the hotel, who was trapped by the flames in the basement, but escaped, to die later in the receiving hospital. Among the more seriously injured is Miss Fern Melroe, a stock company actress from Chicago, body burns.

R. E. Harrah and Anna Harrah, vaudeville performers, were seriously burned, and Jefferson Osburne, an actor, was burned about the body and hurt in jumping.

After the fire had been extinguished and the ruins cooled, Fire Chief Eley began a search of the debris for other victims, but it is not believed that the list of dead or fatally injured will be augmented.

The flames are supposed to have been caused by crossed wires in a linen closet. When the first fire company arrived on the scene, the flames, which by some freak, had entirely missed the fourth floor and part of the fifth, had spread throughout the entire area of the sixth floor. One fireman made his way to the sixth floor and stumbled over "Baby" Harrington, who, badly burned, lay screaming upon the floor. The fireman picked up the child and dropped it from a window into a life net.

It is supposed that upon hearing the alarm Mrs. Harrington took her baby out of her room, and overcame with panic and the effects of the smoke fumes, dropped it in the hallway just before she leaped to her death from one of the windows. In jumping, Mrs. Harrington over-shot one of the life nets and was crushed to death on the pavement.

American Marries Countess in London

LONDON, Nov. 19.—Great interest was taken in the marriage today of Charles Wilkins Short, Jr., whose family comes from Cincinnati, O., and the Countess Camilla Hoyos at Holy Trinity church, Sloane street, as it was one of the very few instances in which an American man has married a titled foreigner.

A gathering at the church comprised many people prominent in society and included the Austro-Hungarian ambassador, Count Albert Mansdorff-Pouilly-Dietrichstein.

Countess Hoyos, the mother of the bride, subsequently held a reception at the residence of her brother, Sir James Beetham Whitehead. Mr. Short resides in Boston.

Illinois Postoffice Robbed

Stuart, chief postoffice inspector of the central division, today. The Sandwich office was dynamited and several hundred dollars in money and stamps taken. The loss at Chase has not been estimated.

FAST TRAINS MEET HEAD-ON

Six Men Killed in Collision Near Norlina, N. C.

SIX PERSON RECEIVE INJURIES

Florida-Cuba Specials North and Southbound on Seaboard Air Line Come Together—Orders Are Confused.

NORLINA, N. C., Nov. 19.—Six men were killed and six others badly injured in a head-on collision between the northbound and southbound Florida-Cuba specials on the Seaboard Air Line railway, one mile south of the Virginia-North Carolina state line, shortly after 4 o'clock this morning. All those killed or injured so far as reported were members of the crews and express messengers.

The dead: C. H. BECKMAN, engineer, Raleigh, N. C.; W. FAISON, engineer, Raleigh, N. C.; O. V. FRIDY, express messenger, Hopkins, Va.

TWO NEGRO FIREMEN, EXPRESS MESSENGER KING.

The northbound train, known as No. 81, was due at this place, eight miles south of the wreck, at 2:40 a. m. but did not pass until nearly 4 o'clock. The southbound train, No. 84, was due here at 4 o'clock. The trains met just outside the yards of Granite, a small station near the state line.

Relief trains were hurried to the scene from Norfolk and from Raleigh, N. C., carrying surgeons, nurses and officers of the railroad company. The badly injured were taken back to Raleigh for treatment.

The cause of the wreck has not been determined, but information received here indicates that Engineer Beckman on the southbound train confused his orders for the meeting of the northbound train.

Defendants in Salem Murder Trial Make Number of Motions

SALEM, Mass., Nov. 18.—The commonwealth in the trial of Ettore Giovanni and Caruso for the Lopez murder in the Lawrence textile strike, closed its rebuttal at noon today.

Michael A. Scanlon, mayor of Lawrence, the last witness for the prosecution, testified that he did not hear Ettore in his speech to the strikers at the city hall urge them to conduct the strike peacefully.

The jury was excused while counsel for the defense argued formal motions. One motion directed that the commonwealth be compelled to elect who fired the shot which killed Anna Lopez, and that if this were not done the case be taken from the jury.

Another motion directed that all testimony bearing on events before January 29, the day of the riot, be stricken from the record as far as affecting the defendant Caruso. For Giovanni it was moved that the pamphlet entitled "The Industrial Workers of the World, its history and methods," introduced by the commonwealth, be excluded.

On behalf of Ettore it was moved the jury be instructed to disregard any testimony of the defendant relating to his economic ideas or religious beliefs.

Attorney Peters, representing Giovanni, moved that his case be taken from the jury on the ground of insufficient evidence.

A similar motion on behalf of Ettore was made by Attorney Mahoney. Judge Quinn reserved decision on all the motions until later in the day.

Russell Tells How Money is Handled in the Subtreasury

CHICAGO, Nov. 19.—Methods of handling money in the subtreasury in Chicago and details of the events leading up to the discovery of the $1,300,000 shortage in government funds were explained today to the jury which is trying George W. Fitzgerald, former associate teller, on an accusation of having purloined the missing thousands.

Frank C. Russell, cashier of the subtreasury, testified that Fitzgerald was the only person who had a key to the steel box in which he kept the greater share of the money. He said there was a space five feet wide between Fitzgerald's cage and the next cage which was used as a passageway for employees.

