GREECE STILL WITH ALLIES

Fails to Sign the Armistice, According to Agreement.

WILL JOIN PEACE CONFERENCE

Turkish Fleet Reported to Be Concentrating in Dardanelles and Government Will Order Battle with Greeks.

ATHENS, Dec. 6.—It is officially announced that Greek plenipotentiaries will participate in the peace negotiations. A semi-official statement issued tonight protests against interpreting the fact that Greece did not sign the armistice as proof that dissensions exist among the allies and declares that it was by a demand of the allies that Greece adopted a different attitude than the other states. The explanation is given that Greece's course was due to its anxiety that its navy should not be interrupted in the Ionian sea in order to prevent the re-embarking of the Turkish army in Egypt and in the Aegean sea, in order to prevent the transport of Turkish troops to Thrace, with respect to which Greece considered the interests of its allies rather than its own. The chances for the conclusion of peace would have suffered from the reinforcement of the Dardanelles and Thessalonian garrisons. The statement refers to the Turkish armistice treaty recently signed as proof that it is not necessary that peace negotiations shall be preceded by an armistice.

Acting by Agreement.
LONDON, Dec. 6.—Greece is still standing out from the armistice, but it is explained both from Sofia and Athens that this separate action is undertaken in agreement with the allies in order to prevent Turkey from profiting from the armistice to improve its military positions.

An unconfirmed report from Athens says the Greeks are continuing their operations against Janina, but elsewhere orders have been received to cease hostilities.

The reports current yesterday in some quarters that arrangements had been made for the re-embarking of the besieged garrisons appear to have been inaccurate. Provisioning will not begin until the peace conference has been inaugurated. The Bulgarian government newspaper, Mir, in another editorial today dilates on the advantages to Turkey of a good understanding with Bulgaria.

Turkish Fleet Gathering.
CONSTANTINOPLE, Dec. 6.—The Turkish fleet is concentrating in the Dardanelles. The government has decided to order it to engage the Greek fleet, but there is much skepticism regarding the probability of a naval battle.

Students Retaliate On Suffragettes by Wrecking Offices

GLASGOW, Dec. 6.—Hundreds of organized students of Glasgow university today attended the headquarters of the Women's Social and Political union and completely wrecked the offices. The attack was the outcome of suffragette interruptions during the installation of Augustine Birrell, chief secretary for Ireland, as lord rector of Glasgow university.

Wild scenes followed the wrecking operations, finally culminating in a riot which was subdued only by baton charges by the police. After smashing in the front windows of the women's headquarters with stones the students rushed in, disregarding the cries of "cowards" from the three women left in charge of the place. They demolished the interior and destroyed everything they could lay their hands on.

One student, setting a suffrage banner, marched out through the wrecked front of the building leading a howling mob to meet the attack of the battalion of police. A lively battle ensued and finally the police drew their batons and charged. They arrested a student, but his comrades at once fell upon the police in an effort to rescue him. The fight was waged up and down the streets, but the best the police could do was to hold their prisoners. Later two other students were taken into custody, but all were liberated on bail.

The installation ceremonies at the university were carried out, but ten women were ejected during their progress.

Banquet Attended By Homeopaths

Officers of the Omaha Homeopathic Medical society were elected last night at the annual banquet given at the Hotel Rome. Dr. Delmer L. Davis was elected president, Dr. A. P. Hanchett, vice president, and Dr. Charles A. Gardner, secretary-treasurer. A board of censors consisting of the officers and Dr. Myrtle A. Willis also was selected.

More than thirty persons attended the banquet last night. An entertaining program was presented by Dr. Willis, who whistled a number of selections. Miss Essie Aarons gave several numbers on the violin and was accompanied on the piano by Charles Cooke, Jr.

Dr. Abby V. Holmes acted as toast-mistress and responses were made by Drs. E. C. Abbott, C. A. Gardner, R. E. Marble, Stella E. Jacobi and Delmer L. Davis.

Federal Grand Jury Indicts Fourteen Men

LINCOLN, Dec. 6.—Fourteen men were indicted today by the federal grand jury. Of the offenses, five were for sending prohibited matter through the mails. All of those indicted have not been apprehended, and a majority of the names of alleged offenders were not disclosed. Of the six made public, two, Milan J. Webster of Lincoln and Rudolph H. Miller of Aurora, were former employees of the Postoffice department. They are charged with abstracting letters. Gust Gerkow is accused of forging a signature to a money order; Loyde Ladwig of sending obscene matter; Joseph Ringblaur of mailing indecent post cards, and Ray C. Boyer of using the mails with intent to defraud.

ASSASSIN TORMENTS PAIR

WOUNDED MAN MAY RECOVER

Believer in Violence Shot by Enemy Who Adheres to Same Doctrine After Exhibition of Cold-Blooded Cruelty.

PARIS, Dec. 6.—The police investigation into the shooting yesterday of M. Ducret, editor of the anarchist newspaper, Free Ideas, showed it was attended with cold-blooded cruelty that rarely is equaled in fantastic melodrama.

Lacombe, the anarchist assassin, burst into M. Ducret's room Tuesday night at 10:30 o'clock and with a pistol in each hand announced to M. Ducret and his wife that they had been sold to him and must die.

From that hour until 4:30 o'clock Wednesday morning Lacombe pined the couple with questions and threats, trying to make them acknowledge they had betrayed him. He played with them as the cat does with a mouse, alternately menacing and then forgiving. Mme. Ducret begged Lacombe to spare herself and her husband on account of their 6-year-old son, who was asleep in a crib at the couple's bedside during the whole of the horrible night. The handist said, however, that he would kill the boy.

Leaves Victims Living.
Finally Lacombe fired two shots in quick succession at M. and Mme. Ducret, who instinctively threw themselves backward, and only M. Ducret was hit. The detonations of the assassin's revolver, however, extinguished the lamp in the bedroom and Lacombe left, believing that both of them were dead.

It appears that Lacombe lodged at the Ducret home the night of November 3, when four armed and masked men burst into the postoffice at Bezons, a suburb of Paris, shot and killed the husband of the postmistress and decamped with the money and stamps. When Lacombe sought to leave the house the next morning he found it surrounded. He managed to escape and hide in an adjoining house until the police left. Previously they had made a fruitless search of the Ducret home. It was this fact that led Lacombe to believe the two Ducrets had betrayed him.

Tonight, it was said, M. Ducret has some chance to recover from his wound, although his condition is grave. Lacombe has not yet been arrested.
