A. D. Brandeis Says He Finds Business Conditions Good

Although business in New York is very good compared with Paris and London, the present business activity in Omaha is still more surprising, according to Arthur D. Brandeis, who has arrived here for a stay of several weeks.

"When I returned to New York after being abroad the last time," says Mr. Brandeis, "I was pleased to see the better conditions on this side of the water. Now that I am back in Omaha for a while it is very gratifying to note that business here is even more active than in New York. That New Yorkers are beginning to take notice of Omaha is also a good sign for us."

Mr. Brandeis is stopping at the Hotel Royal and he registers from "Omaha and New York," although he now spends considerable time away from the Gate City.

Father Judge Backs Up Butler in Crisp Criticism on Gowns

Theories on women's styles in dress as promulgated by City Commissioner Dan B. Butler in a recent issue of The Daily Bee were heartily endorsed Sunday by Father Judge in a scorching sermon delivered at Sacred Heart church.

Butler said that the average woman's interpretation of a slit skirt and a low-cut waist is much worse than the original designs made by the Parisian fashion makers. He was shocked by the dolche, or rather the lack of clothes, white visiting the dancing pavilion at Manawa one day last week.

New dances also came in for a scorching by Mr. Butler.

Before his congregation Sunday Father Judge heartily endorsed Butler's remarks and added a few of his own.

Victims Not Members of Carter Lake Club

While Carter lake has claimed three victims within the last ten days, none of them was a member of the Carter Lake club, nor did any meet death while swimming on the regular club beach, according to information from the club's board of directors.

An expert swimmer is employed on the regular beach and several others work under him, so there is an almost continual guard kept among the bathers. If any of the members go outside of the beach, they do so at their own risk.

HITCHCOCK NOT FOR GIVING SPANISH WAR PENSIONS

A letter from Senator G. M. Hitchcock to Gus A. Tylee of the Spanish war veterans says that the senator is not personally inclined to favor the bill pending before congress granting pensions to widows and mothers of Spanish war soldiers.

"His letter, however, seemed to indicate that if enough pressure were brought to bear on him he would vote for it," said Tylee. "I dare him to vote against it."

County Commissioner John Lynch has been made an honorary member of Camp Lee Forby, United Spanish War Veterans.

Health Commissioner R. W. Connel will ask the city commission for an appropriation to carry out the provisions of a weed-cutting ordinance he drafted and had passed eight years ago, giving the city authority to cut weeds and have them charged to the property.

Dr. Connel says weeds on vacant lots and along sidewalks are getting so numerous as to constitute a nuisance.

AFFAIRS AT SOUTH OMAHA

Magic City Will Turn Out in Force to Hear Kenyon.

MUCH FIRMNESS IN THE RANKS

George Robinson Alleged to Have Started to Use Penknife on Person of His Wife During Row.

South Omaha republicans will turn out in force tonight to attend the Kenyon banquet to be held at the Rome hotel. In South Omaha the republicans have come through the late unpleasantness with a degree of solidarity and union that has made them the admiration of the rest of the city. They have maintained a sturdy organization composed of practically all the active republicans in the city.

The South Omaha Republican club takes no part in anti-primary activities. No endorsements are given until after the primaries. This rule has done much to keep peace and union in the ranks at all times.

At the Kenyon banquet tonight it is probable that the South Omaha republicans will have a separate table for their delegation. A meeting of the local club has been called for some time towards the last of the present month.

Attacks Wife with Penknife. George Robinson of Twenty-eighth and R streets got into an altercation with his wife Friday night and started to use a penknife on her the police say. When the cops arrived, however, the two Robinsons indignantly refused to entertain the minions of the law. Neither was arrested.

Delegation Returns. F. A. Striker, secretary and traffic manager of the South Omaha Union stock yards, along with twenty-five delegates, has returned from a trip out through the state and the convention of state stockmen which was held at Alliance. They found conditions every place in excellent condition and declare that the alfalfa crop this year is the greatest they have ever seen. The second cutting is almost ready. Pasture is also generally good.

