Mrs. Potter Writes Interesting History of Brownell Hall

An interesting story of Brownell Hall has been written by Mrs. Phillip Potter, who graduated from the school in 1874, ten years after it opened, September 17, 1868.

In the beginning the school was a frame house of thirty rooms. Twenty-fourth and Grand avenue, and had been built as a summer resort. "Saratoga Springs," which failed. Bishop Talbot bought the property for $1500.

Mrs. Potter's history is published as a souvenir of the hall, and of a celebration which will be held in June.

The volume is beautifully illustrated and by word and picture calls to mind many of the former Omahans. Some of those who were on the teaching staff when the school started were: Rev. C. O. Dake, principal; Misses Helen M. Liddiard, Sara J. Miner and M. Louise Gillmore.

Students in the first year of the school came in coaches and kept sharp lookouts always for Indians.

The first commencement exercises were held June 10, 1868. Mrs. W. C. Shannon, then Miss Libbie Popplison, appeared on the program.

Among well known Omaha women who attended the school or taught there are: Mrs. Harriett MacMurphy, Miss Elizabeth Butterfield, who afterward married James M. Woolworth; Miss Nellie Clarkson, who later became Mrs. F. H. Davis; Mrs. George Tilden, who was Miss Ida Virginia Clegg; Madames E. D. Barkalow, John C. Redick, Jay Morton, T. L. Ringwalt, Joseph Coady and A. C. Winkley, who attended the hall before their marriage.

Only two girls were graduated with the first class—Misses Helen Hoyt and Helen M. Ingalls, who are now dead.

OMAHA ANGLERS RETURN WITH LOADS OF BIG FISH

Ray McCabe, Morris Greer, Harry Davey, Jim Barker, Emmett Dougherty and Earl Gibbs, a bunch of Omaha anglers, have returned from a week's fishing trip in northeastern Nebraska and southwestern Minnesota. According to McCabe, the fishing in the north is better this year than ever before. The rivers, lakes and streams are all loaded with fish and the surprising part of it is that nearly all are very large in size.

Going to the "Movies" tonight? If you want to know in advance what pictures are going to be shown at your favorite theater tonight, read "Today's Complete Movie Programs" on the first page of the classified section. Complete programs of practically every moving picture theater in Omaha appear EXCLUSIVELY in The Bee.

Captain Kendall was on the bridge when the collision occurred. When the steamer sank he was washed away, later to be picked up by one of the boats. Thus far he has vouchsafed no public statement except to say that he would have preferred to have gone down with his ship. Passengers who observed him during the frightful few minutes after the ship was struck speak in his praise and declare he did his full duty.

Chief Officer Steed it was stated was killed by a boat falling on him while working to help the passengers escape.

Laurence Irving is Dead. Laurence Irving, actor and actor, and son of Sir Henry Irving, according to survivors, died while trying to save his wife. Mr. and Mrs. Irving were last seen on deck, embracing one another as if in farewell. They went down with the ship, locked in each other's arms.

Commissioner Rees of the Salvation Army stood on the deck of the doomed vessel trying to persuade the people to keep cool and lending a helping hand to many. When the ship was almost under water one of his men shouted to him to jump for his life. He replied he would stand by his wife and children, and sank with the words, "O, God, Thy will be done," on his lips.

One of the touching sights on the survivors' train was that presented by Philip Lawler. With his wife and son, he left his home in Brantford, Ont., where they had lived for the last seven years, to visit their old home at Keighly, Yorkshire, England. The mother went down with the ship, while the father after a desperate struggle, managed to save his son, Herbert, and himself. He was injured when the explosion occurred and, with his head swathed in bandages, he sat a disconsolate figure at his son's side. The boy, who is about 17 years old, when asked about the wreck, said: "I was awoken by shouts and water rushing into the third-class quarters. I jumped up, dressed and took a life belt. "Mother was gone, for in the rush which occurred after the plunge, father was swimming beside me. He helped me to reach a spar, to which we both clung until rescued by boat."

Only twenty-two women and two children of the many who boarded the steamer at Montreal and Quebec appear to have been saved.

