UNIVERSITY CLUB ROOMS CHOICE

Accommodations in New Quarters for More Than 200 Persons, but All Above That Can Be Taken Care Of.

Invitations to more than seventy high schools of the state to send their football eleven to the banquet to be given in honor of the Nebraska university football team Wednesday evening, January 8, were mailed yesterday. Acceptances from a majority of these schools are expected before the end of the week, as all replies must be received by December 12 in order that arrangements may be made for the big dinner.

Present plans are being made for holding the banquet in the new rooms of the University club, which will be on the top floor of the Board of Trade building, and which will be ready for occupancy by the first of the year. In case too many high school students come, and larger quarters are necessary, the banquet hall of the Commercial club will be used. More than 200 persons can be accommodated at the new University club rooms, and it is certain that the capacity will be tested. More than twenty football players and coaches will come from the state university.

The Omaha alumni has appointed a committee of seven to conduct the arrangements for the banquet. The chairman of this body is William Ramsey. The other members are Amos Thomas, Robert Manley, Frank Bulla, Clyde Elliott, Frank Woodland and Sam Rees, Jr.

According to members of the committee the banquet will be the biggest and best of its kind ever given by any university alumni in the west. The chief object is to show the Cornhusker football players that the Omaha alumni are still loyal to their alma mater and that they appreciate the good work the gridiron men are doing to keep Nebraska in the front ranks of the universities of the country.

The second aim is to show the high school students of the state that Nebraska has one of the best educational institutions in the country, and that all high school students of this state should attend their home university for at least two or three years, and then, if they like, go east.

Nebraska ranks as one of the best educational institutions of the country, and it turns out some of the best educated men in America. The Omaha alumni declare that many people do not realize how good a school Nebraska possesses, and it is their purpose to show to as many students as possible how great Nebraska really is.

The dinner is to be only one feature of the entertainment for the visitors. The committee is getting up a big cabaret show which will have at least eight performers, all people of the stage. There also will be a stunt similar to that which is pulled off at the gridiron banquet in Washington. Much music is to be on the bill. The committee intends that its feast shall be one of the greatest of its kind. Tickets are being sold to alumni for $2 each, and some of the lively grads are giving $5 that the expenses of the visitors at the banquet may be paid.

HARVARD FOOT BALL TEAM ENTERTAINED AT BANQUET

BOSTON, Dec. 7.—Six hundred Harvard men greeted their "champion" football team of 1912 with cheers at the banquet given the players here tonight by the Harvard club of Boston. Coach Percy Houghton was given a silver loving cup and a gold football trophy was presented to each player.

Dean LeBaron H. Briggs, chairman of the athletic committee, who was toastmaster, was applauded when referring to charges of roughness in the Harvard-Dartmouth game, he said: "I do not believe any Harvard player in that game felt that any Dartmouth player had any enmity against him."

All-State High School Football Team is Selected

First Team.

Second Team.

The foregoing selections for the positions on the All-State High School football team have been made and endorsed by several of the athletic dopsters of this city. The lucky players who were placed come from the four best teams in the state, those of Omaha, Lincoln, Beatrice and South Omaha. Although there were many players who were considered stars on some of the minor teams, the opposition met by them on the larger teams kept them off.

The selection of the captain of the All-State eleven is a hard proposition, since there are a number of players who could fill the position creditably. About the best man is Carlson, right tackle. Carlson always uses his head in playing, and is about the best yet to don molekins for the Omaha High school. Cook is also a likely man for the place, although he does not equal the superior playing of the big right tackle for Omaha.

With the entire eleven places filled only four schools are represented: Omaha High, which has five players; Beatrice, four; South Omaha and Lincoln, one each, thus giving the honors to Omaha High.

The All-State second team is composed of those who were not quite good enough to play on the first. Of those on the second the particular stars are Doyle and Allan, Lincoln; Rouse, Omaha, and Lyman, South Omaha.

Indiana Signs Contract to Play Iowa Next Year

IOWA CITY, Ia., Dec. 7.—(Special.)—Iowa athletic authorities have already laid plans for next year's football season and during the last week a contract for a game was signed with Indiana, the same to be played on Iowa field, while at the same time negotiations were opened with Ames. Through Indiana will come to Iowa City to play, the exact date has not yet been determined. The Ames game will be the signal for a big homecoming at Iowa City. This plan comes as the remarkable success of the Iowa-Wisconsin home-coming which was held here recently. Football games with Chicago, Minnesota and Wisconsin are also anticipated for next year, although it may happen that Illinois will play here in place of one of the other schools.

