Celebrants Mix in Honor of the Hour

Here's a few of Independence day's near-mortalities:

H. Spradley, 905 North Twenty-first street. was walking home and had reached Tenth and Davenport streets without having anything stirring but the breezes. As he traveled by the aforesaid corner, Spradley says, someone mixed him up with a flock of gun butts and billy clubs and that he knew nothing more until he was being attended to at the police station.

J. Byrne of Fremont will remember the holiday by a nice gash on his nose where someone hit him. Truman Staves, 2223 Farnam street, stumbled over a wire while shooting off loose from about thirteen square inches of skin.

T. C. Daywalt, 2734 North Eighteenth street, claims five patriots clambered all over him near Sixteenth and California and that when the smoke of battle cleared away he was minus his roll. his good disposition and a few patches of

Killed by Auto Driven by Demke

Simeon Kartas, 35 years of age, a Roumanian laborer who worked at Armour's packing house, was run down and instantly killed last evening at Twentyseventh and Q streets, South Omaha, by an auto owned and driven by Frank H. Wend-Wandberg. Demke, a Raiston salcon man.

The victim and his roommate, at Twenty-eighth and R streets, Frank Josephs, were crossing Q street from the north to the south side. Demke afterwards explained to the police that he had awerved out in trying to avoid hitting Josephs, but accidentally ran into Kar tas in so doing. Kartas had been in this country only a short time, and had a wife and two children in Roumania. He sustained a fractured skull and was picked up dead. The body is at the Larkin undertaking establishment.

Demke and his companions in the car William Barley and N. F. Higgs of Ralston, were taken to the police station, but after investigating the case, the police decided not to hold them on a formal charge. The accident will be probed at an inquest, probably to be held Monday, Demke's auto is said to have been going at the rate of fifteen or twenty miles an hour at the time.
