ALL NATIONS TO PLAY RETURN GAME SATURDAY

The return games between the Stars and All Nations Saturday and Sunday at Fourka park will, if such a thing is possible, be more bitterly fought than those recently played.

Pete McGuire will in all probability oppose the new colored wonder, "Cannon Ball" Jackson (whose favorable showing last Saturday in the two innings he pitched stamps him as a valuable addition to the visitors' slab) in the opening game Saturday. McGuire, pitching his first game for the Brewers, although weak at holding base runners, which lost him the game, made a favorable showing and gives promise of developing into a great slaban.

DEACONESS SOCIETY TO MEET HERE THIS MONTH

Plans for the purchase of property to be used for a deaconess home and settlement house were deferred for the present at a meeting of the Deaconess Aid society held Tuesday afternoon. It was decided, however, to begin the work by instituting a sewing school at the Oak street Methodist Episcopal church and to support a deaconess who will take charge of the work.

A national convention of deaconesses will meet in this city June 9 to 10 at the First Methodist Episcopal church. Fifty delegates, representing Methodist hospitals, orphanages and educational institutions are expected to attend, and will be entertained in the homes of prominent church members. Luncheons and suppers will be served by women's organizations of the various churches.

LINCOLN BUSINESS MEN BEING ENTERTAINED HERE

Forty business men of Lincoln, who came to Omaha in automobiles yesterday morning on the invitation of some of the business men of Omaha, were entertained at luncheon at the Omaha club at noon.

"They are just here for a friendly visit," said Ward M. Burgess at the Omaha club at noon. "We just invited a bunch of them to come over and spend the day in a sociable way, and that's all there is to it."

In the afternoon the Omaha men took them to the Country club, where they played golf all afternoon. Last evening they were entertained at dinner at the Country club.

REGULATE POLICE SURGEONS

City Physician and Chief of Police to Break Up Evils.

MUCH OCCASION FOR COMPLAINT

Agents for Doctors and Lawyers Who Masquerade as Police Surgeons Will Be Severely Dealt With Hereafter.

Ambulance chasing lawyers and their counterparts in the medical profession—the quack doctors—have been ordered to keep shy of the police station under pain of arrest and prosecution. The order was issued by the chief of police in a letter written by Health Commissioner R. W. Connell, who has heard complaints that inexperienced practitioners of medicine are experimenting on accident victims and that ambulance chasers are using the fake doctors to get them to the bedside of those hurt in corporation accidents.

Men whose only qualification to practice medicine was secured by hawking spectacles at county fairs, pounding a telegraph key or mooching a precarious existence from their friends have recently purchased "stars" with the word "surgeon" thereon, and these fellows in numbers are found on the scene of every accident.

Complaint Against Cadets. More insistent than the complaint of the practices of the fake doctors comes the protest against the "lawyer's cadets" who make specialties of street accidents. By any hook or crook the leeches manage to worm their way to the bedside of the victim and urge him to hire certain lawyers.

"These things have got to stop," said Dr. Connell, "and the chief of police will stop them. There are standing orders against allowing inexperienced students of medicine interfering with the work of the police surgeons and this order, which has evidently been disobeyed, must be lived up to while I am health commissioner."

Three Good Physicians. Three reputable physicians have been named by Dr. Connell for police surgeons and along with them goes the order that those not named are not to be allowed about the police surgeon's office.

Recently Dr. Connell discharged one of the police surgeons because he had appointed too many "assistants"—and for other reasons. The authorized surgeons have been notified that the health commissioner will first approve any suggestion for an "assistant" and it is made emphatic that quacks shall not be allowed to prey upon the unfortunate.

SEVEN RAILROADS SUED BY TEXAS LUMBER FIRM

A suit based on a decision of the Interstate Commerce commission given at the instance and complaint of the Commercial club of Omaha, was filed in the United States district court by the Olive-Sternberg Lumber company of Olive, Tex., against seven railroads. The petition alleges that for the transportation of a number of cars of lumber from points in Texas to Lincoln, the seven defendant railroads over whose lines the cars were shipped, a charge was made at the rate of 25 cents per hundred pounds, while a fair rate for the freight is 15 cents per hundred pounds. The plaintiff asks for judgment of $5,000 against the defendant carriers and interest at the rate of 6 per cent from August 10, 1910.

Three Inches of Rain Reported at Hastings

One of the heaviest rains this spring was reported at Northwestern headquarters yesterday the total precipitation at Hastings being three inches in twenty-four hours. Showers occurred at other points in Nebraska, but no damage was done to the new track on the Winner line, upon which washouts have been repaired and along which traffic has been resumed on schedule time.

The Burlington weather report includes rains of more than two inches at Fairmont, Aurora, Edgar and Stromberg, while showers occurred at many other places on the Lincoln division as well as the Omaha division. Excellent growing weather prevails over the Alliance division, high temperatures and a clear sky prevailing today.