Iowa students are now actively engaged in basketball practice, and Manager Kellogg is rapidly completing the state schedule of games and making plans for an extensive Christmas trip through Iowa.

The two annual traditional games of basketball which are scheduled with Grinnell were arranged this week, one to be played at Iowa City, January 24, and the other at Grinnell on February 11.

Such men as Broadbent, Kirk, Leo, Berry, O'Brien, Trexel and Hannah are out for basketball practice. Enough men have appeared to make three good quintets of varsity material, and at least two of these will be taken on the Christmas vacation trip, which will take in Ottumwa, Oskaloosa, Fort Dodge and Des Moines.

READY FOR BILLIARD MEET

Local Experts and Others Ready to Enter Lists December 16.

DEMAREST WILL SHOW SKILL

Gold Medal for Winner and Prizes for Others—Delegation from Lincoln Will Try for State Honors.

Preparations are nearly complete for the State Billiard tournament, which is scheduled to be held at Symes' Billiard parlors December 16, continues through the rest of the week. Those who have already applied as contestants are Harry Symes, Will Chambers, Albert Cahn and Herbert McCay all local men, and six to ten more are expected to file within the week. A delegation of experts, four in number, from Lincoln, have expressed determination to try for the honors and a bunch of Omaha coin as well.

Mr. Symes, who holds the state championship, is confident that he will retain the title, but is not so much so that he does not give several of the others an equal chance. A gold medal will be the reward, as in former matches of this nature, and suitable prizes for first, second, third, and fourth places will be given.

Interest in the coming event is running high and the parlors are expected to be taxed to capacity during the matches.

As an appetizer for the tournament Mr. Symes has arranged with the manager of Calvin Demarest for a two-day exhibition from the former champion December 12 and 13. Demarest is said by all experts, including Willie Hoopie the greatest of them all, to have the best form of any man handling a billiard cue in the world. Demarest will give an exhibition of bulk line and fancy shooting.

Trap Shooters of West Will Come to Omaha in 1913

NEW YORK, Dec. 7.—At the annual meeting of the Interstate Association for the Promotion of Trap Shooting, held at Jersey City today, these officers were elected: President, James T. Shelly, Wilmington, Del.; vice president, T. O. Drew, New Haven, Conn.; treasurer, manager, Elmer E. Shaner, Pittsburgh, Pa.

It was decided to hold the grand American handicap shoot for 1913 at Dayton, O.; the western handicap at Omaha, Neb.; the eastern handicap at Wilmington, Del.; the southern handicap at Montgomery, Ala., and the southwestern handicap at San Antonio, Tex.

The place for the Pacific coast handicap will be selected later by the tournament committee.

Bresnahan Confers With Fred Clarke

TOLEDO, O., Dec. 7.—Fred Clarke, manager of the Pittsburgh base ball club, and Roger Bresnahan had a long conference here tonight, but Bresnahan did not sign a Pittsburgh contract, nor will Clarke say that he has Bresnahan's promise to play for him. On the contrary, Clarke says the situation is just as it was before; that Bresnahan would not be in a position to negotiate with any club until the matter of the broken contract with St. Louis is settled; that there were three clubs after Bresnahan's services, but that nothing would be officially done until he and the St. Louis club owners settle their differences.

Western Union Men Lose

Western Iowa Vocational College Takes Gridiron Honors.

Vocational Men Use It Twenty-Four Times, and Eighteen Times with Success—Lighter Men Work Well.

Western Iowa Vocational college won the championship of the minor colleges of Iowa by defeating Western Union college of Le Mars in a post-season football game at Craigfield yesterday afternoon, 14 to 9.

Although outweighted, the Western Union team put up a good fight and after the first half kept the Harlan boys in hot water. The use of the forward pass won for the Vocational college. Passes varying from twenty-five to forty yards were made with wonderful success by the Harlan lads. Whenever the ball was in possession of the Vocational college the forward pass was used almost exclusively. Time after time the same play was used, but the Le Mars team failed to solve the puzzle and Captain Claudfelter used rare judgment in working the pass.

KANSAS AGGIES JOIN VALLEY

Admitted to Conference to Take Place of Iowa.

TWO BASKET BALL DIVISIONS

Nebraska, Ames and Drake Form Northern Section, and Two Winning Teams Will Play for Championship.

