

JAIL INVESTIGATION TABLED

Ryder Only One to Vote for Probe Into Police Court Methods.

COMMISSIONERS CHANGE FRONT

Dahlman Gives His Reason for Releasing So Many Prisoners and Says He Wishes He Had Released More.

Police Commissioner Ryder's resolution to request Police Judge Foster and Sheriff McShane to appear before the commission and tell what they knew of fraudulent releases of prisoners from jail was killed yesterday by a vote of six to one. Ryder cast the only affirmative vote.

The only commissioner to explain his sudden switch of sentiment from favorable to the unfavorable on the resolution was A. C. Kugel. He said he had decided it was the mayor's business to investigate if any investigating was to be done.

Mayor Dahlman spoke on the resolution the minute it was introduced. He said he had himself released a large number of prisoners from jail and his only regret was that he hadn't gone down there every day and released others.

He declared the jail was a rotten hole, fit only for dogs. His speech was in vindication of the release of prisoners. He said he believed the commissioners were engaged in too much jangling and ought to mind their own business, but if there was to be any fight he was ready.

Silence followed his speech, and Commissioner Kugel broke it by moving the resolution be referred to the mayor. Monday Kugel had said he would vote for the ordinance. The motion was seconded and the roll called. Commissioner Hummel was the only member of the commission who hesitated. He didn't appear enthusiastic about voting either way, but at last supported Kugel's resolution.

Police Commissioner Ryder made no argument for his resolution. He simply called for a vote. He had expressed the belief that it would carry and was depending on the votes of Withnell, Kugel and Hummel.

This puts an end to the possibility of any investigation by the commission into methods that have been employed at the police station. The charges were that two city officials had violated their oaths of office by fraudulently securing the release of prisoners by the use of the police judge's rubber stamp signature.

CASE AGAINST DR. JENSEN DISMISSED; NO PROSECUTION

The charge of wife abandonment and non-support filed against Dr. Robert P. Jensen by his wife was dismissed in police court by Deputy County Attorney T. Fitzgerald upon failure of the prosecution to appear for trial.

Dr. Jensen was arrested last week. The case was set for trial Friday, but Mrs. Jensen failed to appear in court. Upon motion of the prosecution the case was set over because neither side was able to come to trial.

His Stomach Troubles Over.

Mr. Dyspeptic, would you not like to feel that your stomach troubles were over, that you could eat any kind of food you desired without injury? That may seem so unlikely to you that you do not even hope for an ending of your trouble, but permit us to assure you that it is not altogether impossible. If others can be cured permanently, and thousands have been, why not you? John R. Barker of Battle Creek, Mich., is one of them. He says: "I was troubled with heartburn, indigestion and liver complaint until I used Chamberlain's Tablets, then my trouble was over." Sold by all dealers.—Advertisement.

BILLY GOAT BUTTS INTO JAIL

William is Arrested While Trying to Break Into House. PROVES AN UGLY PRISONER

He is Held in Jail on Fare of Tins Cans and Old Shirts and Will Be Held Until Owner Calls for Him.

On the pages of the police blotter there appears in large letters the name, "Mr. Billy Goat," with the names of Detectives Dunn and Kennedy as the arresting officers. The charge against Mr. Goat is a serious one. He was arrested by the detectives as he was breaking into a house at 1109 South Fifteenth street.

In response to a call that someone was breaking into the house on South Fifteenth street Detectives Dunn and Kennedy were detailed by Chief Maloney to make an investigation.

Mr. Goat had succeeded in opening the door by a series of well placed butts and was in the act of walking into the house when the detectives placed him under arrest.

Hard Prisoner to Manage. While Dunn was telephoning to the police station for the patrol wagon Kennedy could not wadge into the heavy-weight class with his pockets filled with lead, and consequently was having a hard time managing his prisoner while his co-worker was calling the police bus.

With the assistance of Officer Emery the four-footed prisoner was put into the wagon. On the way to the station the prisoner became so rough that Emery was compelled to put the handcuffs on him.

