AFFAIRS AT SOUTH OMAHA

Young Men's Wilson-Marshall Club Endorses Jerry Howard. POSITION DEPUTY FIRE WARDEN Democrats Are Having Big Scramble Proving that Each is Responsible for Securing What Votes Went to Demos. In South Omaha the Young Men's Wilson-Marshall club is to be a big factor in assisting the faithful to state appointments under Governor-elect John H. Morehead. This was learned some time ago when friends close to Governor-elect Morehead told the applicants for office not to ignore the Wilson-Marshall club if they would have consideration from the governor. Last night the Wilson-Marshall men met to endorse Jerry Howard for the place of Deputy State Fire Warden John Trouton, who will retire in January. Howard has the undivided support of the laboring men of South Omaha and Governor-elect Morehead knows it. When Morehead was here before election he asked several of the democratic leaders for their estimate on his majority. Most of them sent it away on to 1538 votes. Morehead turned to Howard and asked his opinion. "Your majority here will be $6," said Howard. The governor-elect made a note of Jerry's figures. The returns show a majority of $2 for Morehead in South Omaha. Gillin and his crowd are conscious that they have lost with the South Omaha democrats. Their campaign was a fluke from start to finish and the republicans, with everything against them, held the democratic vote down below normal. Governor-elect Morehead knows this, as do many of the democratic leaders of Omaha. But Gillin, in expectation that annexation cannot be stayed much longer, has tied up with Joe Butler and company of Omaha. McArdle, who is seeking the same position as Howard, was in South Omaha yesterday looking about for his friends and supporters. At the meeting of the Wilson-Marshall club held last night in the court room of Justice of the Peace Collins in the Brandes block the following endorsements of Howard's candidacy were made: "Whereas, Jerry Howard is an applicant for the office of deputy fire warden, and, whereas, there is no man in Douglas county, city, or in the state, who deserves greater recognition on account of the persistent and heroic performance of him in his desperate endeavor in trying to elect all the candidates; therefore, be it resolved, that the Young Men's Wilson-Marshall club, whose members did accomplish so much for the vote in work for the party, notwithstanding the defeat of many of the candidates, do hereby cordially endorse and highly recommend Jerry Howard to Governor-elect Morehead; and, be it further resolved, that the chairman of the executive committee, C. J. Southard, notify Governor-elect Morehead of our action and a copy of the resolutions be mailed him."

At the Theaters

Attractions in Omaha. Auditorium: Sarah Bernhardt in Pictures. Boyd: "The Military Girl." Brandeis: "Uncle Tom's Cabin." Gagey: Extravaganza. Hippodrome: Vaudeville. Krug: Burlesque. Orpheum: Vaudeville. Matinee today at the Auditorium, Brandeis, Gagey, Hippodrome, Krug and Orpheum theaters. "The Military Girl" at the Boyd. Cecil Lean and Florence Holbrook and company in "The Military Girl," a farce in two acts, by Cecil Lean, staged by Ned Wayburn, under direction of the "Company." The principals: "Jack," an orderly... Adolph Richard "Doc," a captain... Harry Keeler "Artie," from Elton... Horram Akshash "Ottie," a lieutenant... Sam Thompson Colonel Crailshank, who conducts the academy... Scott Sidney Grace Kingsley, from Kansas City. "Aunt Tillie" Miss Cleo Mayfield "Everything" Miss Nita Allen "Aunt Tillie" Miss Cleo Mayfield "Miss Longfellow" Miss Gladys Lero "Bliss" Henderson, a private... Cecil Lean "Rastus," the cook... Emile Subers. Cecil Lean and Florence Holbrook came along as a sort of accompaniment to the turkey and foot ball and other features of the modern Thanksgiving and nearly precipitated a riot at the Boyd. It isn't so much what they do as the way they do it. Long ago they earned a place in the front rank of popular entertainers, which they still hold and, surrounded by an aggregation of five ones, they are increasing their popularity by way of "The Military Maid." This is Mr. Lean's own child, and he has labored it a musical farce, and if the man who writes the play doesn't know what it is, who is going to tell him? Far be it from the humble reviewer to suggest. Yet it wouldn't make much difference what it is called; the rule of poker applies here. It makes no difference what you call your hand, it's what you show that determines who gets the pot. And in this it is what the Lean-Holbrook combination shows that wins. "From first to last 'The Military Maid' is a succession of tinkling tunes, songs of glee and various combinations of music, dance and pantomime, with but a single end in view. It would be difficult to say which of several special features is the most laughable, if preference is to be given to any; it will perhaps fall on the sight of the husky chorus men, made up to represent chorus girls, with burly Cecil Lean dressed as the prima donna. Another scream is the burlesque on the "movies," and a number that proved very successful yesterday is the "sports" illustration. The duos between Mr. Lean and Miss Holbrook are good, and so are those of Mr. Thompson and Miss Mayfield, while the four make an irresistible quartet. Miss Allen is very funny in her quaint way as the maiden aunt. Miss Mayfield leads a military number that is unusually well worked out, and Miss Holbrook and the chorus score a hit in a telephone song. Emil Subers is great in black face. The company is large, good to look upon, both male and female, and is splendidly dressed. Ned Wayburn laid himself out to stage the show and has turned off one of his very best achievements in it. Two big holiday audiences gave their approval at the Boyd yesterday and in return had the full worth of their money. Superb Picture Show. A fair-sized audience witnessed the presentation of "Queen Elizabeth" by