STREET CAR COMPANY PUTS IN NEW CROSSING

While Farnam street is being repaved from Eighteenth to Twentieth streets the Omaha and Council Bluffs Street Railway company is taking advantage of the opportunity to lay an additional curve in its lines at the intersection to connect with Harney cars. This will facilitate the service and make it easier to get cars around during the crowded times. It is expected to go a long way toward preventing congestion at such times. The company has for some years been seeking to lay curves wherever possible for the sake of the general advantage this will give in making connections and handling the cars in times of the great rush.

MRS. S. J. WILLIAMS SEEKS HER FATHER AND SISTER

Mrs. S. J. Williams of Kansas City, Mo., has written to Omaha in an endeavor to locate her father, William Jenere, and her sister, Ethel Jenere, both of whom have not been in communication with Mrs. Williams for some time and she is anxious as to their safety. Mr. Jenere is believed to have relatives in Omaha and Mrs. Williams is of the opinion that track of the missing couple may be found here.

T. P. A. GOING TO HOUSTON AFTER ANNUAL MEETING

Omaha members of the Travelers' Protective association will leave a private car on their trip to and from the annual convention of the order at Houston, June 8 to 13. They will leave Omaha Friday afternoon over the Burlington, changing to the Katy line at Kansas City. The Nebraska delegates will go primed to bring the annual convention to Omaha in 1915.

BANK VOTING IS INTRICATE

Balloting for Regional Directors Declared Complicated.

CONFERENCE IS AN EXPEDIENT

Meeting at Kansas City Was for the Purpose of Facilitating Final Disposition of Who Should Be the Officials.

The election, which about two weeks hence is to determine who will be the members of the directors of the regional bank for district No. 19 of Kansas City will be something of a complicated affair. Local bankers admit that balloting for this purpose has many intricacies to it and is somewhat hard to understand. It is at that time that the names of T. C. Byrne of Omaha and C. E. Burnham of Norfolk to represent Nebraska on the federal reserve directorate are to be voted upon along with the rest.

It is generally believed that these men will be elected to the directorate since they have been nominated at a convention of delegates from the various states in the district at Kansas City Tuesday. The convention was after all a somewhat voluntary affair, since the law does not specifically call for such a convention. It was decided upon by members of Regional Bank No. 19 as the expedient way to centralize or concentrate on a certain number of men to become the avowed candidates.

Vote by Groups. The voting will be done by groups, just as the banks were grouped for the purpose of making up the delegations to the convention at Kansas City Tuesday. The various groups will have electors appointed, who will cast the final and official vote for certain candidates for places on the federal directorate.

The directors, with the exception of a few, will not be required to live in Kansas City. They will likely be called to the city occasionally to attend meetings of the board of directors. This would not interfere greatly with the business of men like T. C. Byrne of Omaha and C. E. Burnham of Norfolk.

The report was circulated Tuesday that Henry W. Yates was a candidate for a place on the directorate of the Kansas City reserve bank. "I could not possibly be a candidate for a place on this directorate," said Mr. Yates. "The report was ridiculous. Here I am making a fight to have us taken out of the Kansas City district and placed into the Chicago district. Now a man in such a position would not look good as a candidate for a place on the directorate of the Kansas City regional bank, would he? We are still making the fight and we expect to win."

Thirty Rotarians to Go to Houston

Thirty members of the Omaha Rotary club will make up a delegation to the International Convention of Rotarians at Houston, June 30 to 31, according to arrangements made at the club's weekly meeting at the Henshaw. They will leave Omaha June 18 in a special car. Harley G. Moorhead, W. J. Clarke and John Melton were elected directors of the local club for three years. New officers to serve one year will be chosen at next week's meeting.

COLLINS HOLDS SNACK

Justice of the Peace George S. Collins, who has been denied pay for two weeks' service as acting police judge, has a mind to sue the city council because it ignored his demands last Monday night. Justice Collins yesterday went down to the city hall to collect the $48, which he confidently thought was coming to him. The clerk sought carefully for the Collins warrant, but in vain. Then the aid truth dawned upon Collins. It seems that the council expected Magistrate Callanan to pay Collins. Collins expected the city to pay and so did Judge Callanan. In the meantime Collins threatened to raise the ante from $48 to $56 plus court costs and attorney fees unless the warrant is forthcoming without delay.

OPPOSITION IS GREATLY DIVIDED

Magistrate Laughs Over Situation and Remarks that His Enemies Cannot Get Him This Time No Better Than Before.

With all of a dozen candidates for the speaking nomination for police judge in South Omaha it begins to look as if the very fight being put up on Police Magistrate James Callanan may result in his renomination if not election. Judge Callanan has been police judge for three terms in South Omaha. Each time he runs he has opposition, but this time the opposition comes from all quarters of the democratic ranks. A few republicans have changed their party affiliation and jumped into the race, and the fight is a bitter one.

Speaking some days ago with a friend Judge Callanan laughed at his democratic opponents: "I've been through it before," he laughed. "They can't get me."

The candidates include Callanan, Coulter, Small, Stevens, Cunningham, Handlan and several dark horses.