Dr. Melvin on Inspection. Dr. A. D. Melvin, chief of the United States bureau of animal industry, has arrived in South Omaha on a trip of inspection of private manufacturing plants of hog choleas serum. At the present time there are five concerns here making serum under government license. While Dr. Melvin has not officially announced his assignments around the country, it is understood that he will make about twenty-five upon his return to Washington.

Crowds Visit Sale. Crowds visited the Christie Heights lot sale yesterday until a late hour in the evening. The salesmen were kept busy and the automobiles ran in and from the place, carrying the prospective purchasers. The number of the tract twice refused to entertain any bids from men wanting to operate saloons in the addition. It was stated that the Fire and Police board would probably refuse a license for the district because of the fact that it is being developed as a residence section strictly.

Tyner Funeral Tuesday. The funeral of Charles Tyner, the young man who died Saturday after a short illness, will be held Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the residence, 2630 E street. Rev. R. L. Wheeler will perform the funeral service. Burial will be in Grace-land Park cemetery.

P. J. Lenihan, who was injured in an accident at Morris & Co.'s plant Saturday evening, was reported as resting easily at his home, Twenty-second and N streets, yesterday.

Friends of Police Captain Hank Carey are urging his name for the democratic nomination for police judge. Captain Carey said he had not given the matter any thought as yet.

Former Omahan Run Down by Auto Over in London

From London comes information that Charles W. Turner, well known in Omaha as former manager of the Brandeis theater, has just come out of the hospital on his recovery from severe injuries from an automobile accident. It is said that Mr. Turner was run down on one of the streets of London and was unconscious for twenty-four hours. The accident happened about a month ago.

TICKET AGENTS WILL BE SHOWN SIGHTS OF THE CITY

The second chapter of the entertainment of 800 eastern railroad ticket agents will start in Omaha this afternoon, when the first party of fifty men and women returns from Yellowstone park, where they have been the guests of the Union Pacific, will become the guests of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad here.

When the first party arrives here on the Union Pacific limited this afternoon at 4 o'clock they will be met at the station by Milwaukee officials with a number of automobiles and taken for a drive over the boulevards and through the parks of Omaha.

At the conclusion of the drive the party of easterners will be entertained with a dinner at the Henshaw restaurant by the Milwaukee limited and later taken in automobiles to the Milwaukee limited, which leaves for Chicago at 7:30 in the evening.

Each succeeding party of ticket agents will be entertained in similar fashion by the Milwaukee line here and then taken to Chicago as guests of that railroad.

Eugene Duval, assistant general western agent, and W. E. Bock, city passenger agent for the Milwaukee, and F. A. Naah, general western agent for the Milwaukee, will be in charge of the eastern ticket agents during their stay in Omaha.

General Rains Aid Growing Crops All Over Nebraska

General rains throughout the state of Nebraska during the last week have improved rather than damaged the wheat crop, according to the Burlington crop report. On the Omaha division the crop condition is reported at 119 per cent for wheat.

A little harvesting has been done in the vicinity of Atchison, Kansas, and some harvesting may be done in southern Nebraska during the present week. On account of the heavy rains many corn fields have not been cultivated, but corn is making a good growth and the soil is in excellent condition.

Near Dalton hall has damaged a few fields and dry weather has probably injured wheat in the vicinity of Gillette, to a slight extent. While the first crop of alfalfa was damaged in curing by excessive rains, the second crop is making an excellent growth.

Home Trade Trip is to Be Thursday

The home trade excursion of the Commercial club is to be held Thursday of this week instead of Wednesday, as originally planned. This is the excursion over the Belt line of the Missouri Pacific, on which some 250 business men of the city are to be conducted through the city's manufacturing district along the Belt line and visit thirteen manufacturing plants in the course of the afternoon. Mr. D. Bernard, general superintendent of the Missouri Pacific, is to be here for the occasion. His special car will be attached to the special train that will carry the business men over the route.