He was placed in solitary confinement at the city jail. Emery, who has been placed in charge of Mr. Goat until the owner calls for him, has to provide the prisoner with three meals a day. For dinner he gave his prisoner a hearty repast of tin cans and three newspapers for desert.

Short Pipe Order is Short-Sighted

"The completion of the forty-eight-inch main to Florence, which, by the way, is not quite completed, will not end the troubles," declared a city hall man Tuesday. The break in one piece of pipe has already disclosed the folly of the Water board in buying the pipe itself, and placing the order for barely enough material to do the job, for with this break fixed not three feet of pipe are left for future emergencies, and, we are told, that this size steel pipe is not carried in stock, and any rush order could not be filled.

BELLEVUE DEBATERS LINE UP FOR CONTEST

Preliminaries for the Manderson prize debate were held at Bellevue college Monday and Tuesday of this week. Fourteen men are trying out under the coaching of Prof. Gist of the Latin department, and from this group of winners will be chosen two teams of three men each with alternates who will compete for the Manderson cash prize of $50 in February. The same two teams will also represent the college in the triangular debate with Doane and Cotner early in March, for the intercollegiate championship.

The subject for the home contest as well as the intercollegiate debates is "Resolved, That the trusts should be regulated rather than prevented." Prof. N. Cross of the sociology department, Prof. Schneider of the mathematics chair, and Frank M. Crossman of Omaha will act as judges in the home contest which is to be held at 4 o'clock in Clarke hall.

The annual oratorical contest between the senior and junior classes will be held on January 10. Six of the upper classes have entered to date, one of them being a young woman. The contest is for cash prizes of $30 and $10. The contestants are being drilled by Prof. Gist of the Latin department and Miss Pitch of the department of dramatic expression.

DIGGS NOLAN IN BAD FOR TEXAS FORGERY

A copy of an indictment and a warrant for the arrest of Digs Nolan on the charge of forgery has been received by Chief Maloney from the county attorney at Temple, Tex. Nolan forged a check for a large amount on B. B. Mellon of Temple.

In a letter to the chief of county attorney states that they have a strong case against Nolan and will be able to send him to the penitentiary for a long term.

TO PROSECUTE URLASS GIRL

Y. W. C. A. Lassie Must Answer for Taking Diamond Ring.

SOME CASES WILL BE DROPPED

Valuables Secured at Department Stores Recovered and They Probably Will Not Prosecute the Girl.

Grand larceny charges will be preferred against Miss Emma Urlass, the young South Omaha girl arrested Saturday night for the theft of hundreds of dollars' worth of clothing and valuables from Omaha department stores.

Miss Eleanor Pruss, 2718 California street, whose diamond ring valued at $300 was stolen from a locker in the Young Woman's Christian association building by the Urlass girl, will come to Omaha from Chicago and prosecute the case.

The department stores probably will drop their end of the case, according to Chief Maloney. All the property taken from the stores by the Urlass girl has been recovered.

Chief Maloney received a letter from Miss Hazel Toney, a Plattsburgh teacher, to the effect that she lost two valuable rings at the Young Woman's Christian association while she was here attending the teachers' convention. She placed the rings in the wash room and forgot to take them when leaving. Returning twenty minutes later the jewelry was gone. She asked the chief to question the girl in regard to the rings in the hope that she might have taken them.

The Urlass girl is still being held at the police station.

Withnell Prepares to Celebrate Fifty-Fifth Xmas Here

Charley Withnell, city commissioner of fire and water supply, is preparing to celebrate his fifty-fifth Christmas in Omaha. He was born in this city in June, fifty-four years ago, and this, therefore, will be his fifty-fifth Christmas.

Withnell says the first Christmas present he had a pair of red-top boots. He thought there was never another pair of boots like them and stuffing his overalls in them he paraded the streets with great pride.

There were only about 80 people in Omaha when Withnell came. His father arrived here before the territory was admitted to the union as a state.

