was the result of more favorable conditions in Argentine. The cash sales here were small. Longs in July corn at Liverpool were free sellers in the belief that the receipts there during the next month will be on a larger scale than for some time.

Oats suffered losses in sympathy with the weak spots in wheat and corn. The market was active and the best prices of the day were reached early. On the hard spots there was liberal selling by longs and the buying was led by shorts. Rains over part of the oats belt combined with the weakness in other grains had a depressing effect.

depressing effect.

The provisions trade was confined to a few interests and business was only moderate in consequence. Hogs were up 5@10c, which induced some investment buying. The selling was largely local and was in part influenced by the weakness in grain. Pickled meats reported as fairly active, but other descriptions as well as lard were slow sales.

Assertions that Nebraska as well as the spring wheat states had been receiving altogether too much hain tended to lift the market. Closing prices were firm at the to 160% net advance.

Buyers of corn found offerings light and were forced to bid up prices. There were reports that Argentina exporters had been rebuying in the United States. After opening a shade to 160% higher the market continued to climb.

No important reaction occurred. The market closed steady, 1c off to 160% no 160% of the continued with corn. Demand, however, was only moderate.

CHICAGO, June 12.—Fear of an unfavorable crop development northwest on account of too much rain gave the wheat market today a firmer tone. There were also signs that the stock in elevators here would show a large reduction for the week than had been expected. The opening, which ranged from 16c off to 36c up, was followed by a moderate general advance.

Strictly dry-lot cows and heifers have been in good demand and have com-manded steady prices throughout the week. On the other hand grass cows, helfers and bulls have all had a lower tendency and are 250000 lower than last tendency and are 250,000 lower than last week.

Stockers and feeders have been very slow sellers all the week. The market has been poorly supplied, but the demand at this season of the year is never very brisk and prices have steadily declined for the lack of a good buying support. The market is now 250,000 lower than it was a week or ten days ago.

HOGS-A liberal Saturday supply was reported this morning, but owing to a washout trains on one road were delayed, and at the time the market opened there was only a fair run in sight. Other markets reported slight declines, and when local packers started bidding a shade lower and showed an inclination to better that a little, it did not take sellers long to make up their minds to cash their holdings, so that before $20 everything in sight had been sold at prices that were not over a shade lower, and in many cases looked nearly steady with yesterday's Perfectly Regular Base Hall Deal Brought Pittsburgh Club a Nickname.

The Pittsburgh team, commonly called no one, there was no way to get them the Pirates, got that name as the result of the kidnapping of Louis Bierbauer, a star second baseman, from the Athletica way back in 1888 or 1889. At that time there was a working agreement between the National league and the old American association, by which neither organisation was permitted to reserve more than fifteen players at the close of the

The owners of the Athletics, in the American association, desired to keep sixteen of their men, but as only fifteen could be legally reserved, the only way open was to leave one name off the list cat for breakfast. Modest friends of ours and take a chance on no other club pickwho are very far from being gourmands ing up the player. Accordingly, the Athletic management failed to name luncheons seem to delight in registering Bierbauer in the reserve list, hoping the omission would be overlooked. But a friend of the Pittsburgh club noted that Bierbauer's name was missing, and as Louis was a much sought player the friend told Horace Phillips, manager of the Pittsburgh club. Phillips proceeded to Erie, Pa., where Louis passed the winter months at his home. His trip was successful.

Bierbauer was willing to listen a tempting offer was made, and when Phillips returned he brought with him the player's signed contract for the following season. The whole procedure was fesses a banking and broking crony perfectly regular, under the rules, and caused no end of talk in the base ball world, and one Philadelphia writer referred to the affair as an act of "piracy" on the base ball seas.