The Missouri Pacific has recently made the Belt line a double track line, has done a lot of grading and has put in some excellent concrete bridges and culverts. The tour has several purposes, to show the men the new double track line, to show them the many factories that are already built along this stretch of track and to point out the many good factory sites that still remain along this track.

Big Ice Companies Must Weigh the Ice

Wholesale ice companies were notified by City Inspector John Grant Pegg of the department of weights and measures that they must henceforth weigh ice sold to peddlers. These peddlers have complained to Pegg, saying they have been shorted by the ice companies as much as 700 pounds on a single load of ice. Pegg says it is a common thing for the wholesalers to short the peddlers and the peddlers in self-defense short the consumers.

MRS. EDWARD BLACK DIES AFTER A WEEK'S ILLNESS

After suffering a week from a serious attack of heart trouble, Mrs. Edward Black, 183 North Twenty-third street, wife of Edward Black, reporter on a local afternoon newspaper, is dead. For over a month Mrs. Black had been ailing, but her condition was not deemed serious until a week ago. Funeral arrangements have not yet been made, but it was announced that Rev. J. M. Rincey would read the funeral service.

Mrs. Black was formerly Miss Selley of Peru, Neb. She was born in Illinois, but spent most of her life in Peru. Ora Root of Peru, an uncle, is one of the pioneers and upbuilders of that part of the state.

Her husband and a 10-year-old son survive, besides her mother and two sisters. The sisters are Mrs. O. J. Martin of Glenwood, Minn., and Mrs. Chamberlin of Ames, N. D.

BIDS FOR HEATING CITY HALL PUT OVER A WEEK

Bids for installing a heating plant at the city hall were submitted by Commissioner Dan B. Butler in tabulated form to the council at the meeting of the committee of the whole and were referred for a week, when some action may be taken.

RESTAURANT MEN SAT UPON

Appeal to City Council to Stop Saloon Lunches is Rebuked.

RYDER LEADS THE OPPOSITION

City Commissioner Emphatically Declares Against Movement as Meddlesome Legislation that is Unfair.

Sixty proprietors of restaurants, petitioning the city commission to pass an ordinance prohibiting saloon keepers from selling lunches of any sort in their places of business, were summarily sat down upon by the city commission and the petition placed on file to the tune of caustic remarks.

"We're getting to the point where governments are trying to regulate everything we wear and eat and every move we make," said Commissioner J. J. Ryder. "I am opposed to legislation of this sort. It isn't fair."

Mayor James C. Dahlman gave the restaurant men to understand at once that he would oppose any such ordinance.

"You're not trying to regulate sale of food in saloons," said the mayor. "You're trying to tell men where they shall and where they shall not eat. I am everlastingly opposed to such meddlesome legislation."

Attorney Charles Battelle for the proprietors asked the council if any ordinance prohibiting sale of food in saloons would be passed if 90 per cent of the saloon keepers signed a petition asking for it. He was told the saloon keepers "cut no figure with what is right and wrong," and his own petition was placed on file unanimously.

Battelle and Ryder had several sharp passages before Battelle finished his argument.

Commissioner Thomas McGovern asked Battelle, an attorney who has been before the council several times, what restaurant he owned.

"You know I'm not a restaurant man," Battelle said with some warmth.

"Oh, I beg your pardon," McGovern replied in dulcet tones.

Minneapolis Bandit Thought to Be One Who Operated Here

That the lone bandit who last winter entered the Merritt pharmacy at Thirtieth and Douglas streets while the night clerk was alone in the store and robbed the place of $600 is the same who killed a druggist Sunday night in Minneapolis while attempting a similar robbery. In the belief of the local police, communication has been established between Chief of Detectives Maloney and the police department of Minneapolis in an attempt to capture the bandit.

