Colonel Will Meet Progressives in Congress Tuesday Night.

READY TO START CAMPAIGN

Ex-President is Expected to Fire the Opening Gun Before He Leaves for Spain—May Start March on Republicans.

OSTER BAY, N. Y., May 25.—The trip which Colonel Roosevelt is to make to Washington tomorrow took on a new significance when it became known today he would hold an important conference with progressive leaders there. On his arrival at the capital, Colonel Roosevelt will go direct to the progressive headquarters, where he expects to see all the progressive leaders. From there he expects to obtain first-hand information as to the course of events in Washington during the last few months.

This conference will determine in a large measure plans to be followed in starting the ball rolling for the fall campaign. Colonel Roosevelt has been urged by many of his supporters since his return from South America to lose no time in taking issue first with President Wilson, without waiting for the formal opening of the campaign. He said a few days ago he desired to keep out of politics as much as possible until after his return from Spain, but recent events have caused him to consider the question of jumping into the fray at once.

May Fire Opening Gun. He has already expressed briefly his opposition to the Wilson administration's advocacy of the canal tolls exemption act and to the proposal to pay $5,000,000 to Colombia. It is understood he will make his severest attack on the present administration's foreign policy and on the operation of the Underwood tariff law.

It has been suggested to the colonel that by remaining silent he is permitting the republicans to steal a march on the progressives by getting first into the field with their criticisms of the Wilson policies. The suggestion has had considerable weight with the former president and it is not improbable that before he sails for Europe at the end of this week he will fire the opening gun in what is expected to be the hardest fight of his career.

Another possible outcome of the Washington trip is a meeting between Colonel Roosevelt and republican leaders. Reports that such a meeting might take place reached Oyster Bay today.

It became known today that Colonel Roosevelt received a visit last night from former Senator Albert J. Beveridge of Indiana. Colonel Roosevelt will leave New York for Washington at 10 o'clock tomorrow. He will be at the capital from 3 o'clock until midnight, when he is to return to New York.

Mr. Roosevelt confirmed dispatches from Washington that while he is he would pay his respects to President Wilson at the White House.

Plans for a Conference. The progressive conference tomorrow was arranged following telephone messages between Representative Murdock in New York and Representative Hinesbaugh here. Mr. Murdock said Colonel Roosevelt wanted to gather with "the boys" and Mr. Hinesbaugh immediately notified progressive leaders in the former president wanted to confer with them. The conference will begin at 10 o'clock tomorrow night at progressive headquarters after the colonel's lecture before the National Geographic society.

Senators Clapp and Poindexter, Representative Hinesbaugh, chairman of the progressive congressional committee, and O. K. Davis, secretary of the national committee, will meet Colonel Roosevelt's staff at Philadelphia.

Early plans organization and the future are to be talked over, according to Mr. Hinesbaugh.

"It is my opinion," he said today, "that if the progressive element in the republican party can control their party, they will endorse Colonel Roosevelt for the presidency after he is nominated by the progressive party."

PICKARD TO FIGHT RETURN

fore he did this he had talked very freely. Also, every legal technicality to prevent his return to Omaha to face the charge against him had been exhausted. Maloney says that while the bail money of $5,000 to secure Hansen's freedom was put up by the Burns agency, it is the general impression among Chicago police officials the money was really furnished by the Daily News crowd.

"Hansen told me he was employed by the Burns agency and that the Burns agency was employed by the Daily News," said Maloney last night. "He did not want to come back to Omaha, because he knew that he had violated the law and that in defending himself he would have to incriminate the people who brought him here. Through the money for his bond was put up by a Burns man in Chicago, I think it comes out of the pockets of the Daily News. They don't want Hansen back here to testify against them, as they fear he might do in order to save his own nose."

Burns' Hand Directs Moves. "I had the hardest kind of a battle in Chicago to get any kind of satisfaction at all. Every conceivable obstacle was placed in my way, apparently by accident, yet behind it all the fine hand of Burns and Polcar was evident. Every little delay that could be made to hinder my efforts, every legal technicality that could be interposed by Chicago's highest priced lawyers was used to keep Hansen from being returned to Omaha."

"Finally, it came to the point where Hansen had to come along or jump the $5,000 bond, and he jumped. "His disappearance from Chicago does not end our search for him. We'll get Mr. Hansen some day, and we'll put him right in the city jail in Omaha, where he'll stay till a court order turns him free. This is a game to be played to a showdown, and to a showdown it will go."

Maloney says that Hansen admitted that he reported to Editor Polcar of the Daily News while in Omaha. He made this admission to me before Detective Lawrence Hunt and his partner and Lieutenants Tobin and Larkin of the Chicago force," says Maloney. Hansen says that he reported to Polcar that he could "get" some of the city employees for $500 apiece, but Polcar told him to "get somebody higher up."

Maloney says that as soon as he reached Chicago it was pointed out to him by the deputy state's attorney that his warrant should have read, "City employees," instead of "public officials," in reference to Wolke.

