How did I do it? Well, I'll tell you. I had the sad misfortune last winter to lose one of my sons, who expressed a desire to be buried at St. Edward, where he had grown up, and where all his friends were. I was just about to order a monument, when I recalled that we had a family plot in a cemetery in Chicago and that there was a family monument there also, and having business in Chicago last week, I decided to look it up. I found that I owned a lot in Rose Hill-about 1,200 square feetwhich we had bought forty odd years ago for about 50 cents a foot, and that a could sell it easily at $4 a foot or $4,800, which I have done. I am also having the monument, which is of beautiful imparted Scotch granite, set up again in our little cemetery at St. Edward. Perhaps I didn't make $4,800, because I had it all the time, but its just the same for I didn't know it."