The method of the robbery Sunday night is similar to the one of last winter. It was while the night clerk was alone in the store that the bandit entered and forced the clerk at pistol point to give up the money. He then forced his victim to put on his hat and coat and accompany him down the street. In Omaha the clerk passed several policemen and smilingly greeted them as he walked with the bandit's pistol pressed through the latter's coat against his side.

PURDY IMPRESSED WITH DAIRYING POSSIBILITIES

The number of cows in Douglas county was a surprise to D. J. Purdy of the Borden Condensed Milk company, which may build a $200,000 condenser here. John L. McCague, chairman of the executive committee of the Commercial club, says that Mr. Purdy counted more fine dairy cows in the vicinity of Omaha than he had supposed could possibly be here.

"I believe he was favorably impressed with Omaha's advantages as a location for a condenser," Mr. McCague says.

FORD MEN WILL BE GIVEN A FEAST THIS EVENING

Seventy-five salesmen and employees of the Ford Auto company will enjoy a banquet and motion picture exhibit at the Henshaw this evening. The movies will be of the Ford factory. Several out-of-town agents of the company will come in for the affair. A factory representative will give a talk with the pictures.

E. W. North Becomes Collector Here of Internal Revenue

Through lack of action by President Wilson and his democratic colleagues, Edward W. North, who has been in the office of collector of internal revenue for the district of Nebraska yesterday became acting collector of internal revenue, succeeding Ross L. Hammond, who recently tendered his resignation, prior to announcing his candidacy for the republican nomination for the governorship.

As Mr. Hammond signed the last document necessary to the transference of the office, a delegation from employees of the department entered his private office, and Ed North made a brief speech, presenting a beautiful diamond stickpin to Mr. Hammond from the gaugers, store keepers and the office and field forces. A genuine surprise, Mr. Hammond was deeply moved by the remembrance from the force which he has been associated since March 18, 1908, and was almost unable to speak his appreciation.

A huge bouquet of American beauty roses adorned the desk of Mr. North from the employees of the office. Field men who attended the ceremony of the transfer of the office were E. C. Critchfield, Omaha; A. L. Slater, Fremont; O. N. Stukeley, Norfolk; J. B. Orange, Jr., Chadron; Robert Dorgan, Lincoln; C. P. R. Williams, Omaha.

Venner Gets Back at Mr. Hitchcock

According to advices from the east, the complaint recently made by Senator Hitchcock protesting against the use of the mails for Venner's circulars knocking on Omaha's bonds, has merely stimulated "the man with the hammer" to further activity. Venner has addressed a letter to the postmaster general demanding that the proposed investigation into the mail-robberies to undermine the credit of the city of Omaha, be made to include the use of the mails by Omaha city officials, banks and brokers for the sale of securities "under false and misleading misrepresentations," and he offers to assist the postmaster general in any inquiry he may institute.

Best and McDonald Have Wordy Battle

County Commissioners McDonald and Best, sitting on the Board of Equalization, participated in an acrid exchange of words concerning personal property valuations of big business firms.

Motions by Best to leave valuations at the figures returned to the assessor were responsible for the dispute.

"Best is trying to kill all the raises," said McDonald.

"I stand for fair play and no discrimination," said Best.

A proposal to increase the $50,000 personal property valuation of the Brandeis stores failed, as did an attempt to raise the $1,000 valuation of the Adams & Kelly company.

Commissioners to Wait Week Before Ordering Viaduct

Protecting that there is no need to build a new viaduct at William and Eighteenth streets, Judge Root, appearing for the Burlington railroad, told the city commissioners that for $500 the viaduct could be made to serve the purpose of a $30,000 new one.

The commissioners postponed action on an ordinance ordering the new viaduct for one week. They will make an inspection of the old viaduct and will consider the Burlington's plans to remodel it.

The officers each put in the entire day, loafing around the saloons.

The saloon men say they have not been violating the law and that Kugel's order is destroying legitimate business.