SUES FOR PRICE OF PROPS

Charles N. Dietz then conveyed all these holdings to the Sheridan Coal company, a Nebraska corporation organized and controlled by him.

The government contends that the Nebraska corporation, the Sheridan Coal company, accepted this property with full and complete knowledge of the acts of the defendant, Dietz, and by said action unlawfully converted to their own use all the property and assets of the Sheridan Fuel company.

The government then states that it has attempted to recover the value of the timber cut from the government lands from the Wyoming corporation, but that it has no office or representatives in Wyoming, and service being impossible, this suit is brought in equity in the Nebraska division of the federal court.

The government asks for judgment against Charles N. Dietz and the Sheridan Coal company for the sum of $7,500,000, the alleged value of the timber cut from the government lands in Crook county, Wyoming, and interest on that sum from December 21, 1901, at the rate of 7 per cent, and such other relief as the court may give.

THIRTEEN NEW CARDINALS

Pope Announces Elevation of Number of Church Dignitaries.

FOLLOWS A SECRET CONSISTORY

Three American Cardinals Present at Ceremony—Pontiff Makes Appeal for Peace Through Influence of Church.

ROME, May 25.—At a secret consistory held at the Vatican this morning Pope Pius created thirteen new cardinals.

A number of bishops from various countries also were confirmed.

At the same time official announcement was made of the creation of Monsignor Bello, patriarch of Lisbon, as cardinal. His name had been reserved "in pectore" at the consistory of 1911.

The ceremony was preceded by a short allocution, after which the names of the new cardinals were announced, as follows: Monsignor Louis Nazire Begh, archbishop of Quebec, Canada. Monsignor V. Guisasaola y Mendez, archbishop of Toledo, Spain. Monsignor Domenico Serafini, assessor of the congregation of the holy office. Monsignor Della Chiesa, archbishop of Bologna, Italy.

Monsignor John Osterneck, archbishop of Estergom, Hungary. Monsignor Francis von Bettinger, archbishop of Munich, Bavaria. Monsignor Felix von Hartmann, archbishop of Cologne, Germany. Monsignor F. G. Fiffi, archbishop of Vienna, Austria.

Monsignor Philip Giustini, secretary of the congregation of the sacraments. Monsignor Hector Irene Sevin, archbishop of Lyons, France. Monsignor Michael Lega, dean of the tribunal of the rota. Monsignor Scipio Tocchi, assessor of the consistorial congregation. Right Rev. Francis Aidan Gasquet, president of the English Benedictines.

The pontiff was surrounded by all the members of the sacred college living in Rome, and by several others, including Cardinals Gibbons, Farley and O'Connell. The pope appointed Cardinal Francis Della Volpe to the office of chamberlain, in which position he will direct the affairs of the church during the conclave. Cardinal Diomede Falconio, formerly apostolic delegate in the United States, also was raised to the rank of chamberlain. The allocation of the pope was a strong appeal for political and social peace through restoration of the influence of the church.

General discontent in the Yaqui valley has been reported from Santa Rosalia, which is directly across the gulf of California from the mouth of the Yaqui river. The Mexican federales have adopted an apathetic attitude toward the Indians, and there are reports that discontent is rife among the Huerta troops.

In asking for an American warship, the members of the French colony expressed fear that a rising of the Huerta troops against their officers was imminent, and that this would destroy the last vestige of a policing force to keep the Indians in restraint.

Plan to Provoke Intervention. EL PASO, Tex., May 25.—Rafael E. Musquis, constitutional agent here, exposed today what he said was a plot to provoke American intervention.

He said that telegrams had told him of the movement toward the Texas border of groups of "Reds" or former rebels, who now are serving as federal volunteers. Their intent, he asserted, was to fire across the border at American troops.

According to Musquis one group was headed for Ojinaga, opposite Presidio, Tex., while another was reported as having passed Cuatro Ciennas, south of Eagle Pass. The exact number of the troops said to be engaged in this plan was not given, but it was estimated that they numbered nearly 1,000.

It was said that they had been dispersed in various recent battles in the interior where they fought with the federal regulars of Huerta's army.

Studebaker SIX $1575

In externals alone the excess value of Studebaker SIX is apparent.

Few "Sixes" — even among the highest priced — have a full floating rear axle. Studebaker has — and every "Six" needs — this type to promote the greatest motor efficiency.

Few "Sixes" are as thoroughly Timken equipped as the Studebaker SIX, with Timkins at every friction point in transmission, differential and wheels.

Regardless of price, a better electrical system than Studebaker-Wagner can't be had. It simply doesn't exist.

Finer finish is impossible — twenty-four operations, seven-hundred points of paint, are required for Studebaker SIX bodies.

Judging the Studebaker SIX on these features only, you see how impossible it is to get more.

FRANCIS KOSSUTH IS DEAD

Son of Famous Hungarian Patriot Dies in Budapest.

