

FILLS SOCIAL SERVICE BOARD

Dahlman Submits His List for Commissioners' Approval.

TO CENSOR ALL AMUSEMENTS

Representatives of Extreme Factions Are Not Placed on Board by Mayor Dahlman—Meets Semi-Monthly.

Mayor Dahlman has named the social service board which was created by an ordinance recently passed by the city commission. Names of fifty persons were submitted to the mayor by various organizations as qualified to serve on the board, whose duty will be to inspect and censor theatrical shows and other amusements and entertainments.

Those named and the organization recommending them are:

- Rev. B. Sinne, Catholic priest, of St. Mary Magdalene church, recommended by the Dahlman Democracy club. Dr. Z. B. Clark, dentist and vice president of the Omaha Ad club, recommended by the Ad club. T. F. Sturgess, editor of the Twentieth Century Farmer, recommended by union labor organizations. Mrs. Bertha Gettschmann, whose husband is in the printing business, recommended by German societies. Mrs. R. E. McKelvey, prominent club woman, recommended by the Woman's club.

Commission to Approve.

Mayor Dahlman will, within a week, submit these names to the city commission for approval. They will take office January 1, when the social service ordinance will go into effect.

"Theatrical managers and the Tri-City Baraca union also submitted names," said Mayor Dahlman, "but I ignored them for the reason that they represented the two extremes."

The Baraca union secured pledges from commissioners before their election to create such a board of censors. This union was very active in securing the passage of the ordinance and submitted names of its favorites.

Duties of the board will include the commissioning of each member a special policeman. They will be permitted to enter any place of amusement, first securing a permit from the mayor.

The ordinance states that two members shall be women. "One of the women recommended was Mrs. K. R. J. Edholm," said the mayor, "but as she was out of the city I did not have an opportunity to talk to her and did not appoint her. She could not have served, anyway, she tells me today."

Following are the provisions, in brief, of this ordinance:

No member shall receive pay or compensation of any kind. Each member shall give bond in the sum of $1,000 for faithful performance of duty. The mayor and the council may remove any member for neglect of duty or failure to attend two consecutive meetings of the board, which must meet at least twice each month.

It shall be the duty of the board to render assistance to the council and mayor in furnishing information and making investigation of places of amusement and entertainment. It shall also render assistance to other organizations with a similar purpose.

Seniority Order in Senate Threatened

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—Control of the important committees of the senate in the next congress when that body will be under democratic domination has become a question of pressing importance. It is thought some sort of a democratic caucus will be held next week to take preliminary steps toward reorganization.

The issue has practically taken the form of an ultimatum from the newer democratic senators, in which number are included many of the most active members of that body, that they must have their share of the important committees places, or they will overturn the bulwark of "old members' control" in the senate.

The senate committees not only exercise a practical control over all legislation of congress, but they will control no little patronage. The agitation in democratic ranks has arisen from the fact that a few democrats long in the senate hold the ranking positions on practically all the important committees.

Negroes Lynched By Louisiana Mob

SHREVEPORT, La., Nov. 29.—Wood Burke, Jim Hoard and Silas J. Johnson, three negroes who attacked and seriously wounded Deputy Sheriff Edwards of Bossier parish, several weeks ago, were taken from the Caddo parish jail to Benton, the parish seat of Bossier parish, tonight, and lynched at Vanceville, a short distance from Benton.

Creel is Married to Blanche Bates

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—Miss Blanche Lyon Bates, actress, and George Creel, police commissioner of Denver, were married today at Miss Bates' country home in Newcastle, a suburb. The ceremony was witnessed by a company of literary and theatrical people from all parts of the country. Judge Ben B. Lindsey of Denver was an usher. This evening there was a reception and banquet in Manhattan.

President of Bank Accused of Forgery

CLINTON, Mo., Nov. 29.—John Ogden, president of the Farmers' bank at Deep Water, Mo., was arrested and brought to the county jail here tonight charged with forgery and giving forged collateral securities. By his alleged forger, he is charged with having misappropriated $500 of the bank's funds. During the recent political campaign Ogden was elected chairman of the progressive party in Henry county.

Court Requested to Construe Reason in Newspaper Measure

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—On the theory that congress intended to pass a constitutional law when it enacted the newspaper "publicity" law last summer as a part of the postal appropriation act, Solicitor General Bullitt in a brief made public today asked the supreme court of the United States to construe the measure into a constitutional enactment. The law will come before the court for consideration Monday.

"So long as the laws are passed in the hasty and unconsidered way that they are," the solicitor general argued in the brief, "it is the duty of the court not to adhere to the letter of the enactment and destroy the spirit, but to strive as best it may to give measures a reasonable and effective meaning. The government asked the court in this instance to construe the law not as an attempt to regulate all newspapers and magazines, but as creating additional conditions on the use of the 'second class' mail privileges.

