

You'll like the way our salesmen treat you

These men are courteous, affable and painstaking. They are encouraged by these estimable traits of character. If you buy from one of them he'll thank you and mean it. If you don't, he'll regret it, of course, but he won't feel resentful. Not one of these twelve gentlemen will try to make you buy something you dislike. Buying clothing from them is a great deal like consulting with your friend about some business transaction. It's a real pleasure to trade with our salesmen.

King-Swanson Co.

16th & HOWARD STS.

F. S. KING, PRES. THE HOME OF QUALITY CLOTHES A. S. PECK, SEC. TREAS.

Quality garments—from our regular fall stock honestly and liberally reduced—are the kind you get at this

GREAT SALE OF SUITS AND OVERCOATS

No inferior clothing purchased with the intention of marking it at a price that would stand a liberal reduction and still return a handsome profit. None that has been purchased solely as a stock sweetener and from which you could not be fitted. The broken lots of our own gigantic quality stock—that's all.

What constitutes a sale?

This store holds a sale every day—not the so-called "Special" variety—but a regular selling of quality garments at prices that utterly smother competition. When we advertise a "Special Sale" it means a special pricing of its already low priced quality garments. We depend for success on our merchandise and our prices. Misrepresentation, exaggeration, superlative boasts are not a part of our methods, neither do we assume that the public is uninformed. That constitutes a special sale according to our ideas of genteel merchandising and truthful advertising. If your ideas correspond with ours no other "special sale" will look good to you.

Store service at sale time

This store boasts of a service that puts your interests in front of ours every time. It respects your wants instead of your desires. You get what you want, the way you want it. That is the main difference between it and less carefully conducted store services. Our salesmen are instructed to take their time with you, not to harass you into buying. If you are a little slow in deciding the salesman will not desert you, neither will he be taken away from you to wait upon some person less particular. This store service maintains, sale or no sale—and it's mighty pleasant to encounter.

Every garment a 1912 model

When you visit this store, bent upon saving money you come face to face with the newest clothing styles of the season. Each season we clean up completely—which means new styles the succeeding season. Having no old stock of our own and never having contracted the "job lot mania" this stock of ours offers only merchandise of the period. You can be totally unacquainted with 1912 styles and yet buy with just as much freedom as the best posted style-fan at this sale. No suspicion need ever enter your mind that the garments we show at special prices are questionable in style. Quality and style go hand in hand at this store—all the time.

Governor Sends Requisition for Man Wanted in Omaha.

HASTINGS FILES COMPLAINT

Alleges Grand Island Road is Discriminating Against City—Stock Breeders Hold Session in Capital.

From a Staff Correspondent. LINCOLN, Nov. 29.—(Special).—The county attorney of Douglas county has asked Governor Aldrich to issue a requisition on the governor of Illinois for E. P. Armitage, held at Pekin, Ill., on request of the chief of police of Omaha. Armitage drew $50 on a forged check to which he signed the name of the Domestic Vacuum Sweeper company by J. K. Gerber. The complaint is made by John W. Kennedy. After cashing the check Armitage left the country but was apprehended by the chief of police of Pekin and the Omaha authorities notified.

Hastings Makes Complaint. The Chamber of Commerce of Hastings has filed with the railway commission a complaint against the St. Joseph & Grand Island Railway company making the charge that unreasonable freight rates are charged. Hastings people are asking for an investigation into the matter.

Salary for Pardon Board. Governor Aldrich was very busy this morning getting ready to send out the proclamation of the constitutional amendments. He said that he could not tell just when they would be issued, but had ten days in which to get them out. When asked about recommendations which he expected to make to the legislature he said one in particular would be to make the salaries of the pardon board a fixed sum. I shall ascertain about what they have been receiving during the past biennium and recommend that amount for their salaries, which may possibly be a thousand dollars each. The board has been doing a good work, according to Governor Aldrich, and has recommended no man for a pardon or parole unless his time had nearly expired or his health was so poorly that it was a matter of sending him back to his relatives to die. The reports of those paroled show that they have contributed over $11,000 to the support of those dependent upon them and that nearly all of them have lived up to the conditions of their parole.

"I shall make the salary recommendation for the reason that it will be putting the board above the criticism of meeting for the purpose of drawing their salaries and they can go about their work more independently," said the governor.

Oil Inspectors Report. The report of the state oil inspector for the last month shows cash on hand at the beginning of October to be $1,200; receipts of the office for the month, $5,81.89, making a total on hand at the end of the month of $5,231.90. The disbursements were $1,833.04. There was turned over to the state treasurer $3,238.75, leaving a balance on hand of $1,200.

