CUT THAT WORD OUT OF YOUR LIFE

That little word has stood between many men and success it is the edged aword that severs the thread of worldly ambition.

Many a man has "but-ted" himself off the road of success into the briars of failure that are to be found on either side of the success highway. There are many young men and young women in Omaha and the west who have a good supply of good intentions. Many a young man comes to us and decides that what he really ought to do is to take up a course in so that next Fall he will be trained to the hour-will be a thorough Stenographer—an expert Telegrapher or an accurate Bookkeeper.

Boyles College Summer School

HE wants to take the course, but—
HE desires to succeed, but—
HE knows we can teach him, but—
HE is able to enroll right away, but—
HE would begin at once, but—
The young man or young woman who thinks in 'buts' reserves action for the future. He permits the present, the golden thread, to slip through his fingers unproved. Cut the word "but" from your vocabulary, unless you spell it with two t's and use it as a battering ram to open your path to progress.

Study could not be conducted under more pleasant conditions than those which surround every Boyles College Student. The Boyles Building is the most airy and best ventilated building in Omaha.
