

SOCIETY BEE-HIVE

By MELLIFICIA. Monday, Nov. 25, 1912.

MISS ETHEL BARRYMORE has the pre-eminent feminine quality of not caring to discuss a woman's age.

There was much entertaining last week in honor of Ethel Barrymore, who is now Mrs. Russell Colt, for Mr. Colt, and also Mrs. Suzanne Sheldon Ainley. Mrs. Ainley, who is a member of Miss Barrymore's company, which was playing at the Orpheum, was entertained during her stay in Omaha by Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Fairfield. Friday evening Mr. and Mrs. Fairfield entertained at dinner in honor of these guests, when those present were Mr. and Mrs. Russell Colt, Mrs. J. T. Stewart, 25; Mrs. Ainley, Mr. Earl Gannett, Mr. Percy Standing, leading man for Miss Barrymore, and Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Fairfield.

During the dinner one of the guests remarked to Miss Barrymore, "what a coincidence, I remember seeing you at the opening of the Creighton Orpheum theater, when you were playing in 'Christopher Colt, Jr.," with John Drew and Maud Adams, and now you return to the same theater as Mrs. Colt." "That was several years ago," icily remarked Miss Barrymore, and the dinner guest brought up no more reminiscences.

For Social Settlement.

The benefit which was given by Mrs. Edgar Scott at the Jacobs hall Saturday afternoon for the social settlement was not only a success from a financial standpoint, but was one of the most enjoyable. Each member of the board pledged herself to give $5 to the maintenance of the institution and as the result of the entertainment Saturday afternoon Mrs. Scott was able to give $50 as her share and pledge. Many of the young society girls of the city gave and sold candy, and a smaller amount was raised in this way by Mrs. W. E. Bingham for the settlement.

An interesting program was given, in which Miss Gladys Van Sant gave two pianologues in an interesting manner. There were several numbers on the program of folk dances. Miss Irene Hatchford was graceful and artistic in her dance, "Spirit of Spring."

Several pupils of Miss Sweet and Miss Cooper gave several pretty dances. Mrs. William Jones gave a group of talking songs in an artistic manner.

Surprise Party.

A birthday surprise party was given in honor of Miss Mayme Peshel at her home, 1708 South Sixteenth street, Saturday evening. Luncheon was served by Mrs. A. Winkler and an enjoyable evening was spent. Those present were:

- Misses—Nellie Meskinen, Margaret Brewer, E. Dunsmuir, Anna Bosene, Kate Balkovic, Edna Colberg, Henry Schmitz, Joseph Schmitz, Andrew Shisko, Frank Cherek, O. Steinhilber.
- Misses—Nannie Hopkins, Alice Burnham, Vera Perry, Ellen Peltzer, Alva Ahlstrom, Beulah Hopkins, Lynn Ahlstrom, Kittle Hopkins.

Pleasures Past.

An informal tea was given Sunday afternoon at the home of Miss Anna Brazda, South Thirty-first street, in honor of the S. G. club.

Mrs. John Gilchrist entertained Friday afternoon for her niece, Miss Myrtle Boydston of Lincoln, who is her weekend guest. Miss Boydston expects to leave about December 1 to spend the winter in California. The time was spent with needlework. Red carnations were used in the decorations. Those present were:

- Misses—Dorothy Mills, John Gilchrist, M. C. Paul, Florence Christianson, Myrtle Boydston, Sherlie Freeman, Ruth Gannon.

Children's Party.

Mrs. H. C. Beckman gave a children's party Saturday afternoon at her home to celebrate the tenth birthday of her

YOUNG MOTHERS

No young woman, in the joy of homeing motherhood, should neglect to prepare her system for the physical ordeal she is to undergo. The health of both herself and the coming child depends largely upon the care she bestows upon herself during the waiting months. Mother's Friend prepares the expectant mother's system for the coming event, and its use makes her comfortable during all the term. It works with and for nature, and by gradually expanding all tissues, muscles and tendons, involved, and keeping the breasts in good condition, brings the woman to the crisis in splendid physical condition. The baby, too, is more apt to be perfect and strong where the mother has thus prepared herself for nature's supreme function. No better advice could be given a young expectant mother than that she use Mother's Friend; it is a medicine that has proven its value in thousands of cases. Mother's Friend is sold at drug stores. Write for free book for expectant mothers which contains much valuable information, and many suggestions of a helpful nature. BRADFIELD REGULATOR CO., Atlanta, Ga.

PARIS EVENING GOWN OF RED SILK MUSLIN.

Draped evening gown of red silk muslin. The kimono sleeves form a deep V in front and at the back. An original effect is given at the back by two high points, the first of white satin ribbon appliqued with dark roses, the second of Bohemian lace. The first crossing diagonally almost from shoulder to waistline and passing under the arms forms in front a high point with a huge bow of dark roses, where the other side of the bodice is trimmed (in front) with another point of Bohemian lace. The effect is continued by two long "fans" falling very low and hiding the draped movement of the skirt. The other part of the skirt, gathered at the waistline, is finely tucked. A band of the same Bohemian lace, edged with a band of red silk muslin, crosses the skirt at the height of the knees. The lower part is prettily draped and a bow of white satin falls on the small, pointed train.

CAR STOP ELECTION NOW ON

Passengers Start on Three Days of Voting for Preference.

OUTSIDERS TO HELP IN COUNT

Ballot Boxes to Be Kept Sealed When Cars Are Not on Streets—Voting Heavy and Seems to Favor the Far Side.

