Off for the Country:

The time of year is again approaching when people are flocking to the country to escape the sweltering heat of the crowded city. A vacation trip is one of the very necessary expenses to men who work, live and sleep in crowded cities, but many there are who, even though they need an occasional trip to the country, can ill afford to take the time or stand the expenses of such a trip.

Our advice to the man who lives in a crowded section of the city, where his household goods are crowded into a narrow, breathless apartment and his children have to play in the streets, is to move out where there's air and sunshine into a home of his own.

Beautiful Wearne Park offers you such an opportunity. It has all of the advantages of the country—clean air, plenty of sunshine, with plenty of room for a cosy home and a garden, coupled with all of the conveniences of the city—street cars run right by the tract, city water is in, cement sidewalks have been laid, young shade trees have been planted, gas will soon be in, and we'll build homes to suit you on easy terms, or you can move into homes now being built in a very short time.

It will be time well spent to look this over. Do it today. Agents on ground all day.

ASSESSOR IS AFTER THEM

Many Prominent Citizens Are Cited to Appear and Explain.

SOME FORGET AUTOMOBILES

Sixty-Five Are on the First List and the Assessor Says that More Are to Be Cited at a Later Date.

Cited before the County Board of Equalization to show cause why they should not be assessed for the full taxable value of their limousines, diamonds, jewelry, pianos, luxurious household furniture and furnishings and for their money, stocks and bonds and other personal property, is the fate of sixty-five of Omaha's rich and prominent citizens. These, constituting the victims of the first net thrown out by the Board of Equalization, are cited to appear at the court house Thursday. Further similar action is expected. Last year the corporations were made subject to substantial increases in personal property valuations, and this plan is continued this year, but the wealthy private citizen is the special target of the board for 1914.

Pug Down Wrong Figures.
Omaha's average means are as ever this year in making returns to assessors, according to County Assessor Counsman, but the democratic administration or some other reason has caused the rich and socially prominent to suffer from palpitation of the purse, a disease which, according to the assessor, has for its principal symptom a tendency to write $50 in the assessor's blank when the patient intended to write $500.

Valuations of automobiles, diamonds and household furniture made by residents of the fashionable districts are said to be especially low this year.

Those Cited to Appear.
Among those cited with a view to raising their personal property valuations are the following:

SUIT IS FILED FOR PART

OF S. O. CHURCH GROUNDS
Congregation Tibereth Israel has begun a suit in district court against Abraham Osher Keisher, alleging that when as its agent he purchased the old building and lot of the South Omaha Free Methodist church for $1,000 he retained thirty feet of the lot by securing a deed to that portion in his own name. The steps of the church extend onto the ground claimed by the defendant. The plaintiff asks an injunction to prevent Mr. Keisher from holding the ground.

Bourke Counting a Bushel of Money for the Manual Schools

A bushel of money—more than 10,000 pieces—is being counted by Secretary W. T. Bourke of the Board of Education. The money was received from school children in nickels and pennies as payment for material used in the manual training departments of the public schools. There is now more than $1,000 in nickels, pennies, dimes and quarters in the secretary's office at the city hall. The Board of Education sells the wood and other material used in the manual training departments of the schools at actual cost, and the things made by the pupils belong to the pupils. This wood is sold in such small quantities that pennies are the chief medium of payment. The teachers keep these pennies and turn them in to the secretary of the school board at the close of school. Secretary Bourke will credit this money, when it is counted and the receipts verified, to the general fund of the school district.

Both High School Lunch Rooms Made Profit This Season

A profit of approximately $200 was made by the Board of Education last year out of lunch rooms maintained for the pupils at the Omaha High school and the Omaha High School of Commerce. The commerce school's lunch room profit amounted to $30.46. The profits from the Omaha High school lunch room will reach $150. These lunch rooms are maintained by the school board and the profits are over and above the expenses of the food and the service. Trained experts are kept in charge of these rooms and it is arranged to sell the food at as low a price as possible. The lunch room at the Omaha High school has always made a substantial profit and there has been some objection to this feature of it, but the Board of Education has replied that it was better to have a profit than a deficit. Receipts from these lunch rooms go into the general fund, an accounting being rendered at the close of each year.

AN IDEAL SPOT FOR A SUMMER REST

HANDLE MANY SCHOOL CASES

Special Truant Officer Carver Has Record of Fifteen Daily.

MANY ARE ANXIOUS TO WORK

Since School Has Closed for Summer Over Five Hundred Boys Have Applied for Permits to Get Jobs.