Sarah Bernhardt, in photo-play, at the Auditorium last night; and the picture play proved to be a wonderfully enjoyable affair. The film is one of the best ever seen in Omaha and for those who have never seen the great actress, as well as those who have, the play was a genuine treat. An orchestra discoursed soft, gentle music during the run of the film, lending elegance and enjoyment to the occasion. The pictures will run tonight, Saturday and Sunday nights, with matinees on Saturday and Sunday. The evening show will start at 7 o'clock and will be repeated at 8:15 and 9:30 each night. Press Agents' Promises. The Martin revival of "Uncle Tom's Cabin" will appear at the Brandeis theater this afternoon. It is the largest company with possibly few exceptions, such as special revivals, ever used in the production of the play. It is claimed, for it contains a company of the original "Georgia Shouters" who play the negroes in the cotton fields, and who are seen in plantation dances and heard in plantation songs in scenes showing the quarters of the negroes on a plantation where the master was a humane man. Aneta, the French dancer at the Orpheum this week, is delighting her audience with spectacular exhibitions of her art. She performs in the center of a semicircle of large mirrors. She gives four dances: "Dance Parisienne," "Dance du Papillon," "Dance de la Flamme," and "Dance Fleur de Lys." First she appears in short fluffy skirts, not unlike those of a ballet dancer. Then in silver and gold she is seen as a night, assuming shapes of insects. The dance of the flames is full of color. Smoke and seeming flames come from the hole in the stage which is invisible to the audience. The climax is the formation of great fluffy wings as she whirls into a perfect fly a dozen feet high while white lightnings of color. This is very artistic. Every color of the gorgeously winged creature is produced with all the shimmering effects of color and all the brilliant hues of the rainbow are seen. One of the many reasons why the Ben Welch show is now running to immense business at the popular Gagey is because of the numerous vaudeville acts which Welch receives following everything he does. Ladies' dime matinee daily. Patrons of the Hippodrome are receiving a rare treat this week in the singing act of Marie, a native of the Royal Grand Opera company of Madrid, Spain. Her tones are beautifully sweet and clear, her phrasing is perfect and her range is really wonderful. She takes a A above high C with an ease that is truly astonishing. One can go as late as 2 o'clock to the week day matinee and see the entire vaudeville program. This arrangement is in force for the benefit of those who do not care for moving pictures even as good as those at the Hippodrome. Matinee daily at 2 o'clock. Burlesque hits on several well known actors and plays are features of "The Big Review" now playing at the Krug theater. Harry Le Van, one of the most talented of extravaganza comedians, is seen in the leading male role, while Miss Frankie Heath, the girl who talks in a manner to make one laugh, is the woman lead.

Demand for Owl Cars Made During Voting

It is said that an unusually heavy percent of the patrons of the street railway company who registered their preference for near or far side stops during the recent voting went on record in favor of owl cars, operated at reasonable intervals during the night for the convenience of the public. The result of the count showed that 191,982 votes were cast, of which 189,266 were against the change in stops and 2,716 for it. The street railway company has not made public the number of votes for owl cars, but it is known that they were extremely numerous, running into the thousands. Voters seized the opportunity to make their requests on the ballots and the interest of the other proposition aroused increased when it was apparent that the stopping question was settled early in the voting.

IT'S SENATOR SMITH NOW; NO LONGER MR. SECRETARY

Senator-elect W. H. Smith of Seward is in Omaha getting a line on the democratic political situation in preparation for his active participation in the biennial struggle at Lincoln. Mr. Smith was for two terms secretary of the senate and it was his duty to call the roll and see that the acts of the members were properly recorded. He says now that he is a part of the minority in the upper house he will put in his time demanding roll calls and watching some other fellow do the shouting.

The senior workers will now receive $3.80 a day and the others $3.50, which is said to be considerably more than the wages paid for the same services in Minneapolis and Denver.
