Omaha is pecularly situated in that all of the passenges trains entering the city are due to arrive before the regular service ceases. The last two trains arrive, when on time, at about $12.50 a. m. This is not true in most city of our size.

A careful inquiry as to the men employed in night work, who might require such service, discloses that the principal employes of this character are those energiangle on the two newspapers. To take care of the others we propose to put on at this time one car going north, one going south and one going west, these cars to leave the center of the city at about 4 o clock a. m. For Late Trains.

To take care of passengers on belated trains we propose at this time to arrange with the station masters at the depots to notify our Tenth street car house at about the time such belated trains will strive, and to have a car at the depots to run up to the hotels to take care of such passengers. We believe this night service added to our present service will practically take care of the present demonds, and we hope you and the other commissioners will agree with us in this respect and permit additional owl car service to rest over this year, for the reason, as we believe, that there many other much more important things which we should do before putting on a general night service, which we plan to do by the beginning of 1914.

night service, which we plan to do by the beginning of 1914.
For the year 1913 we have already planned a full year's expansion of our system in other directions. These plans will be formally and publicly announced within a few days. They include the building of a line on North Sixteenth street, also the building of a line to the southwestern park of the city, besides many other improvement. We have been requested by formal resolution by the cut were Misses Emily Kulslek, Lilian other members of the commission to build a line to the southwestern part of the city, where there is a scattering population far removed from any street car service. We hope and expect to comply with both of these demands during the pear 1812, unless the available funds of our company are by legislation diverted into other, and as we believe, less important, channels.

In closing President Wattle asked the commissioners to "view this whole matter in a broad light" and permit the street receptions of the holiday season this railway company to carry out the plan outlined in the letter.