One little girl, Helen O'Hara, swam until she was picked up, as also did Miss Thompson from New Zealand. One woman, Mrs. Greenaway, a bride of a week, was separated from her husband and thought she had lost him, but the two had a happy reunion later at Rimouski.

Traveling Men to Have a Night at the Den During June

The traveling men are to have a big night at the Ak-Sar-Bien den one night in the month of June. This was decided some time ago. Recently the trade extension committee of the Commercial club has busied itself with the matter and is making an effort to get as many names as possible of traveling men with headquarters in Omaha. This list they expect to use in writing to the men and notifying them that a special night is to be set aside, when they are to be entertained by the Ak-Sar-Bien.

503 Block Fire and Drum Corps Draws Many

The fire and drum corps of the "503 block" of South Sixteenth street, began to make the streets ring with martial music early in the afternoon. Crowds clustered about the drum corps wherever it chanced to stop for a few minutes, and impatiently did the crowd wait "between acts" for the playing of another piece. Thus were gone over all the old familiar drum rations that have thrilled veterans since the days of '61, through "The Girl I Left Behind Me," through the inspiring strains of "Marching Through Georgia," and the fiery snap of the "Vicksburg Quickstep."

Health Depends on Kidneys

Whole System Suffers if They Are Damaged

Health is an absolute impossibility when the kidneys are out of order. The explanation is simple. Life cannot be lived without waste. The blood sweeps through arteries and veins, supplying vitality to every organ and part, gathers up the waste matter and carries it to the kidneys. The kidneys are a filter and it is their office to strain from the blood all the poisonous deposits and to pass them into the bladder for excretion. When any part of the kidneys is inflamed, the purifying is less perfectly done. The kidneys and veins are clogged with poisonous matter. If you are troubled with pains in the back, dizziness, aching joints, nausea, or other symptoms of kidney disease, you should lose no time in testing Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Remedy. It is considered by many physicians to be an excellent remedy in the treatment of diseases of the kidneys, liver and blood. It repairs the tissues, soothes inflammation and irritation, awakens the torpid liver, aids digestion, stimulates the enfeebled organs, and will give you that sense of well-being which attends perfect health. A standard remedy for 27 years in the relief of thousands. At all druggists in 5c and $1.00 sizes. A free sample and other valuable information if you write Warner's Safe Remedies Co., Dept. 302, Rochester, N. Y.

darkness. The struggle of the terrified passengers to escape can be imagined. One of the first steps taken at Rimouski this morning was the establishment of a regular beach patrol to prevent looting by beach combers. A number of special officers were sworn in for this purpose. There were still several hundred bodies to be recovered from the waters of the St. Lawrence.

How Laurence Irving Died. F. E. Abbott of Toronto told of how Laurence Irving died trying to save his wife.

"I met him first in the passageway," Abbott said, "and he said calmly 'Is the boat going down?' I said it looked like it. 'Dearie,' Irving then said to his wife, 'hurry, there is no time to lose.'"

"Mrs. Irving began to cry and as the actor reached for a life belt the boat suddenly lurched and he was thrown against the door of his cabin. His face was bloody and Mrs. Irving became frantic.

"'Keep cool,' he warned her, but she persisted in holding her arms around him. He forced the life belt over her and pushed her out of the door. He then practically carried her upstairs. I asked if I could help and Irving said, 'Look after yourself first, old man, but God bless you all the same.'"

Abbott said he left the two, man and wife, struggling. Abbott got on deck and dived overboard. He caught hold of a piece of timber and then looked around. Irving by this time was on the deck. He was kissing his wife. As the ship went down they were clasped in each other's arms.

M. D. A. Darling, a survivor here, was saved by a life belt that might have saved Sir Henry Seton-Karr. "My cabin was opposite Henry's," said Darling, "and when I opened my door we bumped into each other in the passageway. He had a lifebelt and he offered it to me. I refused it, but he said 'go on, man, take it and I will get another.' I told him to save himself, but he got angry and actually forced the belt over me. He hurried me along the corridor to the door. Apparently he went back for another belt, but a moment or two after he had left me the ship went down. I was picked up."