"Very probably congress has no power to regulate the press or to say what shall or what shall not go into newspapers, or to require them to print the names of their bondholders or circulation or to prescribe how they shall label their articles," said the solicitor general.

"If the statute be construed as attempting to do these things, it may possibly be void."

Democrats Want Postmasters Out of Civil Service

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—That an effort will be made to suspend President Taft's executive order of October 15, whereby about 36,000 fourth-class postmasters were placed under the civil service, became known today when Representative Cordell Hull of Tennessee said the democrats in congress who are already in Washington have conferred informally on the subject and that there was an overwhelming sentiment in favor of having the order revoked.

Representative Hull declared that President-elect Wilson, under the civil service law, would have the power to revoke President Taft's order. He cited as a precedent President Harrison's suspension of an order of President Cleveland issued January 14, 1889, whereby the employees in the railway mail service were placed under the civil service law. He said President Harrison within a week after his inauguration suspended that order.

Millionaire Seeks Kidnaped Children

GALVESTON, Tex., Nov. 29.—P. O. Saunders, a millionaire owner of mining and ranch properties in Chihuahua and other states in Mexico, who has lately made his home in Galveston, has begun a country wide search for his two daughters, Consuelo, aged 13, and Esperanza, aged 11, who were kidnaped Monday. Warrants have been issued for Sophia Martinez, a relative of the children, and officers in Los Angeles and many other cities of the west have been furnished with description of the children and woman. The children left school Monday for home, in answer to a message to the effect that their father was ill. They have not been seen since.

BLACK HILLS HUNTERS SUGGEST AMENDED LAWS

DEADWOOD, S. D., Nov. 29.—(Special.)—There is $40,000 in the state game fund and no legal way to dispose of it. The law fixes the license fees for hunting deer and other game, but makes no provision for using the accumulated fund. For this reason, and for the purpose of recommending necessary changes in the game laws of the state, the Black Hills Game Protective association was formed here last night by sportsmen from all sections of the Black Hills. Resolutions adopted at the meeting advocate the abolition of spring shooting, the establishment of a fish hatchery in the eastern part of the state, the propagation of elk in the Black Hills, the reduction to 25 cents the amount paid the state for each hunter's license fee collected, the extending of the deer and grouse season from September 20 to November 20, the forbidding of any person under 15 years of age carrying firearms in the woods unless accompanied by a parent or guardian, the fixing of the license fee for deer and birds at $5 and for birds alone at $1; that government stocked streams be thrown open to fishing all the year; that non-resident licenses for anglers be abolished, and that the salary of county game wardens be $25 per month and expenses.

NTW CASTLE, Neb., Nov. 29.—H. P. Palmer, a wealthy farmer, was killed in a runaway near here today. His daughter, a school teacher, sustained a fractured ankle and other bruises. A younger girl escaped with minor injuries. The team which Mr. Palmer was driving became frightened at an automobile and dashed into a barber wire fence, throwing the occupants out. Palmer was killed.

WITCHERY OF THE HOME CALL

Young Matron's Gloomy Thoughts Are Swatched by Phone Message.

"I don't know what to think," said the college graduate. "It's the first admission of the kind since you got your diploma," said the old maid. "What to think about what?" asked the matron just turned thirty. Her mouth was down at the corners and there was a wrong-for-women look in her eye. "About marrying. Dave is beginning to insist on marrying just as if I am being asked to see that I have some future ahead if I work life out by myself."

Sidney Lanier, the poet, the Christian, the greatest flute-player of all time, said this: "To make a home out of a household, given the raw materials—to-wit, wife, children, a friend or two and a house—two other things are necessary. These are a good fire and music. And inasmuch as we can do without the fire half the year, I may say music is the one essential."

"What can you do better than anything else?" "I am interested, you know, in celestial mechanics." "Then go in for it. Go in for anything that has that word celestial in it. It sounds promising. It may lead you into heaven. Marrying won't. There's no use to pretend that it will."

that a woman who expects marriage to bring satisfaction is following an ignis fatuus. Men are all very well for downtown, but the woman who looks to a man to make life seem worth while is a woman who is fated for a grand awakening—

I suppose I want to. Really? You surprise me. From the way you rushed off this morning I should hardly have thought— Yes, but what made you forget? You have missed—Yes, I have, too. You old darling! All right, then, hurry home. I'll be ready."

morning." She went out of the room then, red but radiant. "If you really want any advice about marrying," said the old maid, turning upon the college graduate, "you will have to come to us single women. You can't believe anything the married ones tell you. They are here today and there tomorrow. Their conclusions about matrimony rest upon no surer base than whether or not their husbands remembered to kiss them good-by this morning. They haven't any perspective. It takes an old maid to be the president of a congress of mothers, and it takes one to illuminate the subject of matrimony for the young and undecided." "Turn on your searchlight, then. Let's have the illumination." "Oh, all that it comes to is that each woman has to decide for herself," said the old maid.—New York Post.