COLUMBIA, Mo., Dec. 7.—To fill the vacancy in the Missouri Valley conference caused by the withdrawal of Iowa in 1911, the conference voted this afternoon to admit Kansas Agricultural college, Washington field, St. Louis, was selected for the annual track meet, May 21, instead of Des Moines, where it has been held the last four years.

The conference was divided into two sections for basket ball, Missouri, Washington and Kansas forming the southern division and Nebraska, Ames and Drake the northern. The champions of each section will play for the conference championship.

Drake and Washington will not play base ball and Nebraska only scheduled two games.

Kansas Agricultural being considered of conference rank was given a place in the basket ball schedule, although official admission to the conference will not be granted until September 1, 1913. The following schedules of games were agreed on today, though a few dates are still open.

South Omahans in Lead in Day's Play

KANSAS CITY, Dec. 7.—Dean and Sanders of St. Louis, with a score of 1,306, and E. C. Wagle of Des Moines, who scored 655, still maintained their lead in the doubles and singles, respectively, at the Midwest bowling tournament when play ended in those events tonight.

In addition to that, the board extended the close to 11:50 in remodeling the athletic field and in constructing a permanent roof for the grand stand on the north side of the athletic field.

Only in one instance is there a falling off shown in the receipts for 1912 as compared with the preceding year, and that is the Minnesota game. In 1911, the Geophor-Cornhusker battle netted Nebraska $3,000, but the weaker is responsible of the Geophor team this year, for the slight falling off in the receipts. The Oklahoma-Nebraska game at Lincoln this fall proved to be a better drawing card than the Missouri-Nebraska battle last year—the Missouri-Nebraska game at Columbia netted the Cornhuskers more money than the game between Ames and Nebraska at Ames in 1911.

All of the secondary schools brought out better crowds in 1912 than in 1911, and the increase shown in the sale of season tickets is also most flattering. After everything has been paid, the board will have approximately $4,000 at its disposal.

BASKET BALL PLAYERS CALLED

Manager Guy E. Reed Asks for Candidates for Team and Last Year's Substitutes and Regulars Turn Out.

BY JAMES E. LAWRENCE.
LINCOLN, Dec. 7.—(Special.)—The University of Nebraska has just closed the most successful football season financially in the history of athletics at the Cornhusker school. When all outstanding bills have been paid, there will be a sufficient balance left in the treasury to tide the Cornhuskers over the rest of the year in all forms of sports to carry the board through the summer without borrowing any money and to allow the management to start the season next fall without any debts hanging over its head.

Such is the condition revealed by the detailed statement of finances made here today by Manager Guy E. Reed, who assumed charge of the business end of Nebraska athletics last fall to succeed Earl O. Eager, under the most trying circumstances. The Cornhuskers admittedly had a weak schedule as regards a drawing card for gate receipts and, in addition, Stehm had a completely new team to assemble after the wonderful season of 1911.

Kansas Game the Best.
Approximately $10,000 was taken in by the Cornhusker management during the football season of 1912—$15,552 being the exact sum which Nebraska realized from the gridiron. Kansas proved the big drawing card on the 1912 schedule, the Nebraska end of the annual Jayhawk-Cornhusker battle netting the fat sum of $6,000, or nearly equaling the record-breaking crowd attending the big Michigan game in 1911.

The sale of season tickets to the undergraduate body also proved another lucrative source of revenue, the sale exceeding any past year by over 200 tickets. In all 800 season tickets were disposed of to students attending the university, netting the board $2,000.

Exclusive of season tickets, Manager Reed reports the following receipts from the games of 1912, the statement merely giving the Nebraska end of the sales:

Bellevue-Nebraska	$ 200
Kansas Aggies-Nebraska	400
Des Moines-Nebraska	200
Adrian-Nebraska	525
Kansas-Nebraska	6,000
Oklahoma-Nebraska	2,700
Minnesota-Nebraska	2,000
Missouri-Nebraska	810
Total	$12,552
Eight hundred season tickets	2,000
Total receipts	$14,552

Had Accumulated Debts.
Reed's statement will show that the Nebraska athletic board was compelled to borrow approximately $300 to tide over the last summer, despite the fact that the Cornhuskers in 1911 enjoyed the most prosperous financial year in its history.

In addition to that, the board expended the close to 11:50 in remodeling the athletic field and in constructing a permanent roof for the grand stand on the north side of the athletic field.

Only in one instance is there a falling off shown in the receipts for 1912 as compared with the preceding year, and that is the Minnesota game.
