The Return of Spring," one of the most admired paintings in the Lininger art gallery, was painted by Monsieur Bouguereau of Paris. Before the days of the militant suffragette, a fanatic threw a chair at this beautiful paining. Not being accustomed to art, he thought the picture Clara Anderson, equally pretty and en- trict and the reconstruction work were immodest. Fortunately, this was before the death of the great artist, and tertainer in another popular afternoon shown through the courtesy of the club, Mr. Lininger immediately returned to Paris with the painting and Mon-

picture this year while in Paris to add to his interesting collection.