Certificates of Election. Secretary of State Wait is sending out certificates of election to the different presidential electors on the democratic ticket. As usual there is some scrapping among the faithful as to who shall carry the tidings to Washington. Under the law the secretary of state will mail a copy of the returns to Washington showing who has a right to the electoral vote of Nebraska. But for fear that something might go wrong precaution is taken and a law exists by which some one of the electors chosen by his comrades may take another copy down to Washington in person. He will receive a good mileage fee and some glory for doing the job. The fee will amount to sufficient so that he can travel in a Pullman coach, eat on a Pullman diner, "two-for-a-quarter" cigars, tip the porter occasionally, and being a democrat, he can take a little liquid refreshment before and after 5 o'clock and not be in fear of the Nebraska closing law.

Waldo Winterstein of Fremont, is one of the men who would like to carry the glad tidings, while Judge Dean of Broken Bow, feels that he could draw the mileage and use it in good shape. John W. Cutright, editor of the Lincoln Daily Star, is said to look with longing eyes at the "two mule per mile" pie, and as John did value the work for the democratic ticket, he ought to be remembered in that way. W. R. Heun of Tekamah is down in Washington now and if allowed to carry the vote he will come right home and get it, turn around and go back again. The other electors who have not as yet been heard from are John J. McCarthy, Ocellula; Edward A. Roth, Holdrege; S. M. Bally, Fairbury; and Sophus Noble, Wahoo.

Stock Breeders Meet. The executive committee of the Nebraska Live Stock Breeders' association is in session at the Lindell hotel this afternoon arranging matters for the winter meeting of the society. Those present are J. A. Ollis, Jr., of Ord, president; Val Keyser of Fairbury and H. J. Gramlich of the state farm, secretaries; Frank Howard, Pawnee City; P. C. Crocker, Hilkey; H. P. McCartney, York; Robert Mausel, Cambridge; C. S. Reese, Simeon and Luke Wiles, Plattsmouth, members of the executive committee.

State Should Own Building. "I do not think that the legislature of the state of Nebraska will ever put a cent into construction of the historical building at the corner of Sixteenth and H," said Land Commissioner Cowles, this afternoon. "At least it will not do so unless the land is deeded to the state. I think that the best plan for the arrangement of more room for the supreme court library and the court is to extend the south wing so that it covers the same amount of ground as the west and east wings. This will give an additional building 70x70 feet and can be made fire-proof. The state should not put the amount of money required by the society into a building which it does not own. The Historical society of Massachusetts has space in the state house and covers lots of it, and I do not think the society here should expect the state to build a building on ground which it will not own."

Most Votes for Delzell. Dr. I. F. Roach, president of the State Normal board and pastor of St. Paul's Methodist church in Lincoln, will go to Madison, Wis., as pastor of the First Methodist church there, according to press dispatches received here this morning. Dr. Roach is spending Thanksgiving in Boise, Idaho, and will not be home until tomorrow, so that the matter cannot be confirmed.

Dr. Roach to Change. State Superintendent Delzell was exhibiting some election figures this morning which shows that while he did not get as big a majority as Attorney General Martin, he polled more votes. Mr. Martin received a total of 127,149 votes, while Mr. Delzell received 127,216, exceeding the attorney general's vote by 67. He also received 26 votes more than the combined vote of Taft and Roosevelt.

House Burned at York. YORK, Neb., Nov. 29.—(Special).—Yesterday morning about 9:30 o'clock, fire destroyed a house in the Montgomery addition occupied by Mr. DeWitt, who lost all his household belongings. The building was located about one mile from a hydrant and the fire company was unable to do anything. Mr. DeWitt carried no insurance, but Mr. Hiett, the owner, had $500 on the house.

Tit for Tat Given at Council Session

FREMONT, Neb., Nov. 29.—(Special).—At the last meeting of the city council the Retail Dealers' association in a communication stated that some of the city employees were extremely slow in meeting their obligations and asked that some action be taken. The matter was referred to Mayor Wolf who will try to make them square up. Water Commissioner Wright wanted the names of all members of the association who are behind in the payment of the light and water bills, also referred to the mayor for attention, but the council did not think it necessary.

Fremont Charity Ball. FREMONT, Neb., Nov. 29.—(Special).—The annual ball of the Fremont Charity club was held at Masonic hall Thursday evening. The entire expense was borne by one of the members, so that the gross proceeds will all be available for charity work.

New Telephone Manager. TECUMSEH, Neb., Nov. 29.—William H. Turner of Adams, well known in this city, has been chosen local manager of the Lincoln Telephone & Telegraph Co., to succeed E. E. Michael, who recently resigned to go into business in Brainard, Minn.