School Teachers to Be Paid This Week

School teachers will be paid this week in order to provide them with Christmas money. Many of the teachers will leave the city for the holidays. Schools will dismiss Friday. Children in all the public schools are arranging Christmas programs. Many of them will have Christmas trees. They are making presents for their parents. The older pupils will see that the kindergarten have a pleasant time. In several schools the upper grade students will play Santa Claus to the little tots.

Pursuit by Woman Drives Man to Ask the Court for Help

Pursued by a woman, Albert Rosenbloom, a solicitor for the C. F. Adams company, appealed to the district court for help.

At least this is the story Rosenbloom tells in a petition for his release from jail on a writ of habeas corpus. Monday Police Judge Foster committed him to jail for ninety days after finding him guilty of failing to support his wife. A woman calling herself Rachael Rosenbloom was the complainant.

Rosenbloom is 22 years old; the woman, who says she is his wife, is about sixteen years his senior. According to Rosenbloom's petition, the woman's real name is Ray or Rachel Cohen. Several years ago she met him in Russia and induced him to be a party with her to a ceremony, by virtue of which she claims to be his wife. He says they never were civilly married; the ceremony was a Jewish religious one, not recognized by the Russian government. After having paid the woman several hundred rubles Rosenbloom fled to New York. She followed him; he fled and she pursued him to Missouri and then to Omaha.

The police court complaint against Rosenbloom called him Aaron Rosenbloom, alias Albert Adelson.

Local grain dealers are receiving buying orders for corn to be shipped out into central and western Nebraska to stock feeders, not because there is any shortage of corn there, but because the farmers refuse to sell at present prices.

On the Omaha exchange No. 3 corn, the going grade, is selling around 42 cents, while out in the state, 150 to 250 miles, farmers refuse to sell for less than 30 cents. Their claim is that corn is worth the price asked and that it will fetch this price long before next May. As a result of the price put upon their corn farmers are sending but little to market from Nebraska. Iowa farmers are sending in some corn, but nothing like the quantity that was coming in at the corresponding time one year ago.

Grain men agree that for May delivery corn will be somewhat higher than at this time, but they have doubts about it going to 50 cents.

It's Cranberry Season Now! Yes, right now—any day in the year. It's a long way from Cape Cod, but you can have Cranberry Jelly, Cranberry Pies and other things made from cranberries just as fresh and delicious as back in New England. How? Why, by using MAKEPEACE Evaporated Cranberries. Soak these Evaporated Cranberries in water and you have the juiciest cranberries. They're not like other evaporated fruit—they have all the self-same flavor and richness of the fresh-picked berries at their ripest and best. MAKEPEACE Evaporated Cranberries are vine-ripened, thus the flavor is more fully developed than in ordinary cranberries sold in bulk from barrels. And they will keep indefinitely. There is no waste—every berry is good—thoroughly sterilized before being evaporated—you don't even have to "pick them over" or wash them. Ask your grocer today for Makepeace Evaporated Cranberries. Cooking receipts inside the package—just follow directions—then if you don't say they are better than any cranberries you ever bought—simply take them back to the dealer and he will cheerfully refund your money. Comparison is the real test. You be the judge. In the unlikely event of your dealer not having Makepeace Evaporated Cranberries, tell him to get them for you from his jobber. A. D. MAKEPEACE CO. RIATURE. I have a certain cure for rupture without resorting to a painful and uncertain surgical operation. I am the only responsible physician in this line of work who will take such cases for treatment upon a guarantee to cure, or make no charge. You may deposit the money in a bank to your own name, and when you are satisfied a cure has been made you then instruct the bank to pay the money to me. By doing this you are absolutely certain of a cure, or it will cost you nothing. If I was not perfectly sure of my work, I could not do business in this way very long, but instead, have been doing business so for 20 years, and adopted this plan because so many cure return home and work during the interval. I do not use the Bandaging Method. Not one of them will permit a patient to deposit his money until a cure has been made. When taking my treatment, patients must come to my office once each week for four weeks, and if they live near my return home and work during the interval. I do not use the Bandaging Method, as it is dangerous. Call or write for literature. A FEW OF MY CURED PATIENTS: A. P. Burn, Norfolk, Neb.; W. H.
