MAY FORCE BRYAN TO FILE

Row in Democratic Party Begins to Assume Large Proportions.

WOULD THEN DISPOSE OF BERGE

Berge Not Willing and Result Might Be to Mix Things Up Worse Than Ever—Maber is Still Factor.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

LINCOLN, May 20.—(Special.)—The attempt to bring out Governor Morehead and force him to break his promise made to the people of the state that he would not be a candidate for a second term is causing much trouble in the ranks and is bound to split the party even worse than at the present time.

The attempt to bring out the governor is looked upon by Charles Bryan to be an act of the reactionary democrats and to his way of thinking a move on the part of the Champ Clark followers to side-track any move tending to be an endorsement of the present administration.

He is of the belief that the man who leads the party in Nebraska this year should stand firmly upon an endorsement of the administration platform and make the fight on national issues.

He accuses the men who have engineered the deal to bring about a trend of sentiment toward the renomination of Governor Morehead to have been unfair in the matter, securing endorsements from members of the state committee who were supposed to be partial toward the governor anyway and failing to ask for opinions from those members of the committee who were known to be friendly toward Mr. Bryan.

May Be Forced to File.

Mr. Bryan will not say whether he will file as a candidate for the democratic nomination for governor if Governor Morehead files, but intimates that if the reactionaries get too offensive he will get into the fight just to save the party from being taken away from Brother Bill.

It is the general opinion that he will be compelled to file in order to give the followers of Bryan a chance to make a showing.

While all of the maneuvering is going along in the Morehead and Bryan camps.

Nebraska.

George W. Berge, the first man to file for the democratic nomination, is somewhat up in the air. Early in the campaign he ordered a consignment of new fangled guns to be used in his campaign against the common enemy, but has recently discovered that he is unable to find his greatest danger in the ranks of his own party and has cancelled the order and reconstructed it with one that will, he thinks, come nearer fitting the situation.

Berge Appears Side-tracked.

With Governor Morehead taking the reactionary vote and Charles Bryan the Bryanistic vote, it is rather hard for Mr. Berge to figure just where he will land when the votes are counted at the primary.

Consequently he is preparing to make a speaking campaign which will open next week in which he will fire broadsides into every part of the democratic camp where there is any hope of bringing down some game.

Volley will be fired at state administrations, both past and present, and anything that escapes the notice of Mr. Berge will not be intentional, but an oversight.

The move to bring the governor out has not entirely overshadowed the campaign started by Colonel John G. Maber. It is true that Colonel John has taken on matrimonial ties, but these will not interfere with his campaign for more than a week, when upon his return he is expected again to take up the typewriter and turn his music in the direction of King William and Prince Charlie.

It is hinted that Colonel Andy Morrissey, the governor's very smooth and versatile private secretary, who happens to be a business partner of Colonel Maber, has been given the task of convincing