Street railway officials are well satisfied with the progress of the referendum vote being taken on the question of whether cars shall stop at the near or far side of the intersection. Except from remarks dropped by passengers they say they have no knowledge of what the vote is going to be. However, they are of the opinion that it will be decidedly in favor of the cars stopping on the far side, as is now the rule.

All cars leaving the respective barns were equipped with ballot boxes located within the enclosure occupied by the conductor. Passengers were given blank ballots on which they could express a preference as to the stopping places of cars.

In handling the boxes they are sealed when the cars are turned in at the respective barns, officers being designated for this purpose. The seals remain intact until the cars are taken up by other conductors. Then the seals are removed, and as soon as they go out on the lines voting is again in order.

Count Begins Wednesday Evening.

When not out on the lines and in actual service the boxes will remain sealed until 9 o'clock Wednesday night, at which time the count will begin. It will be conducted by company officials, who have issued invitations to members of the Commercial club and newspaper men to be present and witness the count.

The assertion has been made that the company favoring the far side stop, as is the present rule, will pack the ballot boxes for that purpose. The officials declare that nothing of this kind will be attempted or permitted. No person is allowed on either side of the question will have access to any of the boxes and no person will know anything regarding the votes until the count is made.

Far Side Leads.

Judging from the sentiment of the voters the far side stop will be approved by an overwhelming majority. The company's campaign is bearing fruit, and if future action depends on the vote the situation will probably remain unchanged.

Women are making good use of their first vote. They are standing practically solid for the far side, as the company's argument that a near side stop means wading through snow during the winter has been very effective in convincing them that the present system is the best.

John L. McCague, chairman of the municipal affairs committee of the Commercial club, which collected data and asked the street car company to change the stopping points of cars from far side to near side, concedes the defeat of the near side proposition by 20 to 1.

Legislators Favor the Car Companies

Paying for Paving

Replies in the affirmative from practically all the recently elected legislators have been received by President Good Dietz of the Omaha Auto Motor club, who wrote them before election asking whether or not they favored a bill requiring street railway companies in the state to pave eighteen inches of the streets outside the car tracks.

There is no reason why street railway companies in this state should not pave eighteen inches of the streets outside the car tracks and between the double tracks," says Dietz. "It is done in nearly every city in the country, and we believe the franchisees of street car companies in this state are liberal enough to allow the cities to have something in return for their money."

Dietz believes a bill will be presented to the coming legislature whereby cities can be relieved from paying the part of the streets used by car companies. The Omaha Auto Motor club wrote to the candidates for the legislature and the majority of those who were elected have replied to the club that they favor the new proposition.

Parkvale Church is in New Line of Work

Parkvale Presbyterian church has started a cabinet among the members of its congregations, the representatives being from each of the various church organizations of the parish. The object is to express the needs of each organization and to express the way each may be helpful to the church.

It has been decided to build on annex on the east side of the church for institutional work. Sunday night quite a sum of money was raised as well as some pledges for material. The flooring was donated by Deacon Norlen and the nails by Mr. Hansen. The house was filled Sunday night at a special service, when the pastor, Rev. A. E. Lehmann, preached on "Highly Approved Study in Workmanship." The cabinet will meet at the home of W. C. Moody Friday night.

NOLAN SWINDLES DENNISON

Man Who Worked Clever Fraud Last August Arrested in South.

HE MAY BE RETURNED HERE

Mails a Bogus Check to Himself, Opening the Envelope Before Dennison, Thus Securing His Confidence.

George W. Thomas, alias Drigs Nolan, who conducted a cigar business in Omaha for a while last summer, was arrested in Savannah, Ga., at the instigation of United States Attorney F. S. Howell on a charge of using the mails to defraud. W. B. Green was arrested in company with Nolan, but was released for lack of evidence.

Nolan was given a preliminary hearing before United States Commissioner Hewlett yesterday and his bonds fixed at $10,000. If he does not raise that amount he will be brought back to Omaha by Hugh B. Mills, secret service agent, who went to Savannah to appear against and identify Nolan.

Last August Nolan, who was then in the cigar business in Omaha, mailed a check to himself for $1,500, forging a name to it. The envelope containing this check he opened in the presence of Tom Dennison. He informed Dennison that he was going to send the check back and ask for a draft. He claimed, it is alleged, that the check was from a man to whom he had sold a tract of land several days previous.

A few days later, the indictment shows, he presented a New York exchange to Dennison for $1,953, which he asserted had been sent him instead of the check for $1,500. The $3 difference in the amount he is said to have stated was paid for the cost of making the draft. Nolan, who said he was going out of town for a few days, asked Dennison to cash the draft. Dennison said he would give him (Nolan) $150 and upon his return to the city would give him the rest. Nolan accepted this proposition heartily and disappeared. That was the last seen of him by Dennison.

Worked in Other Places.

According to Mr. Howell, Nolan has been pulling this stunt off all over the country and is every case worked the same trick and used the mails. It is on this point that the government took the chase up for the man, which has lasted over a period of four or five months.

Reports from Savannah say that Nolan attempted to break from the county jail there Saturday. He was saved three bars through when he was discovered by the jailer. In the cell with Nolan was a large caliber revolver, a watch and several saws. The jailer, fearing Nolan would use the revolver if trapped went up to the cell and told Nolan he was wanted in the office. The prisoner left the cell and while walking down the passage was grasped by the jailer and put in another cell.

Mrs. Zinn's Plight Arouses Sympathy