DEATH RECORD

Henry Woltzfeldt. TECUMSEH, Neb., Nov. 29.—(Special).—Henry Woltzfeldt, a well known farmer, died at his home, two miles southwest of Tecumseh at 1:30 o'clock Thursday morning. He had not been sick and his passing away was a great shock to the members of his family and his friends. He had been planning to take his wife to California to spend the winter. Mr. Woltzfeldt was a native of Luxemburg, Prussia, having been born on April 1, 1862. He came to America some thirty-eight years ago and located at Mineral Point, Wis., where he remained for some three years before coming to Johnson county, Nebraska. Mr. Woltzfeldt was married to Mrs. Mary Albers in this county August 16, 1887, and one child, Mrs. Maggie Mandery, was born to them.

A. G. Hackstaff. NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—A. G. Hackstaff, for many years secretary of the Illinois Central railroad company, and latterly its vice president, is dead at his home here, after an illness of two days.

Dr. William Waugh Smith. LYNCHBURG, Va., Nov. 29.—Dr. William Waugh Smith, chancellor of the Randolph-Macon system of colleges, president of Randolph-Macon Woman's college at Lynchburg and founder of the women's college and Randolph-Macon academies at Bedford City, Va., and Front Royal, Va., died here early today after a lingering illness.

Andrew Hagar. CHICAGO, Nov. 29.—Andrew Hagar, who operated the first bus line in the city of Chicago, died at his home here last night. He was born in Germany seventy-four years ago and had lived in Chicago from the time he was 7 years old.

Dr. Edward V. Curtis. NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—Dr. Edward V. Curtis, brother of the late William Curtis, is dead at his home here, aged 74 years. For more than forty years he had held a place in the front ranks of physicians and scientists in this country. Together with Dr. Woodward of the surgeon general's staff, he performed the autopsy on the body of President Lincoln. He was a graduate of Harvard and the University of Pennsylvania.

Mrs. G. A. Shallenburger. Mrs. G. A. Shallenburger, sister of Mrs. John T. Cathers of this city, died at her home in Washington, D. C., Thanksgiving day. The deceased was the widow of the late Colonel Shallenburger of Washington. They formerly resided in Pittsburgh, Pa., and visited in Omaha several times.

Edgar M. Noel. BALTIMORE, Nov. 29.—Edgar M. Noel, widely known as a constructor of large buildings, was found dead in his home here today. Uraemic poisoning was given as the cause of death. He was 45 years old. Among other extensive undertakings Mr. Noel built the new Naval academy at Annapolis, the city hall at Chicago and the Fifth Regiment armory at Baltimore, in which the last democratic national convention was held.

News Notes of Deshler. DESHLER, Neb., Nov. 29.—(Special).—At least 120 persons attended Thanksgiving services at the three churches in Deshler. Rev. Rudolph Caughey, pastor of Westminster church, in London, who was the guest of his brother, Albert Caughey, assisted in the services at the Presbyterian church. In the afternoon a basketball game between the broom factory boys and the school teams and special programs at the moving picture shows drew the people from all parts of the county. Features of these shows were local scenes. Pictures of the high school, scenes from the big Fourth of July celebration and a picture of the new coliseum now being erected here were shown on the screens to the surprise and delight of all.

Secretary of State Regular Encyclopedia

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, Neb., Nov. 29.—(Special).—While Secretary of State Wait was dreaming this morning of the substantial majority which he received at the election he was awakened by the loud and persistent ringing of his telephone downstairs. With visions of trouble at some state institution before him, he hastily descended in his night robe and answered the call and this is what he heard: "My name is Hill and I live in Silver Creek. Can you tell me what Morehead's plurality was?" "As it happened," said the secretary, "I had the exact number in my mind and informed Mr. Hill what it was and went back to bed." It is supposed that a bet may have been the reason of the call, as numerous amounts were wagered that Morehead would have more than 10,000 majority.

News Notes of Edgars. EDGAR, Neb., Nov. 29.—(Special).—The body of M. S. Edgington, a former citizen of Edgar and a prominent attorney here, was brought here from Washington, D. C., Wednesday evening for funeral and interment. The deceased was an old soldier, and on account of falling health was obliged to give up his law practice in 1892 and in 1905 accepted a position as watchman in the pension department, which he continued to hold until two and a half months ago, when he was taken to the hospital, where he died November 22 of cancer of the stomach. The funeral was held at the Presbyterian church of Edgar.

Mrs. H. A. Lindberg of Edgar township, near Edgar, died at her home Wednesday, November 27, of Bright's disease. Her death was unexpected. The funeral is to be held this afternoon at the Swedish Lutheran church. Mrs. A. L. Shumwater of Washington, who was visiting relatives here, died of tuberculosis Monday evening and her funeral was held Wednesday from the home of a friend.

One Bank Gets Verdict. CLAY CENTER, Neb., Nov. 29.—(Special).—In the case of H. P. Walker vs. The Exchange bank of One, a jury returned a verdict in favor of the defendant bank last night. This was the largest jury trial ever held in Clay county, it taking eight days for the introduction of evidence and one day for the argument. Judge Hurd adjourned the term.