WAS INVALID FOR SEVEN YEARS

He Succeeded His Father as National Hungarian Leader After Death of Latter Twenty Years Ago.

BUDAPEST, May 25.—Francis Kossuth, son of the great Hungarian patriot, died here today, aged 73 years. He had been an invalid for many months and his death did not come as a surprise. In January last, during a crisis in his illness, Kossuth was married on his sick bed to Countess Benyovsky, widow of his lifelong friend. Such had been the wish of Count Benyovsky, made on his death bed, and Kossuth and the countess, who intended to marry in March, hastened the nuptials when Kossuth's illness took a turn for the worse.

Francis Kossuth took his father's place as leader of the Hungarians soon after Louis Kossuth died in 1851. Up to the time of his illness Francis led his countrymen in their political struggles with vigor and much success. He was at one time in the cabinet as minister of commerce of Hungary.

Kossuth was born on November 14, 1841, and was the eldest son of Louis Kossuth. At the age of eight he was taken prisoner by the Austrians and was kept for a time at the fortress of Presburg. Then he was sent to Kutlaha, Asia Minor, where he joined his father and together they went to England. The boy was educated at London university college and in 1861 went to Italy as a civil engineer, attaining prominence in this profession.

When his father died Francis took the body back to Hungary, in accordance with the demands of his countrymen. The funeral was accompanied by unprecedented popular honors.

It was then that he was invited to take his father's place as the Hungarian national leader, and he accepted, declaring he would work for Hungarian independence. Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, in April, 1910, during Kossuth's illness, visited him at his home.

Fremont Ordinance Hinders Marking of Lincoln Highway

Unless the council of Fremont repeals its ordinance against putting signs on the lamp posts of Main street and Sixth street, the Lincoln Highway will avoid those two streets and swing around in a less important part of the city.

Senator George Wolf, ex-mayor of Fremont, is in Omaha in conference with H. E. Fredrickson, national consul of the Lincoln Highway, and H. B. Walcott, state consul, in regard to this matter. The business men of Fremont are very anxious that the Lincoln Highway should take either Sixth or Main street through Fremont. An ordinance in force in Fremont now forbids painting any kind of signs on the poles on these two streets.

The Lincoln Highway association requires that the Lincoln Highway sign shall be painted on the poles at every street through which the route passes in the United States. The council must repeal the ordinance or the highway will hunt a street on which there is no restriction.

"Tourists have complained to me time and again," said H. E. Fredrickson, "that they get lost in Fremont and can't find their way through simply because the poles are not marked. Every town in the United States is marked except Fremont and Columbus. Dodge county is perfectly marked all the way through, but when you strike Fremont you can't find the highway. It's ridiculous."

in this belief. I have not listened to the appeal of any faction or special interest, but wholly to the voice of the people.

"I shall not at this time formulate any platform relating to the details of state government. Later on I may do so, but I feel that my administration has been democratic. I have attempted to make it a successful one. While the experience that this, my first term, has brought me, I feel that I will be able to assure the legislature than I was two years ago, and, if elected, I shall endeavor to bring about such legislation as will make for the greatest efficiency in government at the least possible expense to the taxpayers of the state.

Poor for Bryan Men. "I am reminded that my re-election will be a vindication of the party in the state and I am ambitious to make the state of Nebraska a leader in all the great reforms that have come to the country, and to place the home state of our great secretary of state, permanently in the democratic column as an endorsement that cannot be misunderstood, of the inspiring policies and splendid administration of President Wilson.

"During my term of office, I have endeavored to give the state an economical business administration and I feel that I have made much progress and have established a better spirit and a higher appreciation of duty in official life.

"I would not wish any determination to enter the race construed to the prejudice or detriment of any other aspirant for the nomination. It is to be sincerely hoped that this may be a friendly contest for this high honor, and I pledge myself that no action of mine shall militate against the success of the party during the campaign."

TO SAVE EYES

's the Object of this Free Prescription —Try it if Your Eyes Give You Trouble.

Thousands of people suffer from eye troubles because they do not know what to do. They know some good home remedy for every other minor ailment, but none for their eye troubles. They neglect their eyes, because the trouble is not sufficient to drive them to an eye specialist, who would, anyway, charge them a heavy fee. As a last resort they go to an optician or to the five and ten-cent store, and sometimes get glasses that they do not need, or which, after being used two or three months, do their eyes more injury than good. Here is a simple prescription that everybody should use.

3 grains Opium (1 tablet). 2 ounces water. Use three or four times a day to bathe the eyes. This prescription and the simple Opton system keeps the eyes clean, sharpens the vision and quickly overcomes inflammation and irritation; aches, watery, overworked, tired eyes and other similar troubles are greatly benefited and sometimes cured by its use. Many reports show that waters or glasses have discarded them after a few weeks' use. It is good for the eyes and contains no ingredient which would injure the most sensitive eyes of an infant or the aged. Sherman & McCord sell four stores or any other druggist can fill this prescription promptly. Try it and know for once what real eye comfort is.