Special Truant Officer J. B. Carver of the public schools has handled an average of fifteen cases a day during the school year. In addition he has made hundreds of trips to the homes of parents who worked and whose only leisure hours were at night. "All of these cases have not been for truancy," said Mr. Carver. "But all of them have needed investigation. Some were cases of ill-treatment of children at home and others were cases where the father and mother or the widow mother were not able to support the children and it was necessary that the children work."

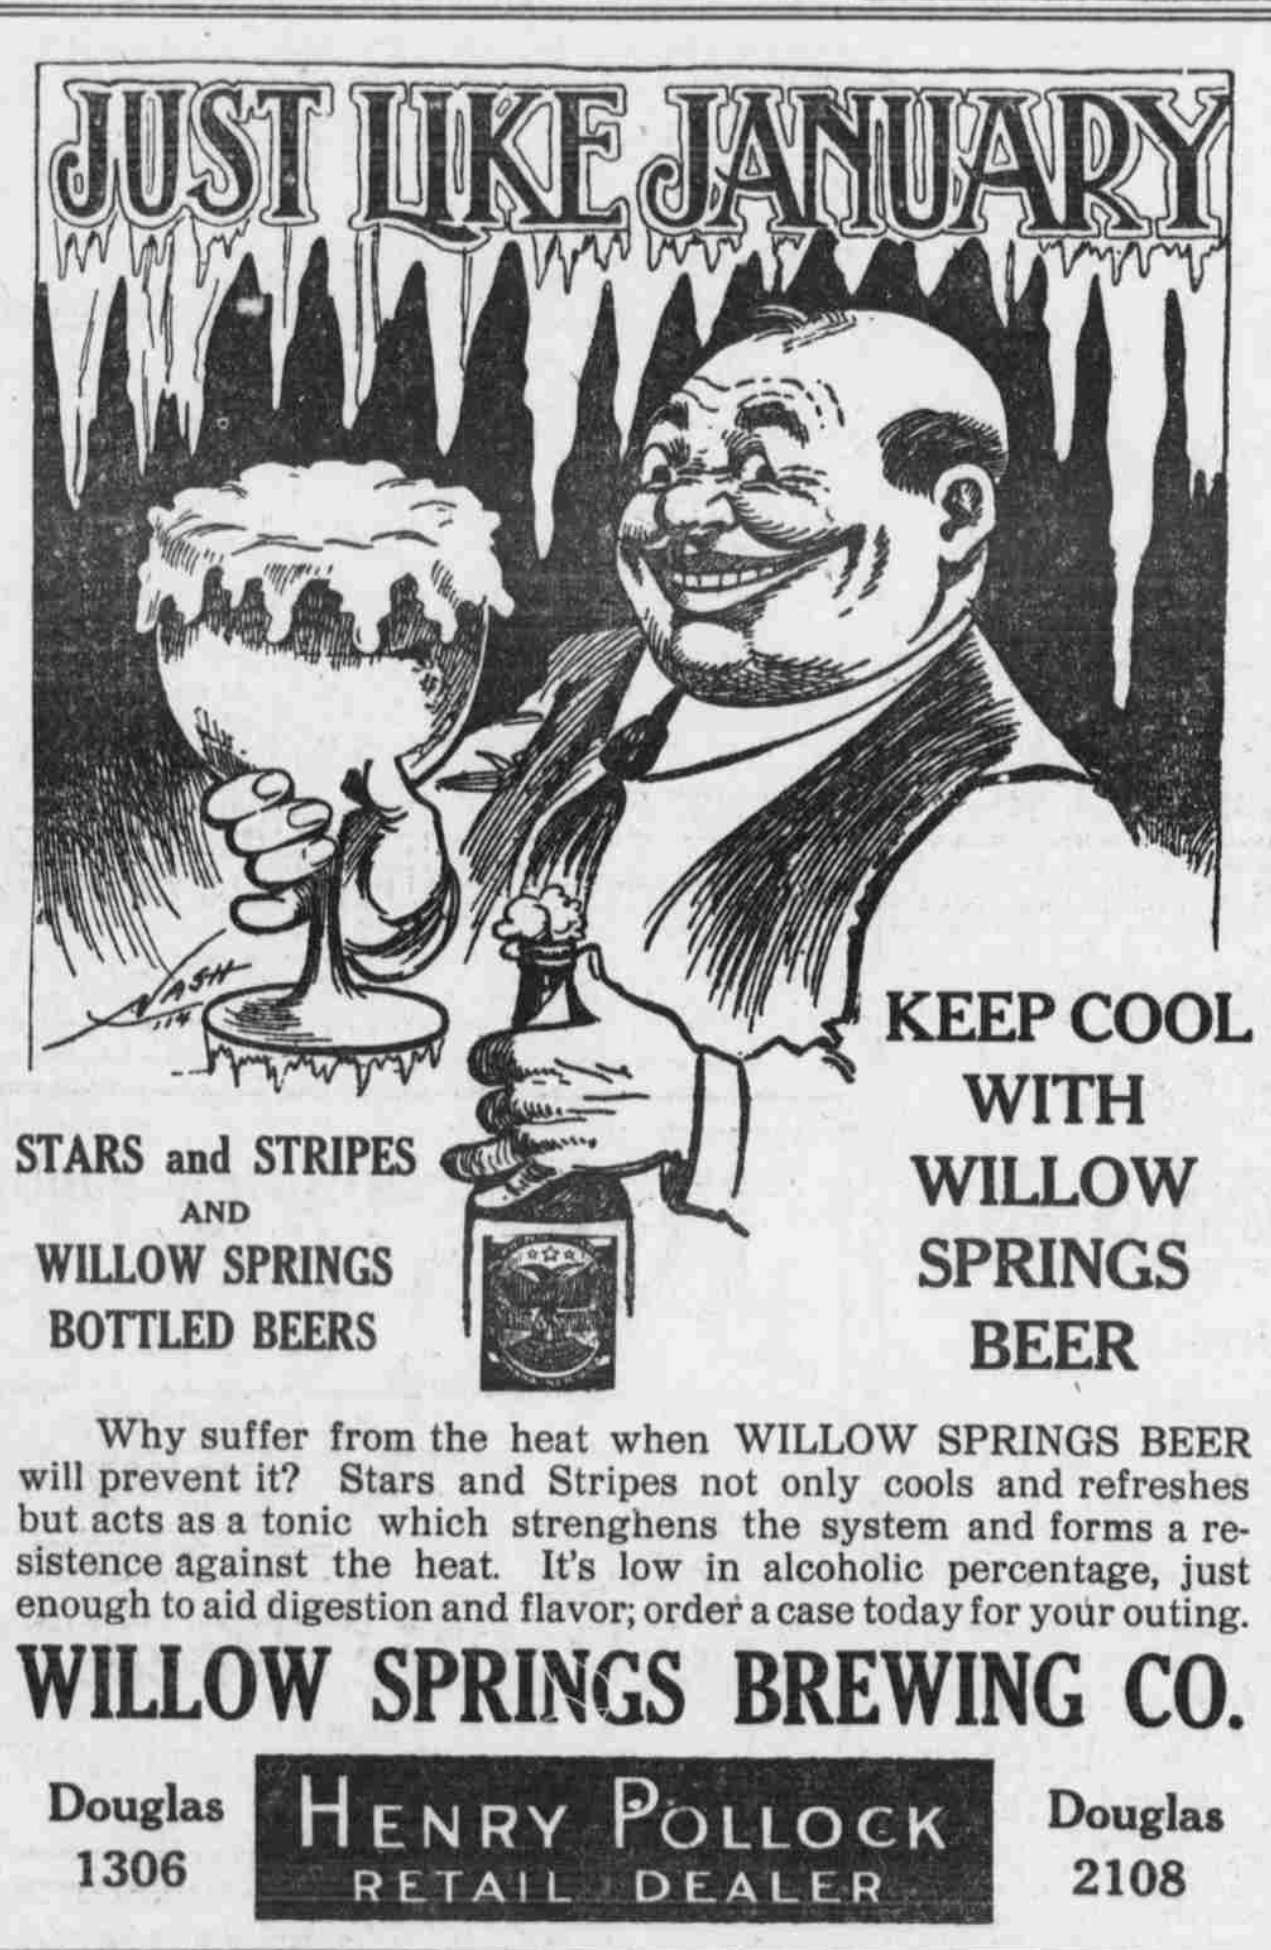

Mr. Carver said that during the handling of all these cases "he never had trouble."

One small boy, who was urged by his parents to quit school and go to work to help support a large family, was persuaded by Mr. Carver to continue his school, with the promise of a job when school was out. The boy got the job and is now working.

Since school was unofficially closed Wednesday 500 boys have appealed to the chief probation officer for work. Under the state law these boys and boys of their age cannot work without a special permit. 5,000 applications for work are usually made by school children at the close of school.

Of these 5,000 less than 500 will be allowed to work, said Mr. Carver, for the reason that they are not compelled by necessity to work and under the law are forbidden to do so.