Russell said that about 3 o'clock in the afternoon of February 28, 1907, Fitzgerald said he was out on his balance and was short $175,000.

"I told him to go back and count the cash," said Russell, "and later with the vault clerk I counted over the cash and found him short $175,000."

Fitzgerald told me he was positive he had the money at the beginning of the day because he had checked it into the vault the night before and out that morning.

BUZZINGS

M. R. Hildon's given name is "Marcellus," which keeps him looking like a Roman noble.

F. I. Elick is so full of "coat system" as applied to the job printing business that he talks the same way in his sleep.

Frank A. Kennedy claims the record for longest successful continuous publication of a labor paper.

Postmaster Wharton knows he's bald because he's been that way ever since he can remember.

Ralph Kitchen and W. Farnam Smith are sometimes mistaken for one another, but only when the other is not around.

John Grant Pegg, inspector of weights and measures took a look at the "Twelve Pound Loaf." He says the loaf is heavier than a dozen glances and puts his seal upon the weight of Miss Barrymore's optic.

Chief Dunn doesn't think the foot ball game at Lincoln was so much. On the train going to the game he played pinacle with Gus Reuse and Gould Dietz—and lost.

Four Sleuths Shot by Crook, Who Kills Woman and Himself

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—The body of Henry Vogel, described by the police as an international crook, and beside it the body of his girl, "Lottie," lay in the morgue today, and John Allen, a city detective, was dead, while in uptown hospitals four men, two of them detectives, were hovering between life and death, unable to give a connected account of how they were shot in a raid on Vogel's rooms, where he was sought as a diamond thief.

In the fusillade which followed the entrance of the detectives, Vogel and the woman were killed instantly. Accounts vary as to whether he shot his companion and then committed suicide, or whether they fell before the fire from the officers.

Of the wounded, hope was expressed for the recovery of two: Luigi Gaardi, a private detective, and William Butler, a waiter. For the other two, both shot in the abdomen, there was little hope. They are Martin E. Fay, a city detective, and Louis Mondasheim, proprietor of the hotel where the battle occurred.

Allen died shortly before 9 o'clock this morning. Operations were performed on Fay, Butler, the waiter, and on Mondasheim.

The police have in their possession two a handgun and a steamer bag, which, when opened, are expected to reveal the secret, if not the loot, of many big robberies.

The trailing of the pair yesterday which resulted in the fatal shooting followed directly the arrest of a dishonest servant girl. She is Sophie Beckendorf, 18 years old, who broke down in the Tombs, confessed to several robberies and implicated Vogel as the "fence" for servant girls, who made it their practice to answer advertisements and accept positions with the sole idea of robbery. She told the police of Vogel's whereabouts, and within an hour he had been trailed to a hotel where the fight occurred.

Attorneys in Steel Combine Hearing Indulge in a Row

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—Threats by attorneys for the United States Steel corporation to stop the taking of testimony in the government's dissolution suit and go at once before the circuit judges now sitting in Philadelphia to have their names on the admissibility of certain evidence marked a stormy session today before Examiner Henry P. Brown at the reopening of the examiner's hearings.

Objections were made by R. V. Lindabury, attorney for the steel corporation, to evidence offered by Dr. Francis Walker, United States deputy commissioner of corporations, designed to show "an artificial control of prices" of steel rails. Mr. Lindabury declared he would ask a suspension of the hearing until he could have the court pass on the evidence.

In the controversy Dr. Walker declared Mr. Lindabury had made offensive references to him, and Jacob M. Dickinson, the government's chief counsel, declared the steel corporation's attorney was insulting the witness. He demanded that the hearings proceed. The dispute was taken to a conference of attorneys.

At the resumption of the hearing this afternoon Attorney Lindabury asked that the hearings be stopped at once, so that the court could pass on the testimony of Dr. Walker. Examiner Brown ruled that the steel corporation rights were protected without such a course, but after further conference it was agreed that tomorrow should be set aside for arguing the question before the circuit judges at Philadelphia.

Aged Farmer Convicted of Murder

MEDINA, O., Nov. 19.—After deliberating all night, the jury which has been trying Christian Steuer, a 73-year-old farmer, for killing his wife, Mary, last June, returned a verdict of first degree murder with a recommendation of mercy. This probably means that Steuer will be sent to the penitentiary. Steuer is said to have wanted to acquire his wife's farm.

Sage Tea Was Used By Our Grandmothers

It is easier to preserve the color of the hair than to restore it, although it is possible to do both. Our grandmothers understood the secret. They made a "sage tea," and their dark, glossy hair long after middle life was due to this fact. Our mothers have gray hairs before they are fifty, but they are beginning to appreciate the wisdom of our grandmothers in using "sage tea" for their hair and are fast following suit.

The present generation has the advantage of the past in that it can get a ready-to-use preparation called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy. As a scalp tonic and color restorer this preparation is vastly superior to the ordinary "sage tea" made by our grandmothers.

The growth and beauty of the hair depends on a healthy condition of the scalp. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy quickly kills the dandruff germs which rob the hair of its life, color and luster, makes the scalp clean and healthy, gives the hair strength, color and beauty, and makes it grow.
